ELECTRIC LINE MAY GO

What Seems to Be the Best Proposition for an Electric Line.

Messrs. Hans and Cuettner, the Portland railroad men mentioned last week, having looked over the field pretty well, are willing to go ahead with an electric project for a rail outlet for Coos county, if the people will show the proper spirit and offer the right encouragement. It will be left, in a measure, to them. There are plenty of places bidding for capital to invest in the different enterprises of their respective sections, and particularly in transportation lines. Therefore it behooves our citizens to fall in line and do the things necessary to cause these gentlemen to understand that we are in dead earnest and really want a road. If there is not haste enough here to offer the proper inducement to get a road there would probably be but little for one to do after it is built, or at least, we may expect road builders to take this view of the situation.

Rural Notes.

J. Powers has harvested a large crop of potatoes. He declares it a superior quality.

The McCurdy residence is nearing completion. It is one of the most artistic home buildings in Coos county. The great dairy barn on the place is in keeping with the dwelling, in fact the whole place shows that progressiveness is the theme of the master.

The farmer in the vicinity of the Smith Powers Camp No. 2, where the fire has been dangerous for the past week, welcomed the Thursday night and Friday morning rain. All of them have been standing night and day on watch, ready to give the alarm in case of a spread.

AT THE COUNTY FARM

Supt. McLeod has garnered in his crop of wool. Sheep shearing was the order of the day last week. Mr. McLeod is well satisfied with results. This gentleman is planning to make the farm self supporting and he insists that with a little help for one year he can put the place in such a shape that it will pay, as do the best managed private farms. Mr. McLeod states that a few acres of strawberries could be handled profitably, which with the dairy and garden truck, as well as home raised feed for stock, the county would have little to do but audit returns. The gentleman has made good in the past; it might be well for the powers that be to co-operate with him.

In The Woods.

The Smith Powers people have a new departure; in the sense that they are seeding down their land as fast as they clear it. This means timber for the coming generations.

Camp No. 1 is working twenty men at present, while forty are located at No. 2. A part of this number is doing railroad work, as the company is extending a road which will parallel the Sumner wagon road.

Wm. A. Brown, the chef at Camp No. 2, is nursing a very sore lower limb. He takes an evening walk after his work is done and on last Friday night while on his way home he met a wandering calf, mistaking it for something else, he started to play ball from a sprinting stand point. He fell, the rest is easy.

The Smith Powers people have been greatly annoyed by forest fires, during the latter part of last week the whole force of Camp No. 2 was out night and day fighting the flames. They are now past the danger mark, in so far as that particular blaze is concerned, yet there is no telling when another will break out. The cause is attributed to the locomotive and donkey engines shooting live sparks from their furnaces. The farmers in the vicinity are much alarmed, since everything is so dry that the most minute spark would be apt to ignite and destroy their all.

Couple Die Within a Day.

Less than twenty-four hours intervened between the death of Walter Oldland, the South Inlet pioneer, whose wife was stricken late Sunday of apoplexy and who died about 7 o'clock last evening at the Marshfield General hospital. Mr. Oldland, who had been ailing for a couple of years and who had been bedridden for about six months was in a critical condition when his wife died, and while his children tried to tell him of her passing, it is believed that he was too far gone to comprehend their statements. Yesterday morning, he was brought to the hospital and last evening he passed away.

The funeral of Mrs. Oldland which had been announced for 2 o'clock today has been postponed until 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when a double funeral will be held at the Wilson undertaking parlors, Rev. H. I. Rutledge officiating. Mr. Oldland would have been 71 years old October 7. He was born in England, and in 1869 came to America. He settled in Pennsylvania and in 1878 married Miss Izora Myers who preceded him in death less than twenty-four hours. In 1883, they moved to Coos County, settling near Libby where they have since resided.—Times.

District Lodge Convention.

The District Convention, No. 16, will be held at Bandon, Sept. 24th, 1909. The following lodges are in this district: Mamie, No. 20, Western Star, No. 27, Riverside, No. 100, Sunset, No. 114, Una, No. 120, Ocean, No. 126, North Bend, No. 143.

There should be a large representation from each lodge, as Ocean Lodge is sparing no pains to make this convention a success. Each lodge should give their hearty cooperation in the coming work of the convention, making it a success and spreading its influence in every lodge in the district, so that we may be more closely united by the triple links of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Why Druggists Recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. Frank C. Hanaran, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purposes that pay me a larger profit, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customer so certain to appreciate my recommending it to him, that I gave it the preference." For sale by R. S. Knowlton.

A Good Position

can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the eight hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance for advancement. The National Telegraphic Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.

BUBBLES.

BY J. H. O'BRIEN.

Few people have competition in truth telling.

The man who attempts to advise a woman is crazy.

The man who falls and gets up again is worth a dozen sycophantic men.

The north pole will doubtless become a popular summer resort in the near future.

I admire hogs. They are never hypocritical. They never pretend to be anything else.

Don't condemn the man or woman who has fallen. You are not safe this side of the grave.

I would like to live to see a dog sweat, a truthful man and Coquille become a metropolis.

Your old associates will work overtime oiling the track for you when you begin to slide.

I am not afraid of a bad man. But I am dubious about coming in contact with a male saint.

Society works overtime in order to make ladies and gentlemen. God turns out men and women.

Have you seen them? The female gossip and the male bachelor. They are a menace to society.

It is wonderful the amount of beauty, grace and wit which has been hidden away in the rib of one male man.

I will give ten dollars to the first person who delivers to me a four leaf clover, a crowing hen and a nine foot panther. Leave them with the postmaster, we differ in politics.

Carpenters, Farmers, and Plane Users.

The following seven (7) Portland, Ore. Hdw. dealers have lately ordered shipments of the celebrated Self-Setting Planes direct from the makers; Gage Tool Co., of Vero, N. J., viz. J. J. Kaddery, Coleman Hdw. Co., Adolph Dekum, Oregon Hdw. Co., Proer Cutlery & Tool Co., Winters Hdw. Co. and Honeyman Hdw. Co.

Most 20 years ago Avery & Opdyke sold these planes in Portland.

If local or nearby dealers don't keep the Self-Setting Planes the above shows where they can be had. Several Portland orders for Self-Setting Planes are now on the way.

Go to the People's Market, Erdman & Hensley Prop'rs, for the best bacon, lard, hams, and meat of every description. They treat you square.

GEO. A. ROBINSON

The McKenzie Merry Makers.

This company appeared at the opera house in this city before large and appreciative audiences. On Monday night they presented "Lord Chumley," a very lively play with a deeply laid plot, but containing enough of the comic to keep the people good natured.

The members of the company did good work, the parts being all very well sustained, and the vaudeville stunts were enjoyed not a little.

Last night they presented "Mary Jane's Pa," with equally as good effect, having a large house, and all present seemed very well pleased.
