New Steamer for Coos Bay Traffic.

Between the 1st and 10th of October the steamer George W. Elder will be operated on the run between Portland and Coos Bay points. The definite announcement to this effect was made yesterday by J. H. Peterson, who is practically the owner of the vessel although Charles P. Doe, of the North Pacific Steamship company, has been taken in as a half owner in the vessel.

According to Mr. Peterson, the owners of the vessel have looked over the traffic situation along the Pacific Coast and after considering several prospective routes for the vessel, decided that the routes between Portland and the prosperous country of Coos Bay offered the best inducements for the operation of the boat in a proper manner.

Coos Bay trade with the local merchants is growing daily and with every department of the coastwise steamers F. A. Kilburn and Alliance, which are the only two crafts calling at Coos Bay from this port, the shipping demand is increasing and these vessels are forced to leave behind more freight each trip.

This vessel which has been in the drydock for over two months undergoing repairs after having rested submerged on a sunken rock in the Columbia River for 13 months is practically ready to be floated and will be available for service about October 1st.

Speaking of the new run Mr. Peterson said:

"The Elder will be placed on the Coos Bay run as soon as she is ready for commission and we will keep her on the run as long as the trade warrants the operation of the vessel. Both freight and passenger demands in that direction seem too heavy for, the steamers now on the route to handle, and the placing of our vessel on the run will not harm them in the least, for this is a growing country and should accommodate all three vessels. At any rate we intend to try it as an experiment, for it is a short haul and offers better inducements than any of the other routes we have had under consideration.—Oregonian.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of herbina after each meal; it will prevent constipation and help digest what you digest what you have eaten. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midlothian, Tex. writes, May 31, 1901:

Irrigation Congress Opens.

Boise, Sept. 3.—Vice-President Fairbanks was today a guest of the city of Boise and the National Irrigation Congress which began its fourteenth annual session today. The convention received a letter of greeting from President Roosevelt which evoked hearty applause and later a resolution of the congress expressing its thanks, was telegraphed to the president.

In case you are thinking of buying a piano, you should see Haines, the Marshfield dealer. He keeps on hand a stock of standard makes, and lives here in the county where he can be seen at any time in regard to contracts, etc. And, it should be remembered that his profits go to build up and support the county and its institutions, and not those of some other state.

ABSCESS.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of consumption or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss. writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colorado.) He recommended a bottle of Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

For shoes that have some snap and style to them, call at Robinson's. If you want a good comb, hair brush, tooth brush, nail brush or bath brush go to Knowlton's drug store.

Walnuts in France.

J. B. Pilkington, who left early in June on a European trip for horticultural investigations, returned August 14 and reported a very pleasant time, says the Horticulturist. In France he made large purchases of ornamental shrubbery, including conifers and roses, seedlings for nursery trade, also walnut trees and hazelnut bushes.

Mr. Pilkington states that in France the Mayette is the leading walnut of commerce. It is large and of fine flavor, and where there is no blight it will bear good average crops. The Franquette, considered a little more hardy and more prolific, is more hardy and more prolific, is also grown to some extent. The commercial fruit and nut products of France are grown by many individuals, each having a few trees, the largest orchard seen being about four acres of dwarf pears owned by one party. Many of the walnut trees were found growing on very poor soil and were small compared with age. One tree, said to be 70 years old, was about the size of a 20-year-old tree on the average tree soil in this country. In the higher altitudes the Chabertwalnut is grown extensively for commerce. It is smaller and stands more extreme temperature.—Pacific Homestead.

Egenhoff Mills.

Last evening, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ogren, in Marshfield, Rev. Thurston, of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony which united in marriage Mr. Carl Egenhoff and Miss Maud Mills, before a small gathering of friends and relatives. The happy affair calls for congratulations from a host of close friends of the contracting parties who wish them long life and all the joys of married bliss.—Coos Bay Times.

Liverpool, Sept. 6.—Pensions for everybody at the age of 60 was among the proposals adopted at today's session of the Trades Union Congress. The advocates of the resolution contended that the money necessary for the pensions could easily be raised from among the wealthy by taxing the land values. A resolution in favor of treaties of arbitration, coupled with an emphatic protest against the increase of armaments or insidious attempts to introduce conscription in Great Britain, was also carried. The congress introduced the labor members of Parliament to insist on trades union rates of wages being inserted in all government contracts, and the establishment of a national minimum wage to protect the working people against the evil of "sweating."

Mrs. Erla Carlock of the San Jose conservatory wishes to announce that she is permanently located in this valley, and will receive pupils in Piano and Organ at regular rates. Mrs. Carlock is an experienced teacher and uses the most modern methods of instruction; that her ability is being recognized is evidenced by her large and growing class. For particulars call at the Tuttle Hotel, Coquille; Myrtle Point Hotel, Myrtle Point, or address at Coquille, Oregon.

