Farewell to Coquille.

By W. S. Gordon.

Sweet river of the western wild,
While singing to the sea,
Receive the teardrops from a child,
Who now is torn from thee.

The index hand of destiny,
Points eastward o'er the crest,
Where baby rivers bleed in thee
And seek the golden west.

A flood of feeling in me swells,
As swells thy flooding tide,
And trickling bells in dreamy dells,
Come home at eventide.

Old ocean's far-off melody
Falls gently on my ear
Like a voice that haunts my memory—
So far and yet so near.

I think how Indian warriors bold
Once trod these sylvan trails,
And I think how many maids of old
Have waited fated sails.

'Twas here that Miller's royal rhyme
Was woven by thy spell,
Here "Minnie Myrtle" heard the chime
Of the "Rhododendron Bell."

Here Bates has sung in honeyed note
His songs of deathless love—
The ghosts of what they thought and wrote
Seem hovering above.

How blest in this enchanted vale
With kindred souls, to dwell,
But now for me their waits a sail—
Farewell, Coquille, farewell.

H. M. S. PINAFORE.

The Old Time Favorite to be Again Revived and Produced Here.

Thirty years ago the comic opera H. M. S. Pinafore was written by the celebrated composers, Gilbert and Sullivan, and at once it was pronounced to be the most pleasing and popular opera ever written and it was produced by almost every opera company both in this country and in Europe. Sir Arthur Sullivan came to America with his own orchestra and company directed the opera in all the principal cities of the east, and it is still a pleasant recollection in the minds of many who had the good fortune to hear this famous company.

Since that time the opera has been produced by amateurs and professional companies so many times that at the present time it is one of the best known and most popular operas ever produced.

The Eastern Star of Coquille have engaged Mr. Martin E. Robinson to produce Pinafore here in the near future and many of the best local singers are busy in its preparation.

Mr. Robinson returns to Coquille as no strangers as many still remember with pleasure the beautiful presentation of Queen Esther he gave here about two years ago and which was acknowledged by all who saw it as being the best entertainment given in Coquille. Mr. Robinson brings costumes and scenery to make Pinafore as complete as can be given on a stage of the size of the one in the Masonic Opera House, and from the excellent production he has given in other places it is conceded that this performance will surpass any affairs of its kind ever given by our local singers. The cast and chorus will be made up of local singers and as some good talent is found here the public may be sure of an excellent production of this popular opera.

Myrtle Point Enterprise.

Rev. Mr. Howard is expected in from Portland this week to take the temporary pastorate of the Presbyterian church of this city, and will preach at the usual hours next Sunday, at 11 in the morning and 7:30 in the evening. The church here has been without a pastor since the removal of Rev. C. E. Bots to Washington early last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Widby welcomed a daughter to their home across the river on Monday, the 15th.

The 20-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson fell from a chair at their home Sunday and broke the bones of her left forearm near the elbow.

News of the arrival of a handsome baby at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greaves at Los Angeles on February 5th, has been received by Myrtle Point friends of the family. Mrs. Greaves was formerly Miss Myrel Dixon, daughter of Mrs. Fannie Dixon of this place.

Washington's Birthday.

A large number of people of Coquille celebrated the anniversary of Washington Monday evening by gathering at the W. O. W. Hall and listening to a well arranged program and by partaking of a banquet prepared by the ladies of the M. E. church. The program consisted of readings, songs and recitations, all of which were well received by the large audience which filled the hall to overflowing. George Washington was represented by Mrs. E. J. Slocum, Uncle Sam by Jack Tozier, Columbia by Mrs. Bert Foleom, and Washington's friend, Marquis de Lafayette, by C. M. Goodman, who were dressed in costumes such as were worn during the lifetime of those people. The banquet was ample and was enjoyed by all.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The extra session of Congress will be convened on March 15. This date was definitely settled today and President-elect Taft authorized the announcement.

The date of the extra session, called for the purpose of tariff revision, was fixed at a conference today between President-elect Taft, Senator Aldritch and Speaker Cannon.

Coos Bay Sun.

Johnny Fitzgerald, the Coos river farmer, was in town today.

Judge Hall returned on the Alliance from Portland, whether he went as a witness for the city of Marshfield in the action brought to condemn the lot at the foot of B. street.

Mrs. Otto Schetter, who has been visiting relatives in San Francisco, was among the arrivals on the Plant, Monday.

