MERELY MENTIONED

Valentine day February 14.
Leave orders for dressmaking with Mrs. A. P. Miller.

J. D. Mitchell of Coquille has purchased the second-hand business of Sam Goff at Bandon.

Remember Petett, the optician. All work guaranteed.

Full stock of garden grass and field seeds at Knowlton's Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Denning of Marshfield visited with friends in this city during the past week.

Mrs. Lukens personally supervises all dressmaking done at Mrs. A. P. Miller's dressmaking parlors.

County Clerk Watson issued a marriage license to William E. Hahn and Grace Gilkey Monday last.

Satisfactory work guaranteed at the dressmaking establishment of Mrs. A. P. Miller.

Sheriff Gage has the tax rolls completed. Three per cent rebate on taxes paid up to and including March 15.

Northern grown garden seeds at Knowlton's Drug Store. Three papers for 10c.

Lloyd Wise of Myrtle Point, was given a warrant Monday on the bounty fund for $2.00, and one less wildcat prowls about the farmer's premises.

Fine watch repairing by W. Frank Petett. Opposite Farmers & Merchants bank.

Chas. Crouch notified the county clerk February first, that he had won the heart and hand of Margaret K. Curry. A license was issued in order that each could become one.

A bargain in Coquille property—both improved and unimproved. Call on W. E. Cleghorn, at Draue's store.

A. L. Rice of Bancroft, brought evidence of his prowess to County Clerk Watson this week in the form of three wildcat scalps and received six dollars as bounty.

Mrs. Mary A. McQuain will be glad to receive orders for plain and fancy sewing at the home of Mrs. E. J. Wright. She will also cut patterns. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Charlotte Baker has received a warrant by authority of the county court for the sum of $100 for right of way for a road from Sunrise Creamery to the steel bridge.

Nearly every day the Herald receives inquiries from outside people from all points of the compass relative to land values in the Coquille valley. An influx of sturdy tillers of the soil may soon be looked for.

Josephine G. Peoples was the only bidder for the property of Arthur Peart and Lillian Peart, sold at sheriff's sale last Saturday and was awarded title for the same in the sum of $207.96, the amount of the judgment.

Just received at Knowlton's Drug Store a full stock of northern grown garden seeds, the best for this country. Three papers for 10c.

Before buying an automobile call, or write, L. Strong & Son, Myrtle Point, Oregon, for information and price of the celebrated Mitchell 1913 car. Nothing like it, the best on wheels, in fact a road locomotive in place of a horseless carriage.

Twelve persons, representing seven nationalities, have made application for citizenship before the April, 1913, circuit court. All letters of the alphabet are brought into use in forming the names of those who would be Uncle Sam's subjects and a wobbly snicker or a sneeze, in some instances, appears to be the best method of pronunciation.

The ground hog saw his shadow plainly enough February 2—candlemas day. The entire day here was cloudless, and according to the old saying the little gent takes to his hole for six months more awaiting the coming of spring. The animal might take to his lair in the east but in this genial clime it will not be necessary.

Glenn H. Williams, an expert printer and practical newspaper man ceased his wanderings northward Monday and rendered aid on the Herald. Mr. Williams has been treading the roads up the coast and reports them in a deplorable condition. He is a union printer and we were pleased to meet the brother of the "stick and rule." May he reach the goal of success, which we believe should be his.

Regular meeting of the Farmers Union Saturday, February 8.

The minutes saved by hurry are as useless as the pennies saved by parsimony.

Now is the proper time to plant onion sets for early onions. See those at Knowlton's Drug Store, 12 1/2c. a pound.

There will be a meeting of the Educational League Friday February 14, at 3:30 at the high school. Rev. Frank H. Adame will deliver an address entitled "The Women of Shakespeare."

W. G. Ackerman received a burr of white cotton Tuesday from A. J. Sherwood who is now at Brawley, California. It is an unusual gift—first the recipient had ever seen—and it will be kept as a cherished memento of friendship.

Competition has reached the top in the thermometer of desire between the theater managers of this city regarding the placing of bill boards on conspicuous corners.

This ardor on the part of our amusement producers might be cooled to a point below zero should our city dads breathe the order—and this is not saying they dot or deal in a chilly atmosphere. Take notice!

Just received at Knowlton's Drug Store a large stock of the very best onion sets it is possible to produce. 12 1/2c. a pound.

Contractor Ellingsen has been very fortunate in the sewer work. Although the ditch for the drain tile is deep and has been exposed for a considerable time but little dirt has caved in. Precautions were taken by the foreman which prevented the possibility of needless labor—all of which proves it pays to employ experienced men in all cases.

A. P. Miller has rearranged the box office at the Royal Theater making it far more convenient to the one who dispenses the tickets.

Heretofore it was necessary to enter the box office from the front. The outside entrance has been closed and a door cut so that ingress and egress can be made direct with the auditorium. Other changes are also being made with a view of comfort to the patrons.

The Chandler hotel, Marshfield, will build an annex five stories in height 50 x 100 feet in size to cost $70,000. The architectural design will conform to the present building. This serves to jog our opinion that a modern hotel is much needed in Coquille. Fortune awaits the coming of an up-to-date hotel in our city—and this is not a knock at those who are doing their best under the circumstances.

