COMMERCIAL CLUB CALM

VOID OF VIGOR AND VIVACITY

Talking Without Official Action Awaits Nothing—Business Ability Required for Successful Operation

The Coquille Commercial Club held a special protracted meeting Monday evening, lasting until nearly eleven o'clock, with the net official result of the payment to the Sentinel of $3.25 for printing, and the appointment of a committee of three to commune with Secretary Savage relative to his holding down the job.

Several matters were discussed, among them being the holding of a carnival here on the completion of the street paving, which subject was introduced by the secretary. The sentiment of the meeting seemed to be in favor of holding such a carnival, but no official action was taken.

Secretary J. C. Savage handed in his resignation as secretary of the club, but a motion that the resignation be accepted was lost. Mr. Savage went quite fully into the reasons for his desire to relinquish the arduous duties of his office. His main reason seemed to be the difficulty and the disagreeable features connected with the collection of dues from the members, his total compensation consisting of but 25 per cent of these collections. He expressed a willingness to perform the other duties of the office, exclusive of the collectorship, but a question as to whether he would do this without compensation did not elicit a definite answer. Mr. Savage also referred feelingly to the indifference of the membership and the failure to attend meetings. This brought out from R. S. Knowlton an expression to the effect that it was always thus in a town of this size; and A. J. Sherwood told of former years when he and Mr. Knowlton, as secretary and president, respectively, had kept the organization alive all by their lonely. Mr. Sherwood also deprecated Mr. Savage's plaint as to the disagreeable and profitless features of the secretary's duties, saying that he himself had performed these duties here for years without thought of compensation and would be willing to undertake it again, only that he thought he had served his time.

President Geo. Peoples suggested that an executive committee be appointed to revive interest in the club and formulate plans for its further usefulness, but no action was taken on this.

C. R. Barrow, who was present, told why he had dropped out of active membership in the club, and made some good suggestions. He said that on joining the club he had attended regularly, paid his dues cheerfully and contributed in other ways for the boosting of the town; but, finding that nothing was being really done by the club, further than getting together and talking things over without action, he had lost interest and dropped out. He would be glad to take an active and contributing part in the work of a club that would actually do something to advertise and develop the town and the Coquille valley.

Finally, on motion of J. S. Lyons, a committee consisting of Leo J. Carey, C. A. Howard and J. S. Lyons, was appointed to secure another member to undertake the duties of the secretaryship, if Mr. Savage could not be prevailed upon to retain the office permanently.

Adjournment was taken to the next regular meeting, August 5th.

Journalist Visits the Herald

Mr. O. P. Willis, a student of the school of journalism in the University of Washington, Seattle, is looking over Coos county during his vacation. He is favorably impressed with this section and contemplates entering upon the duties of a publisher in this county within a year should a favorable opportunity occur.

The school of journalism is equipped with a $25,000 newspaper plant and a six column four-page daily is issued. There are sixty students, one-third of whom are girls. The mechanical, as well as the reportorial work, is taught. Those who have graduated are successful.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT LUCKILY AVERTED

R. H. Mast and wife, accompanied by Postmaster Linegar, wife and child were taking a joy ride in Mr. Mast's auto Sunday that came near proving disastrous. When coming down the Fairview mountain, about one mile and a half the other side of the poor farm the automobile encountered a stump in the road with a force sufficient to break the front axle and throw Mr. Linegar forward to the ground. Mr. Linegar was not seriously hurt, as were none of the occupants, Mrs. Mast, however, sustained a severe shaking up and was somewhat bruised and suffered more than the others.

It was dark when coming down the hill; the lights were in place, and Mr. Mast had taken the precaution to not only apply the brakes but was traveling upon the slowest speed.

The mountain at the place of the accident, as well as elsewhere, has nine foot planks in the roadway, many being slipped out of place which alone makes it difficult for guiding a machine.

A tree had fallen over the road during the winter and some boys—no intelligent roadmaster would do it—had cut the tree so that two feet or more protruded over the plank. This left less than seven feet of roadway. Weeds growing on the upper side rendered the obstruction impossible to be seen even in daylight.

Under these conditions it can be readily observed that the fault of the accident is not the carelessness of Mr. Mast—it is chargeable only to those officials whose duty it is to keep the highways in repair.

Better watchfulness of our roads by supervisors will serve the twofold purpose of making traveling more secure and render the county less liable to damages.

Laird's Auto Line Popular

J. L. Laird of the Myrtle Point-Roseburg stage line informs us that he carried one hundred passengers over his line last week with his automobiles. There are now five thirty and forty horse-power Buick cars used on the route, four passengers being carried in each car. The travel over his popular route has increased to such proportions that advance orders are necessary to accommodate his patrons. The roads are in fairly good condition, seven hours being required to make the run including one-hour stop for dinner. Expert and careful chauffeurs are employed, thus assuring safety. Stages also carrying passengers and baggage and mail leave same time as the autos. An advertisement elsewhere gives the hours of departure and arrival.

BAD BANDON BOOZE DEALS DRUNKEN DEATH

Charles C. Hadley, a young man about 28 years of age, a logger by occupation, was seen to fall upon the principal street of Bandon early Monday evening and in a few moments he was dead.

J. W. Coach, son of the late Col. Coach is involved in the tragedy. Prior to the fall of the victim Coach had quarreled with Hadley in the Club Saloon, both leaving at the same time followed by others.

