

BABIES ARE BOSSES.

They Seem to Serve Many Purposes in This Busy World.

The baby serves a manifold purpose in the world. He makes men and women more unselfish and furnishes the amount of trouble necessary to keep them comfortably busy. He sanctifies home and gives the doctor an excuse to look wise. A well ordered, well born baby with a red face and a bald head is a delight, particularly when he belongs to a friend and doesn't spend nights in your neighborhood.

Every baby is the prettiest baby in the world, and it can be proved by its mother. A baby that won't eat carpet tacks, brass headed nails and young kittens is a mistake. Babies are bosses and boddlers. They control the first ward, along with the Twelfth, rule outrageously over the counties and take everything that comes their way without asking any questions. All babies are supposed, quite properly, to come from heaven, but what the angels, cherubim, seraphim and the rest of the celestial population do for sleep has never been inquired into. Boy babies are sweetest at four and girl babies at twenty-four.

A baby is a joy forever until it begins to fall out of the second story window, turn over the water pitcher, hammer the china to pieces with its fork and investigate the medicine bottles on the shelf. Every baby is eternally trying to find out more than he has any business knowing, and the habit of asking questions lasts through life. The touch of a baby's hand opens up heaven to a woman and makes a man willing to wear patches the rest of his natural life. It has been said that every woman is entitled to at least one child. So is every man, but nobody has ever mentioned the fact.

Borrowing babies is much sadder than it is funny. Some day the government will go into the business and keep babies to rent out—as a matter of morals alone. Every old bachelor's quarters will contain a nursery, and clubs will be a thing of the past.—Paris (Mo.) Mercury.

Ready For Promotion.

A young rising Scotch artist, who afterward became a distinguished president of the Royal Scottish academy, was painting on one occasion amid the rugged scenery of the west highlands of Scotland, in close proximity to an isolated and rudely built thatched cottage such as are usually inhabited by the hardy peasant crofters of north Britain.

While engaged in giving the rough stone exterior of his dwelling its annual coat of whitewash the Highlander espied the future academician engaged on an important picture and, thinking probably that landscape painting was but an elementary and poor use for the brush of a youth who had nearly reached the estate of manhood, said to him: "Man, yer a big callant to be pentin' picturs. Can ye no' learn to hooses?"

Port Orford Tribune

The shingle mill blew the first whistle yesterday at noon. It means business, and sounded good. Wilson and Forty ran down to Rogue river reef last Saturday, having an ideal day, with ocean as smooth as a skating rink, and killed 54 bull sea-lions, and got back to Port Orford about midnight. The days killing is the biggest of this season, and will net them over four hundred dollars.

J. H. James of Coquille, formerly Populist Assessor of Coos county, is visiting his son's family at Port Orford. Mr. James is an intelligent and vigorous man, of wide experience, and of independent, original thought, and a most entertaining conversationalist. We received a pleasant call from him, and threshed over the old Populist battles in Coos county.

Sealed bids will be received for the above listed lands up to 2 o'clock P. M. on the 17th day of July and the 17th day of August (see list). All bids should be enclosed in a sealed envelope, which must be conspicuously marked "Bids for Indian Land." The date of the proposed sale must also be written thereon, but nothing else. No bidder will be permitted to include more than one allotment in any bid. If a prospective buyer desires to bid on more than one allotment he must make a separate bid for each allotment which he desires to purchase, and if he wishes to purchase less than an entire allotment he may submit a bid for one or more legal subdivisions or any part thereof. Each bid must be accompanied by a duly certified check on some solvent bank payable to Horace G. Wilson, Sup't., Roseburg, Oregon for use of the grantor, for ten per cent of the amount offered, as a guarantee for the faithful performance by the bidder of his proposal. If the bid shall be accepted and the successful bidder shall within thirty days after due notice fail to comply with the terms of his bid the money represented by such check shall be forfeited for the use of the owner of the land. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned within ten days after the opening of the bids, any other information governing sales will be sent on application. Purchasers shall pay the cost of conveyancing and from $1.50 to $2.50 for advertising. No bid for an amount less than the appraised value will be considered. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Each patent issued to purchaser will contain the following clause: "And there if recurred from the lands hereby granted a right-of-way for ditches and canals constructed by the authority of the United States."

A HAUNTED ROOM.

The Mysterious Light That George Cary Eggleston Defied.

