A Fine Piano Given Away
In Retiring as a Music Teacher Prof. Henry Will Give Some Pupil a Handsome Piano

With this year Prof. W. A. Henry proposes to give up the teaching of music as a profession and as a parting gift will present to one of his music pupils in either Myrtle Point or Coquille a magnificent $475 Lester piano, an instrument practically new, of fine touch and tone, a beautiful case and of superior workmanship throughout, and that will be an ornament to any home.

THE PLAN
Prof. Henry is to give a series of six concerts, three in Myrtle Point and three in Coquille. Coupon tickets are to be issued for each of the concerts, each coupon to count ten votes for the music pupil under the professor's regular instruction who secures the coupon either through solicitation from ticket purchasers or the sale of a ticket. The contest will close at midnight of August first, next, and the piano will be given to the music pupil having the most coupon votes to his or her credit at that hour. Myrtle Point pupils may solicit coupons on the Coquille concerts and vice versa.
The only condition attached is that the candidate for the gift must be a regular music pupil of Prof. Henry's, receiving at least one lesson per week from now until the first of August.
The piano is on exhibition at the professor's studio at Coquille.
The date of the first concert will be announced soon.