At the coroner's jury witnesses testified that they saw Hadley fall but could give no reason for it. There was no obstruction upon the sidewalk, and many conflicting rumors are afloat regarding the case. Bruises were found upon the right ear and cheek and physicians testified before the coroner's jury that death resulted from the neck being broken, and that the bruises might have resulted by the fall.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict to the effect that Charles C. Hadley came to his death from some violent cause to them unknown, and recommended an investigation by the grand jury.

The body was shipped to Coquille and taken to Ellingsen's undertaking parlors awaiting instructions from relatives.

J. W. Coach was arrested and had a preliminary examination before a justice of the peace at Bandon and was placed under $2,000 bonds awaiting action of the grand jury.

Knowlton's New Pharmacist

E. J. Smith, a pharmacist of Medford, Oregon, is familiarizing himself with Knowlton's drug store preparatory to assuming the duties of an employee. Mr. Smith has had five years' experience in the business, is a graduate of our own Oregon University, and is an affable and courteous gentleman—traits and characteristics requisite to fill the vacancy made by Owen Knowlton who leaves for San Francisco on the 19th of this month for a two year course in the California College of Pharmacy. Our physiological instincts lead us to believe Mr. Smith will be a valuable man to Mr. Knowlton as well as a good citizen in our community.

Owen Knowlton goes to San Francisco with a determination to learn and master pharmacy. That he will win there is no doubt.

School Board Meets

A meeting of the school board was held at the office of Attorney J. J. Stanley Wednesday evening, July 29. Plans for the proposed new high school building were submitted by P. M. Hall-Lewis which presented acceptable features. Other plans are looked for in the near future and in due time the subject of a new high school building will be determined by the voters.

The teachers for the coming term have been secured, or at least offered the positions believing they will accept. Those to fill vacancies are: Miss Brecke for the sixth grade; Miss Pearl Walker of Bandon, third grade; Miss Helen Quinan of Portland, second grade.

Cascara Bark for Mexico

George T. Moulton, our local dealer in cascara bark and other commodities, received an order a few days since from R. P. Williams of Perez, Vera Cruz, Mexico, for a quantity of cascara bark to be administered to the sick in his household. A Mexican money order was sent in payment of the same and was as difficult to decipher as the causes continually at work in the tumultuous government. The cascara bark was forwarded by express and it is hoped its medicinal properties will produce results desired.

After Curry County Deer

J. L. Thompson, in company with John Strong of Myrtle Point and a Coquille butcher, left Sunday by automobile to Gold Beach, from which point they will pack supplies thirty miles or so back in the mountains. ## ROSE SITE CHOSEN FOR OUR CITY HALL

The Coquille City Council met Monday evening with a full attendance, excepting Councilman True.

An order for $74.85 was drawn in favor of Phil Koelne, for work on water system.

Bids for improvement of Spurgeon street and extension of the same were submitted by W. J. Longston, $4856.00, and Coos Bay Paving Co., $6019.00, and the contract was awarded the former.

Ordinances No. 63, 64 and 65 were passed. These provide for the improvement of streets, as follows: Nosler street from B street to Williams avenue; Williams avenue from Nosler street to Smith avenue; Smith avenue from Williams avenue to the east end of said Smith avenue.

Ordinance No. 127 was passed, making unlawful to interfere with survey stakes, fences etc., erected in the course of city improvements, and providing penalties for violation.

The offer of W. C. Rose of a site for a city hall was accepted. This consists of a tract of land, 50 by 95 feet, on the southwest corner of Second street (Elliott's Add.) and Hall street, the price named being $1800. The matter of plans for the building was left with the committee on grounds, consisting of Councilmen Leach, Lyons and Skeels.

The election of Walter Oerding as chief of the fire department was confirmed.

The report of Chief Oerding as to the condition of the fire apparatus was filed and referred to the Fire Committee. This report shows: Hose cart No. 1 in fair condition; Hose cart No. 2 short one nozzle, one axe and one bar; lights needed in front of hose house No. 2; one scaling ladder broken; all lanterns needing repairs; two lanterns needed in each hose cart, rigid wire baskets to prevent breaking.

Many Hunters' Licenses

But one lonely man, Jay G. Bush, had the nerve to humble himself before the desk of County Clerk Watson during the past week and ask for a license to wed. Grace Dix is the one he would make a Bush. It has been different with hunters for game and anglers for fish. Thus far this season eighteen hundred and eighty-nine game licenses have been issued. Many licenses were issued for both hunting and fishing, and the sum derived will enrich the county coffers over $2,000.

Trustees of Library Association Meet

Meeting of the board of trustees of the Coquille Library Association was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Belloni Thursday evening, July 25. Treasurer's report showed a balance in the treasury of $59.86. R. S. Knowlton was elected president, Mrs. Fred Belloni, treasurer and R. H. Mast, secretary of the board of trustees for the ensuing year.

New Boiler for Steamer Dora

Captain Panter informs us that the steamer Dora of the Myrtle Point-Bandon run is now having a boiler installed and other minor improvements made to the boat. The steamer May is taking the place of the Dora during the work which will take about three weeks to complete. Captain Panter is well pleased with the patronage accorded him and when the Dora resumes her run no better river service can be obtained. The old-time venerable captain merits the liberal patronage he receives.
