IN MEMORIAM

E. G. D. Holden, born February 18, 1834, died in Coquille, Tuesday morning, August 20, 1912, aged 78 years, 6 months, 1 day.

Judge Holden had been ailing but a few days, and would not have a physician, still his brother Odd Fellows kept a vigilant watchfulness of his movements. Rev. Evans suggested to Dr. Richmond that he pay Brother Holden a fraternal call and when the doctor arrived at the Judge's home Monday evening he found him on the floor where he had been drawing water to irrigate flowers. He was stricken with paralysis, and apparently suffered no pain. He was conscious near the end.

Rev. Evans, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, carried into execution the triple tenets of the order symbolically portrayed by the three links during the illness and death of his venerable church member and brother. The following letter given to Mr. Evans for delivery was the last writing of Judge Holden which shows that he was not forgetful of his duties and obligations to man even to the last hour of his life. The letter was written at three o'clock Monday afternoon and an hour later Judge Holden was helpless. It follows:

No. 1000 Second St., City.
HON. E. D. SPERRY, City—
Can't you attorneys sign stipulation or otherwise take care of Lemanski vs. (Blank) before some other justice for adjudication? I do not seem to improve as I ought and cannot help being worried by what may look a neglect of business.
Upon information of any satisfactory agreement between you attorneys I will get down to office and make necessary transfer, etc. Very truly,
Yours always,
E. G. D. HOLDEN,
J. P. 3rd Dist.

He had been an ardent member of the Odd Fellows for over forty years, and a devout member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and an exemplary citizen throughout his long life. He was Grand Master of the Odd Fellows of the State of Michigan for the years 1880-1 and served the Grand Lodge as Grand Representative for the years 1882-3. Mr. Holden was a member of Hececa Lodge No. 111, I. O. O. F., of Florence, Oregon; Coquille Eucompane No. 25, I. O. O. F., and Mamie Rebecca Lodge No. 20, I. O. O. F., of Coquille.

In his address before the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Michigan Bro. Holden said "the noble grand among men were those who most loves his fellow man," and in this connection he produced the allegorical poem of Leigh Hunt, which follows:

"Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase!)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace,
And saw within the moonlight of his room,
Making it rich, and like a lily's bloom,
An angel writing in a book of gold.
Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem hold.
And to the presence in the room he said:
'What writest thou?' The vision raised its head,
And with a look, made all of sweet accord,
Answered: 'The names of those who love the Lord.'
'And is mine one?' said Abou; 'Nay, not so,'
Replied the Angel. Abou spoke more low,
But cheerily still, and said: 'I pray thee, then,
Write me as one who loves his fellow men.'
The angel wrote and vanished!
The next night
It came again with a great wakening light,
And showed the names whom love of God had blessed,
And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest."

Mr. Holden was Secretary of State of Michigan thirty-four years ago, at which time and prior thereto he was active in political affairs. He came to Coquille about twelve years ago from Florence, Oregon, and served several terms as city recorder and about eight years as justice of the peace, a position he held with dignity and honor to a degree that none attempted to dispossess him.

C. H. Holden, a brother, a justice of the peace at Glenada, Oregon; Henry S. Holden, a son, a business man at Grand Rapids, Michigan; another son whose name and place of residence could not be learned and Mrs. Judge Perkins, a daughter, the wife of the circuit judge at Grand Rapids, Michigan, survive him.

The editor of the Herald had learned to admire the manly, sterling character of Mr. Holden with whom we had often conversed on varied topics and always with benefit. As Judge Holden expressed himself in an address before the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, we were drawn together by "a mysterious something that cannot be expressed in words. A sympathetic telephone connects all our hearts so that ere the wish is whispered, it is back. It brings the fraternal feeling that is born in every soul instantly to the surface. It is made ready to act in that it energises with all its power the latent sympathies of man."

Judge Holden left on our desk on July 24 last, the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Michigan for the year 1880, at which time he was chosen its Grand Master and had at that time written the date of his birth from which we infer he knew the end of his earthly career was close at hand.

