Food and Drugs.

Everybody will agree with Professor Joseph Remington that the pure-food law is one of the most beneficial pieces of recent legislation. Even if, as he says, the common adulterations of food and drugs are not poisonous, they are none the less exasperating. When a person pays his money for coffee he ought by good rights to get coffee, and not bread pills. Nor does it make the matter right to insist that the bread pills are not lethal. If the purchaser had desired that mild confection he would have asked for it, and not for coffee. Are we all babes without reason, that our grocers must dole out what we shall eat and drink regardless of our wishes?

Still more irritating is it to go to the drugstore and pay for opodeldoc only to have a decoction of dried bark of the bland "quakenasp" foisted upon us. We rush to the apothecary in the midst of an ague fit shrieking for quinine and he dispenses wheaten flour. To be sure the flour does not kill, but neither does it cure. There would be some mitigation to the bite of these wrongs if our grocers and druggists regulated their prices according to the articles which they provide. We can stand it to receive a mixture of typhoid germs and dirty water when we ask for milk; what exasperates is to be forced to pay the price of milk for this brew, which can be furnished much cheaper than the pure product of the cow.

It is wrong to be angry, but if anger is ever pardonable it is when a man pays his druggist for calomel and gets chalk. Still, there is a silver lining to the cloud, dark as it is. It is a comfort in the circumstances to remember that, according to our leading physicians, most drugs are useless anyway. Their effect is purely mental and so long as we believe we are swallowing ipecacuanha we shall experience all the medicinal effects of that balmy herb, no matter what goes down the gullet. So long, then, as the druggists do not poison us we can forgive them. Since most of their stuff is rubbish, it makes little difference whether we take one dose or another.—Oregonian.

The story of the New Orleans kidnaping tragedy reads like one of those tales from the heathenish districts of the Old World where outlawry thieves and neither life nor property is safe. The crime is one of the results of the indiscriminate admission into the United States of all kinds of humanity from beyond the seas. There were no "Black Hands" nor "Inner Circles" in the United States a few years ago, and that they are now here and are kidnaping, murdering and dynamiting innocent people who fail to pay the price for immunity is the fault of our loose immigration laws. The yellow races across the Pacific are not regarded as desirable timber for American citizenship, but the "yellowest" heathen that ever came out of China or Japan could hardly commit worse crimes than are traced to the "Black Hand" and the "Inner Circle."—Oregonian.

The decision to continue building the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul to the coast was reached by a close vote. If the president had said the word work would have been suspended in May. That it is being pushed is evidence of the faith financiers have in the management of that road and in the future of the west. It is a great relief to the lumber interests to know that this great system is pushing its extension with vigor.—West Coast Lumberman.

Sydney, June 27.—The steamer Germanic reported a hurricane accompanied by immense waves that swept the Caroline groupe of islands recently. Many islands are devastated and it is estimated that 200 natives have perished.

Doctors Mend Broken Spine.

San Bernardino, Cal., June 26.—One of the most remarkable surgical cases ever coming before the profession of this section is just now attracting great interest at the county hospital, where Edward Ortega lies on a cot with his spinal cord severed, a large portion having been taken away, and the cord tied together.

Ortega is but fifteen years old. He made a heroic effort to save his sister, two years his junior, from the attack of two strangers, and in the struggle which followed, the sister grabbed a revolver from his pocket and in trying to shoot one of the assailants, accidentally wounded her brother, the bullet passing into the boy's back, fracturing his spinal bone and severing the cord. Medical Superintendent Strong and Dr. Thomas B. Heard attended him. The entire lower portion of his body was paralyzed. The wound was probed and fragments of the spinal bone taken away. A surgical operation of the most delicate nature was performed, the surgeons cutting away a portion of the bone, and getting the two severed ends of the spinal cord together.

Somewhere within the boy's body the bullet is imbedded. The surgeons dared not probe further, and after necessary preparations for draining the wound, as the healing progressed, they closed up the wound, and though not believing that the patient would live twenty-four hours, have now after seven days been forced to admit that his chances for recovery are excellent.

Norway Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. C. Strang and Mrs. Capt. Moomaw and children spent Sunday in the shade of the old cherry trees at J. C. Lett's.

Miss Edith Houghton, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. John Buckingham at Monroe, returned last week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Robinson visited friends on Coos River from Saturday until Monday.

E. O. Clinton and bride returned Monday from Seattle and other parts of Washington where they have been taking a wedding tour. They spent two or three days with his mother, Mrs. J. W. Clinton, then proceeded to Parkersburg.

Henry Radabaugh was taken suddenly ill last week with pneumonia. Dr. Stenmler is waiting on him.

