To Hold Services.

The little green tents, where the soldiers sleep, and the sunbeams play and the women weep, are covered with flowers today; Who were young and stalwart in sixty-two, When they went to the war away.

The little green tents are built of sod, They are not long and they are not broad, But the soldiers have lots of room; And the sod is part of the land they saved, When the flag of the enemy darkly waved, The symbol of dole and doom.

The little green tent is a thing divine, The little green tent is a country's shrine, Where patriots kneel and pray; And the brave men left, so old, so few, Were young and stalwart in sixty-two, When they went to the war away.

Council in Special Session.

The city council met in special session on Tuesday evening for the purpose of considering an extensive sidewalk improvement in the north part of town.

The proposed sidewalk is as follows: Beginning on Nosler street and run thence to Williams Avenue, thence north to Smith Avenue, thence east to Holly, thence north to Bush, thence east to northwest corner of lot 3 in block 1, Academy addition.

There was a remonstrance submitted, but there were but two signers thereon, and while they were heavy property owners, it was overruled by the council, as it was deemed by them of great importance to the citizens of the north part of town that they have better walks in the business section. Proper grades will be established and the walks to conform to them and will be a creditable and permanent improvement.

Farmers' Union Picnic.

There will be a Farmers' Union picnic given at the Norway grove on June first. Every preparation to insure success is being made and a grand good time is in store for all who attend. State President McAllister and State Secretary Sykes will be present and have something very interesting to tell us and everyone who possibly can, should go and hear what they have to say. And don't forget to take a well-filled basket. This is to be a real old-fashioned basket picnic, the kind we all enjoy. Also, remember the date, June 1. It is expected that large numbers from the Unions at Coquille, Marshfield, Myrtle Point, Fishtrap and Lee will be present, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Gage Returns.

George Gage returned from an extended stay in San Francisco Monday reports that the plans for the reopening of the Gage mine are well under way and that unless some unforeseen delay occurs the new company will take charge of the mine the first of June. A month or more will be consumed in making necessary repairs on the tramway and bunkers and in installing a new screener and the mine will probably be in operation by the latter part of the month. He also stated that a small steamer with a carrying capacity of about 350 tons would be put on the run at the present time and that a larger and better boat would be built by the company later on.

"Cupid at Vassar."

The students of the Coquille High School are certainly to be congratulated on the way in which they presented their class play "Cupid at Vassar."

They have all practised conscientiously and studiously under the direction of L. A. Liljeqvist, who is also to be congratulated for it was greatly through his efforts that the play was so great a success.

Lack of space forbids a lengthy discussion of individual characters but it can be said that they did so well as to compare with many of the professional troupes which have been seen here.

The graduates are, Eva Sugg, Gretchen Sherwood, Iva Howey, Belle Thrift, Anna Childs, Elizabeth Childs, Walter Oerding, Melvin Kern and Matt Kerrigan.

While the Randolph was unloading at the Port Orford wharf last Wednesday afternoon a Carrier pigeon, tired and hungry, lit on the wharf, and moved among the men without fear, feeding on the scattered grain, and when satisfied with its dinner, it went into the warehouse out of the strong wind, and had a good rest. It is a large blue pigeon with beautiful spotted wings, and a white band across the base of its bill. One leg wears a silver band and the other a golden band. A heavy north west wind was blowing, and the bird is supposed to have come from the south, and became tired breasting the gale. Will some of our exchanges tell us whence it came, and who owns it? Governor of New Jersey in a Characteristic Attitude.

TRIBUTE TO THE TOILERS.

Humble Men Who Labor Are America's Might, Says Wilson.

In one of his recent addresses Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey paid an eloquent tribute to the toiling millions whose labor has given America the place among the nations. He said:

"You know how it thrills our blood sometimes to see how all the nations of the earth wait to see what America is going to do with her power—her physical power—her enormous resources, her enormous wealth, her power to levy innumerable armies and build up armaments which might conquer the world. But what has made us strong? The toil of millions of men, the toil of men who do not boast, who are inconspicuous, but who live their lives humbly from day to day, and this great body of workers, this great body of toilers, constitutes the might of America. "What is the manifest duty of all statesmanship, therefore? It is to see that this great body of men who constitute the strength of America are properly dealt with by the laws and properly nurtured and taken care of by the policy of the country. "Well, what hinders, what stands in the way? Why, you know that everything really worth discussing comes to the question of the corporations. Now, I do not want you to expect from me any invective against the corporations. I was bred a lawyer, but I do not know how to draw up an indictment against a whole nation. If you will give me the facts I can indict one man at a time."

LABOR MUST ORGANIZE

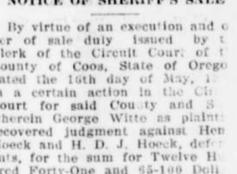

If it is to Secure Justice From Organized Capital, Says Woodrow Wilson. Few public men have taken such definite ground on the question of the rights and duties of organized labor as has Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey. In a letter written to one of the labor leaders of his home state recently the governor said: "I have always been the warm friend of organized labor. It is, in my opinion, not only perfectly legitimate, but absolutely necessary, that labor should organize if it is to secure justice from organized capital, and everything that it does to improve the condition of workingmen, to obtain legislation that will impose full legal responsibility upon the employer for his treatment of his employees and for their protection against accident, to secure just and adequate wages and to put reasonable limits upon the working day and upon all the exactions of those who employ labor ought to have the hearty support of all fair minded and public spirited men, for there is a sense in which the condition of labor is the condition of the nation itself. The laboring man cannot benefit himself by injuring the industries of the country. I am much more afraid that the great corporations, combinations and trusts will do the country deep harm than I am that the labor organizations will harm it, and yet I believe the corporations to be necessary instruments of modern business."

A Bake Shop Test

I made of every milling that Olympic Flour is made of. One of the best bake shops anywhere is run in connection with the mill that makes Olympic Flour. Every bunch of flour that goes through the mill is tested. It has to be up to the highest standard—has to make the best bread possible, else it doesn't go into the Olympic sacks.

That is the reason your bakings of bread, biscuit and pastry are always and only good when you use Olympic. Your bakings can't be expected to be the same always unless the flour is. Therein lies the beauty of using Olympic.

Three Vital Reasons

"I want to give every person not using electric light three vital reasons why the General Electric Mazda Lamp should make them have their house, store, office or factory wired.

First—The G-E Mazda Lamp gives nearly three times the light of the ordinary carbon incandescent.

Second—It costs no more to burn.

Third—The quality of light is vastly superior—a clear white light like sun rays.

"The General Electric Mazda Lamp represents the high-mark in the evolution of incandescent electric lighting. It blends inventive triumph and manufacturing skill—and you reap the benefit in the form of dollars and cents, and freedom from eye strain when using artificial light."

"I want the chance to prove to your entire satisfaction that this wonderful lamp is even better than represented. Come in today and see for yourself. Your call places you under no obligation, and is apt to be decidedly to your profit."

Be careful to see that every electric lamp you buy bears the G. E. monogram.
