Our mails are still arriving a day late, even though the rains have ceased. The road over the mountain was cut up very badly during the rains, and when the frosty nights came on the freeze was not sufficient to hold up horses and wagons, thus making the road almost impassable. The animals would break through the crust which would cut their feet and legs in such a manner as to make it cruel to drive them over at all. And while there is a great deal being said against the change which puts the Coos Bay mail over the Middle Fork road, we think that probably the Bay people might have gotten their mail more promptly over the old road, as it has certainly not helped the present used road to double up the loads being heeled over it. The service given last winter over either of these roads can not be compared with that of this winter. There has been three or four times as much rain as fell last winter up to this time. It will be remembered that an automobile came over from Marshfield last winter between Christmas and New Year's day, and found but little mud, a thing that would be impossible this winter. There have been slides on the Coos Bay road, and had it been subjected to the heavy travel and loads of mail going over it, there is no question but the service would be very much the same as we are now receiving, with the exception that by the loads being divided it is certain that a little better time might have been made. It is too bad that a great amount of good and substantial work was not done on the road used before both mails were placed on the one route, and if the present system is kept up next winter, both counties should go to the full limit in the way of improving this road. There is no question but one road could be improved with less expense than two, and as the Middle Fork route leads over the lowest pass through the mountains, it is contended by some that it is the proper road to adopt for our mail line.

Report Says Cook Faked. New York, Dec. 24.—The committee of the Explorer's Club, which has been investigating the claims of Dr. Cook that he reached the summit of Mt. McKinley, today reported that after an exhaustive investigation, they failed to find any evidence to support Dr. Cook's claim. The Explorer's Club accepted unanimously the report of the committee and decided Dr. Cook did not ascend Mount McKinley, and he was expelled from membership. Christmas Ball Game.

The football game played on Saturday afternoon between the Marshfield team and our local boys was the hardest contested game of the season. There was much dissatisfaction at the first of the game and a change was made in the referee. The time taken out and the playing of the first half of the game lasted about one hour and a half, during which Coquille made two touchdowns and Marshfield one. The touchdowns for Coquille were made by Grimes and Howell and a goal was kicked by Shoupe, making the score eleven. The visiting team made one of their touchdowns in the last half, which lasted only fifteen minutes, the game being called off on account of the coming darkness. In one instance Captain Grimes, who was playing safety, did not take the man who made the last touchdown, being unable to see that he carried the ball until it was too late.

The ground was in a much better condition than it was a week ago, consequently the game was more interesting. Howell went through the Marshfield line for more yardage than was possible when playing Myrtle Point on account of the better footing. Fox sustained an injured foot at the first of the game which made it difficult for him to run, and Bird Nolsler played left half after the first part of the first half, Fox playing end, and in spite of his hurt foot, showed his determination to win the game from start to finish. Nolsler and Johnson both went around the ends for gains in a manner that was encouraging, while Grimes kept the boys working, proving his ability to handle a team. Marshfield soon found they could not make their gains on round end plays, as Shoupe and Fox, as well as the men playing back, were always ready to receive them. Wilson and Pearce, who were playing tackles, often ruined these plays for Marshfield by getting through their line and downing the man with the ball. Marshfield also tried line backs but found center, (Carey) hard to move, and they soon discovered that the Belloni brothers, who were playing guards, were by no means going to side track for them, so they resorted to forward passes and punts, by which means their two touchdowns were made. Captain Blanchard, of the Marshfield team did excellent work. His entire team shows the result of careful training, their playing being far above the average. This leaves Marshfield and Coquille even on games. The championship of the county is not yet decided.

The people who witnessed this closely contested game pronounced it a Christmas treat which even Santa Claus is not equal to manufacturing. Tabernacle Purchased by Presbyterian Church. An organized effort is on foot to enlarge the scope and plan of the cadet movement. The enlarged plan will include the young men and business men of our city. While this movement is under the direct control and supervision of the Presbyterian church, it contemplates the greater efficiency of the cadet service by adding athletics and gymnasium features. In the future the tabernacle will be known as the Presbyterian Armory.—Coos Bay Times. Five lots for $500. See J. W. Leneva.

How one Doctor Successfully Treats Pneumonia.

"In treating pneumonia," says Dr. W. J. Smith of Sanders, Ala., "the only remedy I use for the long is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. While, of course, I would treat other symptoms with different medicines, I have used this remedy many times in my medical practice and have not failed to find a case where it has not controlled the trouble. I have used it myself, as has also my wife for coughs and colds repeatedly, and I most willingly and cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other cough remedy to my knowledge." For sale by R. S. Knowlton.
