F. B. Tichenor, Spokane's Coos and Curry county booster is at it again with a piece of advertising that has splendid merit. Coos county's famous apples are represented in a lithographed card the size and shape of the fruit and neatly colored to show two varieties.

On the lithographed side is a map in perspective of the Coquille valley showing Bandon, Coquille and Myrtle Point and of Coos Bay, showing Empire, North Bend and Marshfield. On the reverse side of the card is printed, "Coos county, Oregon, home of the world's best flavored apples.—Compliments of Frank C. Tichenor, Coos county Free Information Bureau, Rooms 7, 8 and 9, Pacific Halls, Spokane, Washington." The cards are sent out in envelopes that bear the expressive catch lines: "Flavor Makes the Apple—Ask me;" and "Coos county Apple, the apple that has a Market." The advertising will certainly attract the attention of country that is destined to become one of the most famous fruit sections in the world.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.
