GLASGOW HOARY WITH AGE.

Scottish Metropolis Was Founded 1,800 Years Ago.

We hear a great deal in these days in praise of Glasgow as a truly model city and of its municipalizing in the interest of the citizens of nearly every public franchise. That is all true, and Glasgow highly merits all praise bestowed upon it. At present, however, we would briefly remind our readers of Glasgow in the olden time, hundreds of years before it obtained its present state of perfection, and of which we now rarely hear a word.

It is about 1,800 years since Glasgow was founded by Kentigern or St. Mungo, but the city did not amount to much until after the act of union between Scotland and England, about 200 years ago. It was that act which enabled the merchant adventurers of Glasgow to send out their ships to Virginia and Maryland for cargoes of tobacco leaf. Thus tobacco manufacture was the first important foreign trade and home industry established by Glasgow enterprise.

Very soon the city became the center of the tobacco traffic. For a long time thereafter the "tobacco lords" of Glasgow in their scarlet robes and on their own privileged beat were almost as strongly marked figures in history as were the merchants of Venice. When the American colonies revolted and the United States republic was established Glasgow lost its flourishing tobacco trade, but some of the "tobacco lords," who held heavy stocks, made enormous fortunes by the rise in prices. These fortunes formed the foundation of larger enterprises elsewhere and the begetting of the new "merchant princes" that characterized Glasgow.

When driven from Virginia the adventurers established trade with the West Indies, where sugar succeeded tobacco as a staple of trade. Then came cotton and next coal, which was soon followed by iron. Meantime there had been a continuous development of trade with India, with China, with South America, with the United States and ultimately with Australia and New Zealand. Till then the Clyde had been little better than a stagnant ditch, but Glasgow by degrees formed a deep, broad, navigable waterway, and then came commerce and shipbuilding.—Scottish-American.

Privileged.

"Dear me," said the good looking female visitor to the superintendent of the lunatic asylum, "what a vicious look that woman has we just passed in the corridor! Is she dangerous?"

"Yes, at times," replied the superintendent evasively.

"But why do you allow her such freedom?"

"Can't help it."

"But isn't she an inmate and under your control?"

"No. She is not under my control. She's my wife."

A Study In Procrastination.

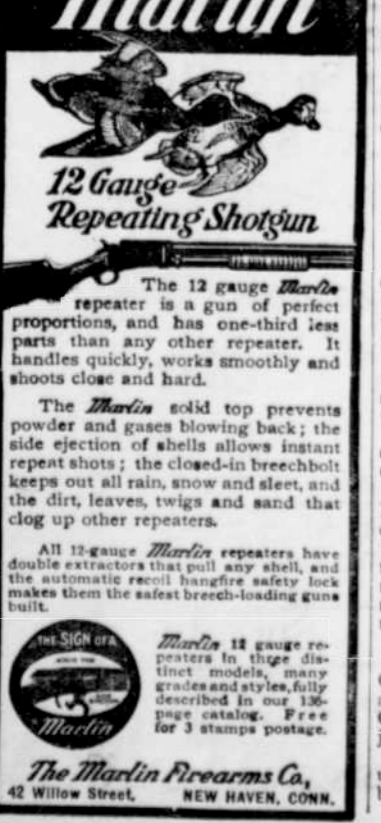

"Have you started on that job of work?"

"No, suh," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley. "I speaks I might as well put it off till nex' week."

"Why, this is only Monday."

"I knows it, but de mawwin's half gone, an' den it's only a few days till Friday, an' dat's bad luck, an' I don't work on Sunday, so I reckons I better wait till I kin git a clean slatht."—Washington Star.

Marlin
12 Gauge Repeating Shotgun

The 12 gauge Marlin repeater is a gun of perfect proportions, and has one-third less parts than any other repeater. It handles quickly, works smoothly and shoots close and hard.

The Marlin solid top prevents powder and gases blowing back; the side ejection of shells allows instant repeat shots; the closed-in breechbolt keeps out all rain, snow and sleet, and the dirt, leaves, twigs and sand that clog up other repeaters.

All 12-gauge Marlin repeaters have double extractors that pull any shell, and the automatic recoil hanging safety lock makes them the safest breech-loading guns built.

Marlin 12 gauge repeaters in these distinct models, many grades and styles, fully described in our 136-page catalog. Free for 3 stamps postage.

What to Read.

"Tell me what a man reads and I will tell you what he is," said a wise writer; for little by little the things that we read become our thoughts, and make a very texture of the mind.

During the last few months the attention of the American people has been aroused to the consideration of pure and impure foods. This agitation has done good, for with the abundance of good food there is little excuse for using any food which is harmful. The time has come when the American family must give better attention than in the past to another matter—the choice between good and bad reading. We have read enough about wickedness in both public and private life; too much about the evil and not enough about the good in life.

Let us have the brilliant and clean side of our American life only. Let us read stories of heroes who are both brave and noble and not vulgar and confessed criminals. The mission of the press is to help the reader, not drag him down, to suggest high, not low ideals.

At this season the average American family selects periodicals for the next year. Let the choice be only for clean, wholesome, patriotic periodicals. Send for the Prospect of the 1910 Volume of the Youth's Companion and see what an amount of the best reading selected from the world's abundance of every sort can be had for only $1.75—52 splendid issues.

Every new subscriber receives in addition to the 52 issues for 1910, all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1909, and the "Venetian" Calendar, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold.
