$ 825 Per Acre For Crop

R. R. Pinkerton of North Inlet was in North Bend yesterday completing preparations to market his crop of cranberries which will be one of the most lucrative crops ever produced in Coos county. He stated that his cranberry ranch would yield about 300 bushels per acre and as the prevailing price is about $2.75 per bushel, he will derive about $825 per acre.

The cranberries are among the finest ever seen in this section and are said to be superior to the famous Cape Cod cranberries, being larger and of even a better flavor. Mr. Pinkerton came to Coos Bay from the east where he had considerable experience in cranberry growing. He says that the marsh land in this section is better than in the east as the crop here is free from the dangers and pests that cause grief for the growers in Massachusetts. Here, he believes the cranberry crop is practically certain.

Mr. Pinkerton says that the yield from the cranberries will be better after the fields have been cultivated a few more seasons and thinks that 400 bushels per acre is a conservative estimate on the possible yield.

Cranberries have sold as high as $4.00 per bushel here, it is said, so that cranberry growing offers such great inducements that there is bound to be a rapid development of the industry in this section.—Coos Bay Times.

County Clerk Watson reopened the registration books for Coos county last Monday and will receive registrations of persons who have not yet registered this year, up to and including October 20th. Voters who have not registered since January 1st will be required to do so in case they vote for president in November, or be put to the trouble of swearing in their vote by witnesses. Voters who have changed precincts since registering will be given an opportunity to record such change and vote in the newly adopted precinct. Six months' residence in the state gives a voter the right to register. There is no residence requirement in the precinct. Foreigners who have been admitted to citizenship, or declared his intentions to become a citizen more than a year previously may register and vote in November.

The Missouri River Valley is one of the most successful hog sections of the United States, and corn has always been the basis of this industry. Today one of the most popular stock-fattening foods in the Missouri river region is a mixture of alfalfa meal and sugar beet pulp, which is produced in Colorado. Advice recently received from that state show that numerous mills are being erected, and certainly the Pacific northwest should give this industry every possible encouragement, and this is particularly true since the great international concerns like Swift & Company and others have decided to locate upon the Pacific coast, and they are now spending millions of dollars in building their plants at Portland. A good reliable fattening food equal to corn would make this section of the United States the very richest portion of our great republic.

No event has taken place in the last year that will be more beneficial to the Pacific Northwest than the visit of the delegates in attendance upon the National Convention of the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents. These men have traveled through Washington, spent three days thoroughly investigating Seattle where they held their convention, visited interesting points on the Sound; then they came to Portland where they spent a day before making the Columbia River trip. Here they disbanded, going to many points in Oregon, Washington and down through California. The Traveling Passenger Agents meet thousands of people every year, and influence a vast amount of travel.

F. B. Robison, of Fishtrap, made our office a call while in town yesterday, and left with us several samples of apples from his place, among them being some from a seedling tree, and which he considers an exceedingly fine apple which with the usual improvement made by grafting, will be a world beater.

Ben Schuyler, of Marshfield, returned from a trip to Bandon Monday.

A nice line of Chamberlains, and lace collars just in at O. Willsons & Co's.

Rev. G. H. Roach, of Bandon, went to the bay Monday to take a steamer for Portland where he goes for a short visit.

Go to Land & Lyons' for a nice suit of clothes. They will save you money.

The big dredge Oregon arrived in the bay Monday morning and will be ready to begin operations in a few days.

Road District No. 11 is advertising improvements to be made. Contractors should look up their notice in another column in this paper.

FINE AND PLAIN SEWING, At home on Spurgeon Hill by Mrs. Emma Hanscom.

Col. W. H. Holabird, of San Francisco, who is here in the interest of the Southern Pacific Railroad Co., came over from the bay yesterday afternoon as he is looking over the county with a view to passing judgement as to whether a railroad into Coos county would be a paying investment. He was accompanied by Mr. Millis, manager of our local line at Marshfield, his wife and daughter, and Col. William Grimes. Mr. Holabird expressed himself as highly pleased with the appearance of our county and its prospects.

J. F. Blakley, of Lodi, California, who came up several days ago and joined his Mother, Mrs. James Blackley, who was here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kronenberg, after having a nice trip to Fort Orford and other points in Curry county, started for his home Monday, going overland by way of Drain. His mother will go soon, but by steamer.

Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder. The goods that saves you money.

Donald Charleson, the civil engineer who had charge of the government work at Bandon, went to the bay yesterday. The appropriation having been expended, the jetty work at Bandon closed down last week till another allowance is available. Good work has been done and much improvement in the depth of water accomplished with the extension of the jetty and the blasting out of the rocks from the channel.

The Evening Telegram says: Though the month is less than two-thirds gone it has already witnessed the shipment of a far greater quantity of wheat from Portland to foreign shores than any other September in history of commerce from the Willamette River. The week ending today has been unusually brisk, bringing the wheat exports for the month up to 1,153,750 bushels. Before October 1 the total will reach close to 2,000,000 bushels.