J. S. Lawrence, secretary of the local lodge of Odd Fellows, telegraphed Henry S. Holden, son of the deceased, at Grand Rapids, Michigan, regarding disposition of the body and received instructions that the funeral be held in Coquille. Funeral services at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday, August 25, at 2 p. m. Interment Odd Fellows cemetery.

BETTER SALARIES BETTER TEACHERS

The Coos County Teachers' Institute, held at Bandon, closed last Friday at noon. The District School Board convention was held Thursday in conjunction with the institute. From nine o'clock to eleven the board members in attendance visited classes of regular instructors. At eleven o'clock they were addressed by E. T. Carleton, Assistant State Superintendent. Among others discussed, Mr. Carleton touched upon the county supervisor's proposition. He contends that the law providing for a supervisor is a good one and believes the people of this county will be better satisfied with it if they permit it to be thoroughly tried out. He says the system is proving quite efficient in other counties, especially in the Willamette valley.

Friday afternoon the School convention met with Supt. Bunch in the chair, and took up the discussion of a number of topics which had previously been sent out from the county Superintendent's office. In the matter of "How to Hire and Keep a Teacher," it seemed to be the consensus of opinion that good teachers could be secured and kept only by paying better salaries. Purposes for which the school house might properly be used were also discussed. Some argued that the school rooms should not be used for public meetings during the school term claiming that the room was certain to be left in disorder after such a meeting and that the work of the school was on this account seriously disturbed. Most of the members, however, seemed to think there were many proper uses for the school house, even during the school term, and seemed to be attracted by the modern idea of making the school house the social center of the community.

On the whole this institute was very satisfactory. One hundred and fourteen teachers took advantage of the excellent instruction offered.

An Enterprising Citizen
Paul Stephan has received a bill of lading for machinery and tools shipped from Cincinnati, Ohio, for use in the City Bakery. Among the more important is a dough mixer of two-barrel capacity and an electric motor to furnish power to run the same. The mixer weighs 2,500 pounds. A cake machine with five dies, one pan rack, two proof box trucks and other articles to the value of over $1,000 are also on the way. Mr. Stephan intends to make the City Bakery a modern establishment second to none, and one deserving patronage far and near.

Married His First Couple
Rev. Seth R. Steele, pastor of the M. E. Church South of Bandon, visited the city yesterday and was unceremoniously called upon to join John Moore and Rosa Clinton, both of Bandon, in wedlock. It was the first marriage solemnized by Rev. Steele and he said, "I believe I was more nervous than the contracting parties." The ceremony was performed at 2:15 at the Baxter hotel, and John is now prepared to "add a little bit Moore" to his possessions.

H. O. Anderson and wife left Wednesday for a three weeks' visit at the old home in Cottage Grove. Mr. Guy Kelley will have charge of Mr. Anderson's store during his absence.

Miss Gitchel possesses a very pleasing manner and thoroughly understands the art of her profession—A. M. Blodgett, Principal North Side High School, Corvallis, New York. Masonic hall tonight.

Attorney Walter Sinclair and wife left Monday for Curry county for an absence of ten days. Business interests on the Sixes river necessitates the trip and doubtless a little respite from labor by way of recreation will be enjoyed.

Henry L. Southwick, President of Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, Mass., says, "Miss Gitchel has a fine personality and a refined taste and manner. She has marked talent in expression and reads well." Masonic hall tonight.

Harry Rhodes, who was adjudged insane and committed to the asylum about three months ago, was recently discharged but again grew violent. He was again examined before Judge John F. Hall and it was ordered that he be returned to the asylum.

Mrs. Clara Bewick Colby spoke on Amendment No. 1, (which deals with woman suffrage) at the Little Church Tuesday evening. The audience was small owing to many other attractions, but those who attended spoke of the address as able and eloquent.

W. H. Nosler and wife left the forepart of the week, by private team via Roseburg, for Eugene where they will reside hereafter. While regretting the loss to our community of these good citizens, we wish them much prosperity and happiness in their Eugene home.