The local railroad is doing a land office business in hauling logs. Yesterday 89 car loads were picked up along the line and delivered at the Smith mill. Harriman is making barrel of money in Coos and his Drain road will reap a golden harvest whenever he takes a notion to extend it to the bay.

The remains of Carlo, the three-year-old son of Victor Whittick, of North Bend, who turned up missing on January 20th, were found Sunday on the bayshore near Glasgow. The remains were badly decomposed but the body was easily identified by the clothing. It is generally accepted that the boy, while playing near the bay, slipped into the water and was drowned. The funeral took place in this city Monday afternoon.

W. S. Turpen, architect of Marshfield, was in Coquille a day or so this week. He has prospects for some contracts in this city.

The W. O. W. Circle at this place had a very interesting and enjoyable meeting Saturday night. A large number of guests were invited, and a bounteous banquet was served. A good time was enjoyed by all.

As a number of people came over from the Bay Saturday afternoon to attend the boxing contest, the hand car on which they were riding came in contact with a flat car while going at a good rate of speed, piling the occupants up in a great shape, but fortunately no one was hurt.

Last Wednesday night while running the planer in the mill at this place, Lee Curry sustained a severe sprained ankle by attempting to shift a belt from a pulley with his foot while the mill was running. No bones were broken, but it will doubtless be some time before he will be able to resume his duties as planerman.

Will Dungan and Watt Short, of Marshfield, in company with R. P. McClellan, a late arrival from Texas, had quite an experience on Friday evening while on the lower bay and South Slough in a gasoline launch. The weather was stormy and taxed their skill as navigators pretty thoroughly, and one of the party went to light a cigar when the match ignited some oil in the bottom of the boat which required vigorous efforts with their overcoats to put out.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membrane, and the most obstinate rough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package.

Accidental Drowning.

Herman, Erickson, 22 years of age, was drowned in Coos River just below the Coos Bay Creamery at 7:30 Saturday evening. With Andrew Anderson he was handling a log raft and in drawing in the anchor, the cables snagged and he was thrown under when the boat upset.

Although he was a good swimmer, he was unable to extricate himself after falling into the water. The body was recovered by Anderson and several friends at a distance of about 20 feet from shore. —Coos Bay Times.

Bandon Recorder.

W. W. Felter, who has been engineer for Nicolai Bros.' sash and door factory for the past sixteen years, arrived in Bandon recently and has bought a 40 acre tract of land five miles down the coast and will go into the fruit business. He is a brother of J. W. Felter, the contractor and builder of this city.

Mrs. R. E. Buck of this city has a relic in the shape of a bouquet that perhaps no other person in the state of Oregon can boast of. The bouquet was picked from Lincoln's grave at Springfield, Ill. Mrs. Buck has this bouquet with a number of other relics she has received from various parts of the country.

M. G. Pohl presented "ye scribe" with a bunch of fresh radishes last week. Mr. Pohl raised the radishes in his greenhouse, and pulled them just 28 days after he had planted the seed. They were of fine flavor and greatly appreciated. Mr. Pohl as was announced in the Recorder some time ago, has a fine greenhouse and is using the most modern method, that of nitro-culture, known to botanists and vegetable growers.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Cody entertained a few friends very charmingly last Saturday evening. Whist and five hundred were the games of the evening. Those present besides the host and hostess, were Messrs. Geo. Moore and Spaine Pierce, T. H. Kreamer and daughter Anna, and C. E. Kopt and wife.

H. D. Carl, of Norway, had business at the Bay Monday.

Jack Gilmore and Archie Collier returned from their trip to Eckley this morning.

The poorest family can afford meat when bought from the People's Market, Dean & Hensley.

Alfred Johnson, the mill man, went to Bandon today to catch the steamer Fifield for San Francisco. He goes to see Mrs. Johnson, who is at Oakland.

Mrs. L. H. Hazard, of this city, returned from a sojourn of several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Hacker, at La Canada, California. She reports them and her little son, Austin, as being well.

The basket ball game between the Myrtle Point and Coquille team last Friday night proved a victory for the former. The game proved a tie and an extra half had to be played to settle the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Peoples, with their daughter, Dorris, went to Bandon today. Mrs. Peoples and Dorris will go to San Francisco by the Fifield for the purpose of having specialists treat one of Miss Dorris' eyes which has been bothering her for some time.

A man by the name of Foster a Russian Finn, was killed at Bester's camp this morning while working with the timber fallers. He and others had cut a tree and as they were getting out of the way an old snag which stood near by fell also and this caught Mr. Foster as he was crossing a log, killing him almost instantly.