FOR RENT. Some good, furnished housekeeping rooms, nice for teachers or pupils. Apply at this office.

Our townsman, Chas. Upton, is having a very neat bungalow built in the north part of town. J. A. Yoakam, Jr., is the architect and builder, and is giving this neat home an outside finish somewhat different from any in town, particularly the entrance. This will be a home that Mr. and Mrs. Upton may well be proud of, and is adding to the many nice residences in that part of town which are beginning to show up in good shape.

Slight frosts have fallen in parts of this section in low grounds which are leaving signs on certain tender plants.

Mrs. Ed Wilkinson, of Fresno, California, who had been here several weeks for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson, her brothers and to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Reta to Mr. Gardner, started for her home Wednesday, going to Bandon to take the steamer Elizabeth, which sailed the day following.

I have for sale one rubber tire runabout and harness, a few large milch cows, and one potato digger. GEO. HARTLEY.

Among the nice samples of fruits, etc., left at our office lately, were two of apples by Mrs. Whetstone, of this city. One are of the Red Russian variety and measured 14 inches in circumference and beautifully colored. The other was a branch of another variety on which 15 apples grew on a space of 7 inches. Many trees in this section were so full this year that the fruit is small, but on an average, fruit is better this year than usual, as a result of the better care of the trees exacted by our late laws.

The Portland Country Club and Livestock Association begins its initial meeting today. The exhibit of livestock surpasses that shown at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, and the races will be the best ever witnessed here. The great mile track just completed at a cost of $27,000, the immense barns and steel frame amphitheatre, give the grounds and surroundings an appearance of solidity and permanence. The track is considered the best drined that has been built in this part of the United States. There is a steam railroad line into the grounds, in addition to a splendidly equipped electric line—in fact, the latter has been tested and found capable of handling forty-five cars at one time. Together these lines will relieve the grounds of seven thousand people within the first fifteen minutes after a meeting.

Big Eagle Tries to Carry Away A 3-Year-Old Child.

New York, Sept. 18.—While Blanche Cribbier, 3 years old, the daughter of Fred Cribbier, a Summer resident of Helmetta, N. J., was at play near her home, a large eagle swooped down and attempted to carry the child away in its talons. Cribbier was working nearby, and the screams of his daughter attracted his attention. He fought off the bird, and as it attempted to fly away her brother, who had come up with a shotgun, fired and wounded the eagle. Its capture was then an easy matter. The child was found to be uninjured except for a few scratches. The eagle, though peppered with shot, will live, and the Cribbiers intend to keep it in a cage.

A Pioneer Passes Over

Joel Edward Cox was born in 1838, (exact date unknown) and died suddenly in Coquille, Oregon, Sept. 19th, 1908, being at the time of his death 70 years of age.

Mr. Cox was one of the early settlers of Coos county, coming to this country in 1872, but for the last 20 years had lived in Myrtle Creek, Douglas county.

He was married November 19th, 1868, to Miss Anna Miller, in Lincoln county, Oregon.

The result of this union was 4 children, two sons and two daughters, all of whom are still living: Mrs. Chas. Wickham, of Coquille; Oregon; Mr. William M. Cox, of Marshfield, Oregon; Mr. Geo. W. Cox, of Siletz Ore.

At the time of his death, Mr. Cox was making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Wickham, of this place. He had not been well for some months, being afflicted with the dropsy, which was doubtless the cause of his death. He was a good man, and loved by those who knew him. He was buried on Sunday, Sept. 20th, in the Masonic burial ground, the services being conducted by Rev. E. B. Jones, Pastor of the M. E. Church, South.

Myrtle Point Enterprise.

Mrs. Wesley Barklow has written to her husband from Salem where she has been receiving treatment in the state hospital. She states that she has fully recovered her health and desires to return to her home at Myrtle Point. She writes an interesting letter and there is no question but that she has greatly improved.

Rev. C. E. Botts has resigned the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at this place and expects to leave in about two weeks for Enumclaw, Wash., to take charge of the Presbyterian church at that place. Mr. Botts and his family, though having lived here less than a year, have many friends in Myrtle Point who will be sorry to have them leave for another location, but will wish them well wherever they may go.

Darius Gant was down from Rural the first of the week. He says that they are getting some perfect roads built in that section. His district is one of the richest in the county and they are building a 14-foot roadway, and propose to continue the taxation of property until the district is well provided for in the matter of highways. The big timber holders bear a large share to the expense.

Dr. J. D. Wetmore gave a banquet to the members of the Myrtle Point fire department at the Hotel Guerin Monday night after the conclusion of the monthly meeting of the department. The banquet was given to show the doctor's appreciation for the work of the firemen in saving his hospital from destruction by fire a week ago. Hon. Binger Hermann, former congressman from this district, and Councilman Adams, a member of the water committee, were guests of honor. Mr. Hermann gave a brief but interesting talk and short talks were made by others of the company. The table was spread with an abundance of the good things of the season and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all of the guests. After the banquet choice cigars were passed around.

Our new goods arrive this week, call and see if we can't save you money on dry goods. O. Wilson & Co.