R. S. Knowlton left yesterday for San Francisco by Steamer Fifield where he will remain a few days to take in the sights, learn the news and study the fashions of the Pacific Coast metropolis. He left expressing a hope that a good attendance would greet the elocutionist at the Masonic hall tonight.

L. A. Liljeqvist, assistant prosecuting attorney, has received several letters threatening him with bodily harm if he did not desist in his activity in the Joiner disappearance matter. The letters were mailed at Empire, North Bend and Marshfield. Attorney Liljeqvist is not taking the matter seriously.

The Round-up, 3,000 feet of life-like motion pictures, as seen at the world's greatest frontier show at Pendleton, will soon be at the Masonic hall. Watch for bills giving date.

J. H. Aker bestowed a substantial and cordial greeting upon the Herald Monday morning. Duchess of Oldenberg apples, strawberries, blackberries and rhubarb from his home adjoining the city were placed upon our desk, which later tickled our palates, and produced kindly thoughts of the generous giver.

Frank Burkholder and Albert Croach returned yesterday from a deer hunt in Eaton valley. Mr. Burkholder shot his first deer without experiencing "buck fever." He says they ate the deer believing they could get more and consequently are unable to present visible evidence of their hunt.

Owen Knowlton left Wednesday by the Steamer Fifield for San Francisco where he will attend the California College of Pharmacy in that city. Owen will be absent about two years and we are confident he will be master of the chosen profession upon his return. We wish him good speed and God speed in all his laudable aims.

Henry Averill, of the Coos Bay Life Saving station, accompanied by his wife, is visiting relatives and friends at Fishtrap. While out hunting in the neighborhood of Fishtrap last week, in company with Ithmer Robson, a six-point deer was killed by them. As is well known, it is unusual to secure deer with six-point antlers, and the party is elated at their good fortune.

Chas. A. Pursley, a brother of F. C. Pursley of the Geo. A. Robinson store, is in the city for a month's visit. Mr. Pursley took a course of study in the Oregon Conservatory of Music at Portland and is experienced in the musical line as was evidenced to the satisfaction of the audience at the entertainment given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at Masonic hall Tuesday evening.

Walter E. Morris, a graduate of the O. A. C. at Corvallis, arrived in the city yesterday to gather information concerning land values, yield of crops, dairy products, etc. The Oregon State Immigration commission and the Oregon Agricultural College are working unitedly in securing statistics that will prove valuable. Mr. Morris has the names of several farmers in this locality upon whom he will call for the purpose named.

Attention Odd Fellows
Brother E. G. D. Holden, Past Grand Master, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the State of Michigan, will be buried in Odd Fellows' cemetery Sunday, August 25. Funeral services at Methodist Episcopal church at 2 p. m. All members are urgently requested to attend. J. S. LAWRENCE, Secretary.

"Best Be the Tie That Binds"
County Clerk Watson issued the following marriage licenses during the week:
John A. Gilman and Ofa Iona Sanders, both of Coquille.
Alex. Johnson and Ellen S. Brant, both of Marshfield.
Wm. Hartsman, of San Francisco, and Clara A. Rehfeld, of Marshfield.
Herbert Saffold and Norma Phetina Larne, both of Bandon.
John Moore and Rose Fenton, both of Bandon.

Focusion and Music
Miss Gitchel, a graduate of the Emerson School of Elocution and Oratory, Boston, will give readings tonight at Masonic hall, under the auspices of the Coquille Educational League. There will also be musical numbers directed by Miss Sperry. Admission 25 cents. High School pupils and children 15 cents or two for 25 cents.

Barn and Horses Burned
Rev. T. B. McDonald, minister of the Church of Christ in this city, conducted services at Bridge last Sunday. While there he learned of the total destruction of a barn by fire on that day belonging to George Bronson of Big Creek several miles above Bridge. A team of horses belonging to Fred Nosler was in the barn at the time of the fire and was lost. The team was a valuable one and said to be worth $400. Mr. Bronson's loss is quite heavy in tools, farming implements harness, feed and hay. The barn was fired by children who were at play in the hay.

"I was cured of diarrhoea by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes M. E. Gebhardt, Oriole, Pa. There is nothing better. For sale by all druggists.