There was and perhaps still is a room in a certain house in Virginia which was supposed to be haunted. Every time a person slept there he would be sure to wake after awhile to find the whole room pervaded by a dim yellowish gray or grayish yellow light. It was very dim at first, but it increased steadily till the occupant of the chamber fled from the nameless terror in panic. Mr. George Cary Eggleston was not to be daunted by these tales and accordingly decided to try a night there. In "Recollections of a Varied Life" he tells what happened: It was about midnight when I entered the room. It was raining heavily, and the wind was rattling the stout shutters of the eight great windows of the room.

I went to each of those windows and minutely examined it. They were hung with heavy curtains of deep red. Having completed my examination, explored the closets and bolted the door, I went to bed. The great four poster was inexpressibly comfortable, and the splash and patter of the rain as it beat upon the window blinds was as soothing as a lullaby. I forgot all about the experiment in which I was engaged, all about ghosts and their ways, and went to sleep.

At a time I suddenly waked to find the room pervaded by that yellowish gray or grayish yellow light which had so disturbed the slumbers of others in that chamber. My awakening was so complete that all my faculties were alert at once. I felt under my pillow and found the pistol still where I had placed it.

Instead of springing hastily from bed, I lay there for a time, watching the weird light as it slowly, almost imperceptibly, increased in intensity. I decided that the gray distinctly predominated, but in the meantime the steady increase in the light and its pervasiveness warned me, and I slipped out of bed.

The rain was still beating heavily against the window blinds, and the strange yellowish gray light was still slowly but steadily increasing. I was resolute, however, in my determination not to be disturbed or hurried by any manifestation. In response to that determination I glanced at the mirror and decided that the mysterious light was sufficient for the purpose, and I resolved I would share.

Having done so, I bathed in the rapidly increasing light. I was deliberate, however, in donning my clothing, and not till I was fully dressed did I turn to leave the room.

I turned the key. A second later I was out of that chamber, and the oak door of it was securely shut behind me. I went down the great stairway, slowly, deliberately, in pursuance of my resolution. I entered the large hallway below and thence passed to the oak wainscoted dining room, where I sat down to breakfast with the rest of the company.

It was 9 o'clock of a dark, rainy morning. The grayish yellow light was daylight.

A Bake Shop Test

Is made of every milling that Olympic Flour is made of. One of the best bake shops anywhere is run in connection with the mill that makes Olympic Flour. Every bunch of flour that goes through the mill is tested. It has to be up to the highest standard—has to make the best bread possible, else it doesn't go into the Olympic sacks.

That is the reason your bakings of bread, biscuits and pastry are always uniformly good when you use Olympic. Your bakings can't be expected to be the same always unless the flour is. Therein lies the beauty of using Olympic.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon in and for Coos County.

Anson E. Shuster, Plaintiff, vs.

Mary L. Shuster, Defendant.

To Mary L. Shuster, the above named defendant: In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled Court and cause on or before Thursday, the 27th day of July 1911, the same being the last day of the publication of this summons, the date of the first publication thereof being 15th day of June A. D. 1911.

And if you fail to appear answer or otherwise plead herein within said time the plaintiff will thereafter apply to the Court for default against you, and will further demand a decree for the relief prayed for in his complaint filed herein, to-wit:

That the bonds of matrimony now and heretofore existing between you and the plaintiff may be dissolved and held for naught, and for absolute divorce from you upon the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and personal indignities rendering life burdensome, and on the further grounds of willful desertion for more than one year.

This Summons is published by order of the Honorable John S. Coke Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Coos County, dated the 12th day of June A. D. 1911, which requires this Summons to be published in the Coquille Herald, once each week for six consecutive weeks, the date of the first publication of the same being June 15th, 1911.

Three Vital Reasons

"I want to give every person not using electric light three vital reasons why the General Electric Mazda Lamp should make them have their house, store, office or factory wired.

First—The G-E Mazda Lamp gives nearly three times the light of the ordinary carbon incandescent.

Second—

It costs no more to burn.

Third—

The quality of light is vastly superior—a clear white light like sun rays."

"The General Electric Mazda Lamp represents the high mark in the evolution of incandescent electric lighting. It blends inventive triumph and manufacturing skill—and you reap the benefit in the form of dollars and cents, and freedom from eye strain when using artificial light."

"I want the chance to prove to your entire satisfaction that this wonderful lamp is even better than represented. Come in today and see for yourself. Your call places you under no obligation, and is apt to be decidedly to your profit."

Be careful to see that every electric lamp you buy bears the G. E. monogram.