The garden seeds that Knowlton sells are northern grown—are fresh stock and the best seed it is possible to produce. Three papers 10c. Knowlton's Drug Store.

The Royal Theater advertised its popular show house Monday by attiring one of its attaches in aboriginal costume. The spurious red man of the forest was astride a prancing steed and the "Indian" announced the features of the show by megaphone. As it was an exhibition of "Custer's Last Fight" the method was appropriate. Miller & Long are winning popular favor in the conduct of their theater.

Those onion sets at Knowlton's are raised by an expert onion set grower who has soil peculiarly adapted to them. Consequently they are the very best. 12 1/2c. a lb.

A Coquille Inventor

George Colvin, a sawfiler in the camp of Aasen Brothers, has just received patent for a crosscut saw raker gauge that he will soon place upon the market. The model exhibited at the Herald office was made by Mr. Colvin and shows the workmanship of a skillful hand. In adjusting the height of the saw teeth, a small mirror in the mechanism reflects with exactness and convenience any discrepancies that may exist in the raker. There are other important features in connection with the tool for aiding in putting the saw in proper shape. This raker gauge is unlike any heretofore patented and it appears to have merits that will commend it to all users of saws.

There is no better medicine made for colds than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts on nature's plan, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions, aids expectoration; and restores the system to a healthy condition. For sale by all druggists.

This is the best time of the year to poison digger squarrels. Full supply of best squarrel poison at Knowlton's Drug Store.

Obituary

T. T. Smith, a resident of River-ton for thirteen years, passed away at that place Monday, January 5, 1913, at the advanced age of 84 years.

Mr. Smith was a native of Tennessee, and removed to Oregon in the early days, first locating in Clackamas county. He was held in high esteem by all acquaintances.

Those of the family surviving him are three sons, B. F. and E. A. Smith of River-ton and W. F. Smith of Clackamas county, four daughters, Mrs. M. H. Tucker of Bandon, Mrs. M. Stolz and Mrs. J. P. King of Portland and Mrs. A. L. Snyder of Oregon City. Mr. Smith left many grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the grave in Masonic cemetery, this city, Wednesday, February 5.

Coquille Tailor Leads In Modern Methods

K Halversen has just installed a steam pressing machine in his tailoring parlors. It is the only one in Coos county, and is a just cause for pride on the part of this enterprising tailor, and is an instrument that adds laurels to Coquille's business wreath. Mr. Halversen has just received a first-class stock of samples suitable for spring and summer wear and is now prepared to please the most fastidious. Call and select that new suit and have it made in an up-to-date manner by the old reliable tailor of Coquille whose every aim is to please in quality of goods, workmanship and price.

Cleaning, mending and pressing done promptly and reasonably.

Ocean Steamer Arrives At Coquille Dock

The steamer Anvil arrived at Coquille Monday afternoon having on board the machinery recently purchased by the county court to be used in road construction. The trip was made for the express purpose of delivering the machinery, but our wholesalers, Nosler & Norton, took advantage of the opportunity to have a large consignment of flour and feed brought to them.

Our business men require sufficient commodities to warrant weekly trips for a boat between Coquille and Portland and this could be secured by united effort.

Let us have the boat by all means and thus help to more firmly establish Coquille on the business map of enterprise.

Bandon Basket Ball Coquille Victorious

Walter Oerding, sporting editor of the Herald, furnishes the following account of the games of basket ball played at Bandon:

Coquille high basket ball team, accompanied by the juvenile band, excursioned to Bandon last Friday by the steamer Coquille, returning Saturday.

Two games were played, the regular scheduled game and a preliminary between the Bandon Juniors and the Coquille Junior "All Stars."

The games were held in the Bank Hall. The local boys were handicapped on the slippery dance floor, but the "All Stars" played a fast and aggressive game. The final score was, Coquille 26, Bandon 8. At 9 o'clock the main contest commenced. Mast threw the first field basket and for the first ten minutes the game was very exciting, the score being close. At the end of the first half Coquille by six points. In the second half Bandon was weak, only making three points, while the local boys did fine work. The final windup was Coquille, 25; Bandon, 90.

After the game the Coquille team and rooters were served with an impromptu banquet.

Coquille plays North Bend at North Bend tonight, and Marshfield at Marshfield tomorrow night.

It pays to treat your grain and potatoes with Formaldehyde before planting to prevent disease. Supplied at Knowlton's Drug Store.

For a sprain you will find Chamberlain's Liniment excellent. It allays the pain, removes the soreness, and soon restores the parts to a healthy condition. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

Annual Banquet of Educational League

The annual banquet of the Coquille Educational League was held in W. O. W. hall this city, Friday evening, January 31.

Speeches, recitations, vocal and instrumental music, toasts, and, last but not least, a sumptuous repast, contributed to make this banquet more enjoyable and interesting than any heretofore held.