Miss Myrtle Kennedy who recently closed a term of school in Waitsburg, Wash., where she has been teaching the last four years, arrived on the Alliance Saturday to spend a few weeks with her cousins S. J. McCloskey and family. Miss Kennedy was here two years ago, but last year spent her vacation in the east. In August she will return to her home in Cherokee, Iowa, where she will teach in the city schools.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Root from Oklahoma are visiting the latter's sister Mrs. S. Brower and family, whom they have not seen for over thirty years. This aged couple visited the Dunkard Rennon at Los Angeles, also visited friends near Ashland before coming down here. They stood the trip in from Roseburg quite well and are now enjoying the beauties of our county.

White Girl is Outraged.

Portland, June 26.—While making a raid on a Chinese gambling den in this city today the police made a revolting discovery by the finding of a white girl named Alma Church whose residence is in Spokane, who has been held in captive more than three years. According to the girl's story she was trapped while visiting a Chinese restaurant and taken to a barred room which she was never allowed to leave except when heavily guarded.

The girl is terror-stricken and almost a nervous wreck. The finding of the girl winds up a mystery which detectives have been trying to solve for more than a year. At that time they were informed by a reliable person that, while passing Second and Taylor streets, he saw a white woman at a barred window and that she appealed to him to rescue her. Detectives were rushed to the house and a search made, but the girl had been secreted in the meantime. A warrant has been issued for the girl's captor, but up to the present time he has eluded arrest.

Are After a Rail Road to Coos Bay.

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Western Oregon Lumber Manufacturers' association was held at Gottage Grove Friday which was attended by a number of outside lumbermen.

A committee was appointed to meet with the representatives of the various commercial bodies which convened in that city yesterday, to take steps relative to a railroad from Roseburg to Coos Bay.—Umpqua Valley News.

They have had a big potlatch among the Indians at Alert Bay, and Indian girls were sold freely there at prices ranging from $2000 down.

We may now expect the effete East to throw up its hands in holy horror over this twentieth-century slavery, and perhaps they have a throw coming. It should not be forgotten, however, that any number of girls fathered and mothered by the "Indians" along Fifth avenue and other select neighborhoods in the East are sold to European degenerates for a title which an Alert Bay Indian would regard with scorn. Aside from the fact that in the case of the Alert Bay Indians the buyer pays cash for the girl instead of purchasing her with a moth-eaten title, there is not very much difference in this traffic in flesh and blood whether the potlatch is held in a marble palace on Fifth avenue or in a wigwam in Alaska. The girl seems to get the worst of it in both cases.—Oregonian.

Ruinous Forest Fires.

Port Townsend, June 27.—The enormous forest fire which has been raging the past few days in the Port Discovery Bay region is now believed to be under control, after doing hundreds of thousands of dollars of damage to cedar forests. The fire originated from sparks of a donkey engine and started so quickly that the engineer was cut off from escape. He saved his life by burying himself to the neck in the ground and covering his head with wet sacks. Comrades found him after the fire passed gathering up undestroyed portions of the machinery. The timber is owned by a subsidiary company of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

If timber land values in other countries are anywhere near the same as in Columbia County the plan of having timber land cruised by experts for assessment purposes is likely to prove a very profitable scheme for the counties that have undertaken it. There has been some doubt whether the results would justify the expense of employing cruisers. In Columbia county much of the cruising has been done, and as an illustration of results, it is asserted that one section that has been assessed heretofore at a little less than $9000 has timber enough on it to be worth $64,000 for stumpage. A quarter section, 160 acres, which had been assessed in the past at $1040 is found to count in timber of the value of 26,000. The cruiser not only makes an estimate of the quantity of timber of the various grades, but also makes an examination and report upon the soil and topography of the land, so that its value, aside from the standing timber, may be ascertained approximately. In case of litigation the expert will be prepared to back up his figures with evidence of the value of the timber.

Adding to the assessment roll large sums like that mentioned, and quite a large number of them, will lighten the tax burden upon farmers generally. What is true of Columbia is probably true of other countries that include heavily timbered land. Having once examined the timber and estimated its quantity, the work will not have to be done again for a number of years, for the only changes in quantity will be those due to sawing logs or burning timber. With the quantity known the value can be easily determined for each year, according to the market value in each particular community. In a period of five or ten years the original cost of the crushing will not be enough to be worthy of mention, provided the work has been well done.—Oregonian.

In San Francisco architects drew plans for a large building, putting the estimate of cost at two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. When the bids were received the lowest one was three hundred and fifty thousand dollars or an increased cost of forty per cent. The building will not be erected. In Tacoma the architects figured the cost of a building at two hundred thousand dollars. The bids ranged from about two hundred and seventy-five thousand to three hundred and twenty-five thousand. These are extreme cases, but they show the tendency toward abnormal cost and the consequent decrease in building.—West Coast Lumberman.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.
DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh 80 more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" generation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.
We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.56 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two lampoon metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.