Mr. Rockefeller's dictum that to make a wife happy you must furnish her plenty of money, will be endorsed almost unanimously by the wife-ladies.

A contemporary says "The Standard Oil Company wants to" take in Missouri." No doubt; but Missouri seems to be something of a wise old owl in respect of that, however.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. Foley's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives and it is the only safe preparation for children as it contains no harmful drugs. E. J. Slocum.

Port Orford Tribune.

D. L. Moore, who suffered a paralytic stroke more than a year ago, continues to be confined to his Euchre creek home, and while his condition is very grave his many friends hope for an improvement when the warmer weather of approaching summer arrives.

More range cattle and sheep are dying throughout the county than have died during any winter for a number of years, and the number will keep on growing so long as the present weather continues. Many of the old timers say that they do not remember having ever experienced as long a stormy spell as has visited the coast since New Year.

A porpoise, measuring about six feet in length, came ashore on the beach south of town last week, and was attracting a good deal of attention as quite a few of our people had never seen one before.

The Oil well has again resumed operations the machinery having arrived on the last boat. They expect to put this hole down in a very short time.

Mr. Crittenden of the Lee Bowler Co. arrived from Portland Monday with fourteen men who have bought land at Denmark. Thirty-five more are expected this week. Six men are now engaged in tearing down the mill which they bought from John Haagenen several weeks ago. It will be moved to Denmark immediately, and the men given employment at $2.50 per day. It is reported that the Anderson building will be remodeled and urged as a boarding house.

Hardwood to Be Grown Here.

The foundation of a great hardwood industry on the Pacific coast will be laid by the National Forestry service this summer, when several thousand of the best varieties of hard wood trees will be started in nurseries in Douglas county, Oregon, and on the Snoqualmie river in Washington. The trees will be grown from the seed in nurseries conducted by government employees, and it is expected that several hundred pounds of seeds will be planted during the summer.

According to observations made by the National Forestry service, Oregon and the Pacific coast are especially fitted for the growing of hardwood such as grow on the eastern slope of the Appalachians. Chestnut, oak, yellow poplar and basswood are to be started first, and after them may come other varieties.

It will be some time before the slips are large enough to be transplanted to the forests, where it is expected they will flourish with but little care. Should the new trees come up to the expectations of the work, Oregon will ultimately become one of the greatest wood manufacturing states in the Union. Oregon already has a high reputation, but with the hardwoods growing in abundance here, the state would be given another great resource.

The discovery of the adaptability of the hardwood trees to the Oregon climate is but one of the many benefits which Oregon is deriving from the establishment of the northwest headquarters of the United States forestry service in Portland. Although the office has been here but a short time now, much business is being transacted which heretofore had to be sent to Washington for completion. Orders for nearly a sixth of a billion of feet of standing timber at figures much in advance of any price paid last year for property here have been received and will be acted upon soon. One offer for cedar stumpage is $3 a thousand feet for the next three years and 25 cents a year extra for each additional year on a five year contract.

Another offer for fir at $2.25 per 1000 feet and the same increase for each additional year above three years has also been received.

Perhaps Senator Knox will win the distinction of being the first Secretary of State to serve without a salary, unless a wife be found to pay him out of the secret service fund.

No Case on Record.

There is no case on record of a cough or cold resulting in pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It stops the cough and breaks up the cold quickly. Refuse any but the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. E. J. Slocum.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three days the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by R. S. Knowlton.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, in and for the County of Coos.

Lillian Curran, plaintiff, vs. Horrace A. Curran, defendant. Suit in equity for divorce.

To Horrace A. Curran, the above named defendant: You are hereby notified that you are required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, to wit: within six weeks from the 27th day of January 1909, the same being the date of the first publication of this summons.

And if you fail to appear and answer on or before the 10th day of March 1909, the same being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in her complaint, a substantial statement of which is as follows:

That the marriage contract heretofore and now existing between the aforesaid plaintiff and yourself, the said defendant, be wholly dissolved and held for naught, and for such other and further relief in the premises as to the Court may seem just and equitable.

Service of this summons is made by publication in pursuance of an order made and entered of record, said order being made by the Hon. John F. Hall, County Judge of Coos County, Oregon, said order being dated January 21st 1909 directing that service thereof be made by publication of said summons once a week for a period of six weeks, in the Coquille HERALD, a newspaper published at the City of Coquille, in the said County of Coos and State of Oregon. Dated this 21st day of January, 1909.