Ranier, Or., Sep.—While the cashier lay bound hand and foot, gagged and tied to a table in a backroom, two bandits leisurely looted the State Bank of Ranier in broad daylight yesterday afternoon. It was two hours before their unfortunate victim was able to free himself sufficiently to give the alarm and in the meantime the robbers had made their escape, taking with them between $2000 and $2500 in gold coin. P. W. Van Aucher, the cashier, was the only person in the bank when the robbery was committed, having come down, although it was a holiday to work on his books.

Cured of Lame Back After 15 Years of Sufferage.

"Had been troubled with lame back for fifteen years and I found a complete recovery in the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says John G. Bishop, Gillam, Ind. This liniment is also without an equal for sprains and bruises. It is for sale by R. S. Knowlton.

Portland's First Policewoman.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Evans is Portland's first policewoman. She was given her commission this morning by Mayor Lane and was immediately sworn in by Desk Clerk Flanders in the City Auditor's office.

Mrs. Evans is City Market Inspector. She has often encountered difficulty in securing admittance to shops and places where her business leads her, and being without authority to force her way in, she has turned back. She has also had difficulty in securing the arrest of individuals found violating the law. In order to secure their arrest she has had to secure warrants.

That she might more fully perform her duties as Market Inspector, Mrs. Evans saw that she must be clothed with greater authority. Accordingly she visited the Mayor and asked for appointment as a special policeman, that she might wear an officer's badge and make arrests whenever she desires. The request was granted.

Now Mrs. Evans will have clear sailing. She can go wherever she desires, and if offenders are not careful they will find themselves being escorted to the police station by a gritty little woman. Mrs. Evans did not say that she would carry a pair of handcuffs and arm herself with a club and pistol, but it is safe to assume that since she has been granted that permission, if she finds it necessary, she will do so.

A Book of the dog

We have received from the Associated Fanciers, 400 N. 3rd St. Philadelphia, Pa., a copy of their Dog Buyers' Guide. It contains a finely executed colored frontispiece; well drawn engravings of nearly every breed of dog, and all kinds of dog furnishing goods. We should judge that the book has cost a great deal more to produce than the price asked and we would advise all of our readers who are interested in dogs to send for the book.

A Jersey cow was sold at Rushville, Indiana, a few weeks ago for $2600, the purchaser being a man who a year ago bought her sire for $12,000. This high-priced cow was one of several Jersey animals in the auction sale at the Jersey Isle Stock farm, and she and her two daughters, and a son, and a grandson sold for an average of $1135 each for the family of five.—Homestead.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Aids Nature.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions, and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

FOR SALE.

A one-fourth interest in the equipment of the Coquille Steamboat Co., consisting of the steamers Dispatch and Favorite, and three barges. Inquire of Capt. T. D. White, Bandon.

Neglected Colds

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ear, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. W. Akendrick, Valley Mills, Tex. writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat trouble; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

The owner of 80 acres of timber land on the Coquille river near Fairview, wants a bid for the stumpage or the land as a whole. It is N. E. 1/4 of S. W. 1/4 and S. W. 1/4 of the S. W. 1/4 of 36 in 27, S. R. 12, W. Address, F. F. Weston, 1302, Webster street, Oakland, California.

The "small" farmer will do more in proportion for the development of a country than he that numbers his acres by the thousands. Any section that is divided into small tracts for fruit growing, poultry raising and the like always gives evidence of prosperity and there you will find the labor question is not very greatly discussed. As a sample read the following which we reprint from a California paper. "A few years ago it was believed by the Sutter County fruit growers that they had solved the fruit-season labor problem by cutting up several large places into small tracts and settling a family upon each. Subdivision has proven a great success; the land is occupied in ten to thirty-acre tracts; the people are settled upon these tracts. At first, before the individual tracts were developed, there was labor enough, since the small landholders with their families were glad to hire out during the fruit season. But with the development of the small orchards and vineyards it was found that each settler and his family have enough to do at home. The result is that the general situation is scarcely at all relieved.

There is, however, a world of instruction in the situation as it develops itself practically. The best result in California horticulture are unquestionably attained on tracks so small that they can be worked by a single family, and therefore stand independent of conditions which so harass the large operator. The small farm manifestly is the best farm for the Sacramento valley.

Stephen A. D. Putter, of National Land fraud fame, went on the witness stand in the trial of Senator Mays, W. N. Jones and George Sorenson before Judge Hunt in the Federal Court this morning and gave damaging testimony against his former attorney and associate, Mays. His story covered various land fraud transactions, and before the hour for adjournment came, the shades of the late Senator Mitchell were once more brought forth in criminal relation. No witness thus far examined created such an impression or gave testimony so damaging as did Putter this morning, and that he is regarded as a dangerous man to the defense is evidenced by the vigorous objections offered by the defendants counsel and rigid cross examination to which he was subjected by W. D. Fenton. From the Evening Telegram of the 6th inst.

THREE JURORS CUR ED.

Of Cholera Morbus With one Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

FOR SALE.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Clebourne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some soups and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drug store for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Cholera, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

FOR SALE.—About 1 1/2 acres