"Going to Jail as a Source of Literary Inspiration" was the subject of Rev. Frank H. Adams' address. He stated that the Pilgrim's Progress was written in jail. Oscar Wilde, and many others, contributed valuable literary works while in prison. Reference was made to many Bible writers producing inspiring sentiments in the Good Book while in captivity. Mr. Adams' address was eloquent and interesting in the extreme.

Morton's orchestra rendered three choice selections.

Raymond Burns gave a piano solo in his usual pleasing manner. Miss Applegate recited a burlesque on Woman's Suffrage that caused much merriment.

Kate Watson recited "Chasing the Cow," which produced pleasurable wrinkles to appear on the faces of her hearers.

Julian Leslie, fourteen years of age, ably recited "A Boy on Prohibition" extracts from which follow:

"I am asked to tell this meeting what we boys think about a prohibitory law for America. Well, we go in for it of course. Why shouldn't we? Aren't they always putting prohibitory laws on us boys, and nobody ever asks us whether we want them or not. We can't ride a wheel as we want to, or go swimming, or skating, or coasting, or snowballing, or anything, without running up against a prohibitory law.

"There is a steep hill in the main street of our village, and last winter there was a heavy rain storm, and then a freeze and that hill was like glass. Coasting! We boys had a jolly time sliding down that hill until Billy Smith ran into a woman carrying two baskets of eggs, scattering her and the eggs all over the hill. The woman wasn't much hurt, and we boys chipped in and purchased her some more eggs.

"The next day there was a sign put up and it said: 'Any boy found coasting on this hill will be sent to the lock-up.'

"Only a week before a man brought a load of wood to town, sold it and then drank up the proceeds at a saloon at the top of the hill, and mad with drink, drove his team heading down the hill, tore away a veranda, smashed a plate-glass window and nearly killed a man who tried to stop him. But they didn't prohibit the saloon.

"Because a barn was burned by firecrackers, the town council passed a law that no more firecrackers should be let off on any street of the village.

"They prohibited us swimming in the mill pond. Who wants to be all fixed up when they go in swimming?

"Because Tom Sawyer ran over a baby carriage that had twins in it and tumbled it over, didn't the council the very next week prohibit anybody riding a wheel on the sidewalk.

"The saloon goes on all the same."

"Of course, it isn't right to prohibit bad things. Can it be lawful to license all the badness?"

Mrs. Gertrude Lorenz, Mrs. Fred Slagle, Miss Woodford and Miss Collier, constituted a quartet singing two fine numbers.

Marvel Skeels proved herself a marvel in singing a marvelous song.

The program lasted an hour and a half and was the best ever.

TOASTS

H. O. Anderson—toastmaster
Supt. Baker—Needed Improvements in Our Schools.

Mrs. W. C. Brandon—Recollections of the ex-School Marm.

Dr. R. B. Hoag—Health and Instruction.

Miss Rachel E. Applegate—Individual or Class Teaching—Which?

Miss Iva Howey—Some Humor of the Day's Work.

Principal C. A. Howard—What Does the Teacher Owe the Community?

R. S. Knowlton—The Lighter Side.

Two rows of tables, entire length of the hall, laden with the best and most luscious viands satiated the appetites of one hundred and fifty or more.

The banquet terminated at one o'clock in the morning.

R. S. Knowlton was elected toastmaster for the annual banquet to be held in 1914.

Formaldehyde is the best known treatment for seed to prevent diseases in grain, potatoes, etc. Supplied of full strength Formaldehyde at Knowlton's Drug Store.

Myrtle Point Pointers

Mr. Ben Shull returned last week from a visit to his old home in North Carolina.

Mrs. Bert Davenport and two children made a week end visit with Mrs. Max Dement.

Mr. W. O. Cooper returned from Heraldsburg, Cal., where he has been visiting since November, last week.

Mr. David Griffin returned to this place last week after a sojourn in southern California. He says hereafter he will make his visits in the summer and so enjoy our mild Coos county climate in the winter.

The high school pupils, who took part in "The Merchant of Venice," gave the best of satisfaction. On Feb. 1, a large audience witnessed the play and we certainly have cause to feel proud of our local talent. About $100 were taken in.

Mrs. Harry Dickey and little boy, who came up from their home near Parterville, Cal., last fall, returned to her home accompanied by her brother, Mr. Sam Giles. This week she takes a new daughter as a present for Mr. Dickey.

Wonderful Advertising

At an advertising man's banquet in Denver, Dr. H. Wood Avery; the author of many advertising monographs, ended an address with this story: "The power of the 'ad,'" he said, "is truly miraculous. I know a young actress who mislaid a string of pearls. She inserted a 'lost and found' advertisement and the next day I asked her: 'Well, did you get your pearls back?' 'Yes,' she answered—and isn't advertising wonderful? The string I lost were only scientific, but those that have been returned to me are the real thing!"

A Royal Change

M. P. Long, who has been associated with the Royal theatre, has sold his interest in that concern to Charlie Hart and will now devote his entire attention to the management of the O. K. Creamery. With this object in view Mr. and Mrs. Long will move to the creamery the latter part of the week. Mr. Hart, has become well known to the patrons of the Royal theatre owing to his skillful operation of the pictures, his unique advertising and his pleasing personality. We wish the new management unbounded success.
