BANDIT HOLDS UP MYRTLE POINT STAGE

Gets Two Revolvers From Men And Escapes Without Leaving Clue

Roseburg, Oregon, Oct. 8.—A lone masked highwayman held up the stage from Myrtle Point within a mile of Roseburg last night, and after taking about $50 in cash, some jewelry and other valuables, made his getaway. Just before disappearing from the passengers whom he had compelled to dismount and "shell out" he called to the stage driver to give his "regards to Sheriff Fenton." No clue has, so far, been found to the bandit.

The stage robber displayed all the chivalry of a plumed knight of centuries ago. As the stage rounded a sharp curve in the road where he stood hidden by trees, he stepped out in the roadway and ordered the drivers to halt and dismount. Keeping them covered he called to the eight occupants of the stage to come outside. They quickly complied although some of the women almost fainted.

"Don't be scared ladies," said the bandit, "I won't molest you." And he didn't. He ordered them to step away a little to one side and did not ask them to turn over their jewels or money.

The men quickly complied with his order to "shell out." As M. Plumb and Harry McChesney turned over their pocketbooks and change, the bandit noticed something in their hip pockets and sharply ordered them to come through "clean." As they emptied their hip pockets his eyes twinkled at the sight of two loaded revolvers.

That the bandit did not make a greater haul was partly due to his chivalry in the treatment of the women and also to the thoughtfulness of John Hastings of Bridge. Hastings heard the robber's command to the drivers to "stop" and he at once realized the situation. Grabbing his pocketbook containing about $800 in cash, he dropped it to the bottom of the stage and Mrs. J. Barnette of San Francisco did likewise with her wallet which contained about $1,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry.

Following are the names of the passengers and the amounts they lost:

Mrs. J. Barnette of San Francisco no loss.

M. Plumb, of Portland, five dollars, watch and revolver.

Miss Rooney, of Coaledo or Coquille, no loss.

Harry McChesney, of Kahlotus, Wash., fifteen dollars and coils revolver.

R. Heald, of Olalla, Ore., fifteen dollars.

C. McKroskan, of Olalla, Oregon, watch valued at $125.

Thomas Duncan, driver, three dollars.

W. C. Benham, driver, four dollars and fifty cents.

Would Mortgage the Farm

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Gr., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw: one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c. at R. S. Knowlton's drug store.

A Series of accidents

A series of accidents befell R. D. Hume's two gasoline boats as they were coming up the coast from Port Orford to this port Wednesday afternoon that almost caused the wreck of the Enterprise, Captain Johnson, the boat Mr. Hume bought to replace the Berwick which was wrecked on the Siuslaw bar last winter.

The Enterprise had in tow the new boat Ospray, which is much larger than the Enterprise, and which was recently launched from the ways on the Coquille river, and was proceeding up the coast on a perfectly smooth sea. Both boats carried light cargoes.

When almost to Cape Arago the engines of the Enterprise suddenly refused to work and the Ospray's engines were started and two lines passed to the Enterprise preparatory to crossing the bar. When past the black buoy the lines parted allowing the Enterprise with her captain and crew of 8 men to drift directly toward the big rock, upon which the swells threatened every moment to smash the little boat.

The lookout at the life saving station saw the predicament of the boat and crew and hastened to her rescue. They made the trip in a remarkably short time and succeeded in getting a line from the Ospray to the drifting boat before it hit the rock.

The Ospray had stood by, but on account of the swells could not get a line to the helpless boat.

Some of the cargo was washed over. The Ospray towed the disabled boat to the city dock where her engines are being given attention. It will be remembered by those who have followed the gasoline boat building of Coos county that the engines of the Enterprise refused to work for six months after they were installed and three gas engine experts grew discouraged trying to make them go.

The members of the crew are congratulating themselves on their narrow escape and praise the life saving station for their prompt and able assistance—Coos Bay Harcor.

Torn Stamps Will Not Go.

A new order in the postoffice department went into effect recently. By its terms defaced stamps hereafter are worthless. Should a corner be torn off, no matter how small or the stamp be mutilated in any way it cannot longer be used. All letters bearing such stamps will be held at the postoffice two weeks for recovery, and at the end of that time, if not claimed, will be sent to the dead letter office.

Another phase of the order is also interesting. Permission is now given individuals to perforate the stamp with a reasonably small instrument for identification purposes. Such a step is intended to prevent the sending of anonymous letters, or the theft or mutilation of private mail of any nature.

The Godfrey family of whom we made mention the last week or so are on their way down the coast, having concluded to winter in California. We give the following mention of them from the Port Orford Tribune made while they were at that place: The Godfrey family gave one of their high class performances in Nielsen's hall last night. They excel in acrobatic feats, and the two little girls are the source of much wonder among the younger folks. The troupe are on their way down the coast and deserve the peoples' patronage, as they are not grafters, and present one of the cleanest and most entertaining programs of any show that has ever passed along the coast. They give another performance tonight, with an entire change of program, and although the patronage was liberal last night a larger attendance is expected this evening. It can well be said of the Godfrey family that they are all stars.

Political Speaker Interrupted

Public speakers are frequently interrupted by people coughing. This would not happen if Foley's Honey and Tar were taken as it cures coughs and colds and prevents pneumonia and consumption. The genuine contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Sold by E. J. Slocum.

If the conference of Pacific Coast commercial bodies held in San Francisco the past week had resulted in nothing more than its section regarding national conventions, the meeting would have been one of the most important, viewed from the standpoint of the development of Oregon, Washington and their sister states, ever called. It was unanimously agreed by the delegates in attendance that the Coast should act as a unit in working to secure such convention, each city endorsing the invitation of the others, with each of course to have a fair proportion.

For Chronic Diarrhoea

While in the army in 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton of South Gibson, Pa. "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief until Mr. A. M. Miles, of this place persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." for Sale by R. S. Knowlton.

The second assembly for the year at the University of Oregon was held Wednesday, October 7th, at 10 a. m. It being Student Rally Day the assembly hour was given over to the student body. After two college songs were sung by the glee club, President P. L. Campbell made the opening address.

Following President Campbell's speech several representative men spoke on the different phases of student activities.

The enrollment at the N. of O. now numbers 500.

The new building on the Bible University grounds will soon be completed.

The enrollment at the Bible University is now beyond last year's mark and many more are expected.

Why Colds are Dangerous

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that not otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases, Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that there are two steers, one red and the other red and white spotted, branded Z, and marked upper-bit in right ear and over crop off left. The owner of said cattle are hereby notified that in case they are not taken away that they will be held for damages.

Where Bullets Fiew

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me more good than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well," 50c. at R. S. Knowlton drug store.
