FOR SALE.—A dairy ranch within a half mile of Coquille; fully stocked with cows, hay and utensils. A bargain; enquire at this office. The Coos County Protective Association, an organization of the liquor interests of the county, held a meeting at the court house in this city yesterday, when stringent resolutions were adopted pledging every member to a rigid observance of the liquor laws. Particular reference was had to the Sunday closing act and to the law dealing with minors in saloons. The next meeting of the association will be held at Marshfield on Feb. 2d. Brown and White Leghorn, White Plymouth Rock and Black Minorca cockerels for sale by J. C. Watson. Also pairs and trios can be furnished on short notice. Pete Fox, the good natured deck hand on the steamer Favorite, has been nursing a "bump" of some proportions and soreness on the starboard side of his "cocoon." Pete attempted to rouse a passenger a few days ago who was slumbering on a table and dreaming that he owned the biggest distillery in the country. The table was overturned, "accidentally," Pete says, and then followed a rain of blows from a walking stick amid an atmosphere of deep blue tinge. Liberal applications of arnica are fast reducing the deck hand's "bump." Lost.—A small mouse colored purse between postoffice and steamer Dispatch last Saturday; contained red set and some small change. The finder will please leave at this office. The Port Orford Tribune reached our table last Friday wearing a garb of rich navy blue. Editor Stewart explains that a shortage of white paper, due to the tardy arrival of boats at that point, made it necessary to ransack the Curry county metropolises for any old paper, hence the Tribune, like Joseph's coat, is of many colors. As some red, some white, and some blue had to be used, the time of shortage would have been more appropriate if about the fourth of next July, but then colors are sufficiently well in evidence at that patriotic period of the year. However, Bro Stewart made the best of a bad situation, and we sincerely hope that the only colors he is forced to fly in the future are those from his masthead.

We have the largest line of ladies' g-n-ts and children's shoes. We can suit you Robinson's store. The HERALD was mistaken in saying last week that B. W. Avery had sold his interest in the McAdams blacksmith shop to S. H. McAdams. Mr. Avery was only an employee of the establishment. See Land & Lyons for shoes before buying elsewhere. They have the style and stuff. The Bandon football team suffered a bad attack of cold feet on New Year's Day, neglecting to appear as promised for a return match with the Coquille team. Too much defeat the previous game was the reason, no doubt. Go to the People's Market, Dean & Hensley Prop'rs, for the best bacon, lard, hams, and meat of every description. They treat you square. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson returned to their home in Bandon last Thursday after a week spent with Mr. Robinson's brother, Perry Robinson, and wife. While here Mrs. Thos. Robinson suffered considerably from sickness. Anyone wishing house moving or other heavy work done can be accommodated by calling on H. L. Varney. Death closed the earthly career of Mrs. Chas. Haines Eckley, north-eastern Curry county, Sunday morning last at about 1:30 o'clock after a lingering illness with that dread disease, tuberculosis. Deceased was about 35 years of age, and leaves a sorrowing husband and four young children; also two sisters, Mrs. Jeff D. Wilson of Coquille and Mrs. Jas. Stinson of the Johnson mill section, and a father, L. D. Anderson, of the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg. The remains were laid to rest with impressive ceremonies at Eckley last Monday forenoon, Mrs. Wilson of this city being in attendance.

Come and see them, workmen. Hon. Robert Moore, an early pioneer of Oregon, and at one time Co. Judge of Curry, passed away after a lingering illness at his home in the little village of Smith River, Del Norte Co., Cal., Friday, Dec. 18th, 1908, at the advanced age of 92 years. Judge Moore was a man of rugged ability, sound judgment and of sterling integrity. He was a man of generous, heroic mould, of warm temperament and true as steel to his friends and obligations, and was beloved by all honorable people. Several grey-haired sons survive to uphold his honored name, besides his aged widow who is the third but childless wife. Few men reach a riper age, and it was meta that rest and sleep should come like a blessing to the feeble limbs that could no longer march.—Port Orford Tribune.

Shin-Toasters' Club. The Coquille Shin-Toasters' Club was organized in the billiard room of Josh's Place last Sunday morning at 9 o'clock with a membership of unlucky thirteen and the following officers: President, Hark W. Dunham; Secretary, Jos. Waltermeyer; Chief of the Fire Dept., A. W. Varney. The object of the club is to drive away the Sunday blues of local admirers of billiards and solo, and to provide Sunday lodgings for bachelors when the city decrees to prohibit public Sunday fires within the limits of the municipality. Sessions are to be held every Sunday from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., and live subjects will be actively discussed. The principal subject at the first meeting Sunday was the resolution announced by President Dunham to bid adieu to his time-honored cornob. With tears flowing down his dimpled cheeks Hark told how, in fear of an ordinance stopping Sunday smoking, he would consign his cherished cornob to the waters of the Coquille on Chinese New Year. The manner of disposing of the pipe brought Dave Perkins to his feet with a bound. "I object to so endangering the lives of the finny population!" he exclaimed. "I move that the pipe use its own strength and go to the garbage crematory for disposal!" The motion carried over the President's veto, and the meeting adjourned for one week. Don't Take the Risk. When you have a bad cough or cold do not let it drag along until it becomes chronic bronchitis or develops into an attack of pneumonia, but give it the attention it deserves and get rid of it. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are sure of prompt relief. From a small beginning the sale and use of this preparation has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Its many remarkable cures of coughs and colds have won for it this wide reputation and extensive use. Sold by R. S. Knowlton.
