Railroad Regulations.

Reasonable railroad regulation is the imperative demand of the hour. The subject is occupying the best minds of the Nation. Upon its satisfactory solution depends the permanent prosperity of not only Oregon but every other state in the Union. It would seem as if we were drifting either towards government ownership or an enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission in the matter of fixing and determining equitable rates of transportation. Under the provisions of the Dominion Railway Act of Canada the a lway commission has absolute jurisdiction over the imposition of all railroad rates. No rate can be promulgated or become effective without first receiving the sanction and approval of the commission. In the United States when a railroad company desires to change a tariff it is compelled by law to simply file the proposed tariff for 30 days prior to the date of its becoming effective. If the rate is one which seriously jeopardizes the rights of the shippers who are unfortunate enough to be located along the line of the road, the remedy for the aggrieved parties is to file a complaint before the interstate commerce commission and ask for a hearing, which often takes months to secure. In the meantime the rate goes into effect and irreparable damage may be inflicted. equivalent to lynching an alleged culprit and calmly trying him judicially afterwards. In the "Yellow Pine" case, involving an increase of two cents per 100 pounds, it was 15 months after the complaint was filed before a decision was rendered.

Let Congress pass an amendment to the present interstate commerce commission act requiring all railroads to not only file their proposed freight tariffs with the commission, but in addition must secure the consent of the commission before the rates can become effective. In addition to filing any proposed change in their freight rates, the railroad companies should be compelled by law to advise the shippers frequently to the heroisim, hospital- in keeping his presence a secret. tributary to their lines, say 60 or 90 ity and courage of the early pioneer. days in advance, that an application would be made to the interstate by relating annecdotes of his own commerce commission asking for a experience in the frontier country. of rate.

self to practically any rate, if the Eliza Perkins, 1852; R. W. Bullard. rate be a permanent one.

The need of some legislation along this line is brought forcibly to mind by the notification of the railroad companies that they will increase the Eastern rate on lumber by the W. R. C. and Pioneers of Will take all you have from 1 to 10 cents per 100 pounds which is Bandon, for their guests. At 3 20,000 pounds. rates, becoming effective November first, will restrict the market for Oregon lumber to a very marked extent, thereby reducing the enormous volume of money which has been placed in circulation through this one mighty industry alone. The value of the Oregon lumber output last year was about $30,000,000. Estimating Oregon to have a population of say 500,000 people, this would mean $60 per capita for every man, woman and child in the 4 r-m. state. The imposition of the proposed freight rate is a blow to every individual in Oregon.

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES.

Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire. Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year. DESCRIPTION: Made in all sires. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than or ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" sensation commonly felt when riding on a sphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $i.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only 14.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented. We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send TULL CASH WITH ORDERS and esclose this advertisment. We will show the send the send of t
