The next meeting will be held with the president on Friday June 16.

Baseball at Coquille
The game played on the Coquille diamond last Sunday ended with much more interest than was expected. The Score ran up in the first part of the game due to heavy hitting and a few errors at critical moments but in the last of the game both teams settled down and played real baseball Jim Collier, the horsehide twirler, saped a home run in the sixth inning with a man on second base trying the score. Coquille shut Myrtle Point out the 3rd inning following when Pollard took things in his own hands and never let a man get to first base, until the last half of the 10th inning.
Prey who was playing center field prevented Coquille from having a walkover by glomming two nasty low flies which Clouse Lorenz went for home runs with the bases full.
One of the features of the game was Patterson's daring slide from the home plate to the players bench, but Nosler would have easily tagged him out if he hadn't fallen from said bench. Next game will be at Marshfield next Sunday.

Desiring to preach on the evening of July 2, a sermon on Patriotism I would be pleased to have you views on the following questions:
1. I want your point of view.
2. Please send me your opinions within ten days if possible.
1. What are some of the evils and dangers of our national life?
2. What do you think are the remedies—industrial, political and religious for these evils?
3. Can a man who isn't a Christian be as good a citizen as one who is?
Should a Christian man be as interested in the political and civic matters of his town as in his church?
E. Sutton Mace, Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
