Automobiles Between Roseburg and Coos

Roseburg boosters are just now interesting themselves in a movement for good roads and it has been suggested that a Good Roads association should be formed with everyone who owns a conveyance of any kind from a wheelbarrow to an automobile, become members. If Douglas county should organize the movement Coos county people who are interested in good roads could well afford to join in the movement. It is argued that sufficient funds for building good roads can be raised by taxation, and that non-resident property owners who hold timber lands and railroad property could be made to pay at least one-half of the expense while local taxpayers would enjoy the whole benefit, except on the increased value of property which all would enjoy alike, and would undoubtedly much more than offset the expense. In connection with the agitation the Roseburg Review has an interview with F. B. Waite in which he recommends that Coos and Douglas counties join in building an automobile road connecting Roseburg and Coos Bay. A road that could be traversed by automobiles or any other vehicle at any season of the year would be an investment, which would pay out in a single year, it is said, in the increased business between the two points. The article says: "Such a road would put Roseburg in direct communication with Coos Bay in an easy daylight trip of a few hours at all seasons of the year, instead of the 24 to 48-hour continuous struggle now required. From all indications Mr. Harriman is not going to be in any hurry about building his projected railroad to Coos Bay and such a road as is suggested by Mr. Waite would result in an immense amount of traffic being brought to Roseburg and Douglas county. It is estimated that the cost of such a road from here to the county line would approximate $50,000, and its benefit to our county would be at least that sum every year, while Coos county would be benefitted still more. Local residents would doubtless support such a movement liberally as it would doubtless bring excellent returns."

Boy's Life Saved

My little boy, four years old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill Ala. There is no doubt this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

I will deliver cream and milk in Coquille regularly each morning beginning July 1 1908. Phone orders to 8x1 by 630 a. m. for the days delivery,
GEO. HARTLEY.

Foreign Trade for Coos Bay.

Coos Bay ports will soon have ships along their wharves direct from the great cities of Great Britain, Germany and Belgium. Arrangements are now being made by T. S. McGrath, of this city, to extend the line of sailing ships that he operates between Europe and California ports up to Coos Bay. Final action is awaiting reports from Washington bearing on the depth of water over the Coos Bay bar. The rapid growth of Marshfield and North Bend and the coming to life of Empire City has set local shippers to thinking, and before many months, it is thought that many cargoes of cement and iron will be landed at the Southern Oregon ports from the Old World. Smaller vessels of the Europe California fleet can cross the Coos bar now, but the time will come, says Mr. McGrath, and that not far away when the largest windjammers that round the corner can make Marshfield and North Bend with full cargoes.

At the present time sailing ships that take cargoes into San Pedro, which is the seaport for Los Angeles have to leave there empty. The ships of the McGrath line now go to Eureka for their cargoes, but this order of things is to be changed just as soon as the Coos Bayites get busy and take steps towards deepening the channel into their ports. Then Eureka will have to share with the Oregon cities in furnishing the outward cargoes for the importers.

The line of sailing ships into San Pedro and Eureka was established about six months ago, and in spite of the business depression that has bothered the eastern section of America a great deal and the western Hemisphere a little bit, has done exceedingly well. Ships sail from Europe once a month, every other one leaving some port in Great Britain, while the next sails from Hamburg or Antwerp. When the new order of things comes and Coos Bay is placed on the company's map, sailings will be made every 15 to 20 days. The vessels from the continent bring cement, while those from England and Scotland have general cargoes of iron, fire bricks, coke, ale, whisky, crockery and other lines.

"Coos Bay has become such an important place that Congress cannot long keep back improvements on the bar and harbor," said Mr. McGrath this morning. "Southern Oregon is in need of a great seaport and Coos Bay will furnish that need. The people of Marshfield, North Bend and Empire City should get together and begin active work towards getting a million dollars to deepen the entrance to the bay. If this is done, the Pacific Coast will have another seaport that will bring vessels to it from all over the world, and the lands across the seas will demand Southern Oregon lumber to build up their cities and colonies. Coos Bay will be a great rival to Eureka."—Portland Evening Telegram.

Make Fatal Boat-Rocking Manslaughter.

Sensible people have the utmost contempt for that dangerous idiot known as the man who rocks the boat. But mere contempt works no reformation of the species. The sole restraining argument in contempt appeals to reason. And while reason has its way with most men, the boat-rocker is not amenable to its influence. Here in Portland we were troubled with the death-producing foolishness of these but a few days ago. A fine, vigorous youth was the sacrificial victim which boat-rocking idiocy claimed to this instance. The fatality has acted as a prod to public sentiment, and agitation is now afoot to procure such enactment when the Legislature meets again, that will make boat-rocking that results fatally, punishable as manslaughter.

The Telegram indorses the suggestion most heartily. We would even go a step further, and make boat-rocking, when voluntarily indulged for idiotic sport, criminally equal with assault. We would applaud any course within reason which would enable the law to lay its heavy hand on this breed of deadly funsters. Let this agitation be kept up to some purpose. Let us not forget it when the Legislature meets.—Telegram.

Rear-Admiral Evans is expert with knitting and crochet needles, and his embroidery is said to be as wonderful and varied as is his vocabulary. Some of his most intimate friends have been favored with gifts, the product of his skill at embroidery, which they naturally treasure very highly. As the etiquette of the Navy provides for a considerable degree of privacy for the Admiral, he has a lot of time when his expert fingers can be at work at the same time that his brain busies itself with naval problems.

Best the World Affords

"It gives me unbounded pleasure to recommend Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says J. W. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. "I am convinced it's the best salve the world affords. It cured a felon on my thumb, and it never fails to heal every sore burn or wound to which it is applied. 25c. at Knowlton's drug store."

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says: "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a permanent cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.

Over Thirty Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and has for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by K. S. Knowlton.
