Receives Sad News.

G. L. Bowers, manager and member of the Mong theatrical company which has been playing in Marshfield the past week, received a telegram Tuesday conveying the sad intelligence of the death of his father at the old home in Ohio. It would be impossible for Mr. Bowers to reach home in time for the funeral, and as there was no one with the company that could take his part he was compelled to go on the stage Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and do his work as usual. The circumstances were unusually trying but it is only one of the side lights of the profession he follows.—The Coos Bay Times.

One woman was held up in her kitchen and threatened with her life if she made an outcry. Last night another woman was held up near her home, her gloves torn from her hands by robbers, who demanded her jewels, but an approaching car frightened them away before they secured them, and the woman fainted. Two other hold-ups occurred last night.
