Our townsman, W. A. Goodman, the housemover, returned from Bandon lately where he had accomplished several tasks in his line, among others the Tupper House. This building has been moved back on the lot to give room for a new building which is to be 32 by 100 feet and three stories high. This will surely prove a welcome addition in that town as lodging facilities have been intirely inadequate in that place for many months. This will certainly relieve the situation greatly if not sufficient to meet all demands for some time to come. However, the buildings are so arranged that another large wing may be added when business demands.
