IS IT TRUE?

A petition has been circulated and quite numerous signed in town, addressed to "Prosecuting Attorney Geo. M. Brown," urging the prosecution of all cases of vice and assuring the prosecuting officer of the sympathy and support of the signers in any effort he may make in that direction. It is to be hoped that no copies of this petition may find their way to the outside world, for the picture therein drawn of the moral atmosphere of this city would be enough to turn away any one who had thought of bringing a wife or family here to make a home. The fact that the petition is signed by people well up in the community would be taken as a proof that moral conditions here are somewhat below those of the late lamented Barbary Coast in San Francisco, which was supposed to be about the wickedest place in the world. Now this may be true—these people ought to know—but with all due respect for the religious and educational lights who make the assertion, the editor of the Herald most emphatically disbelieves it. After a residence of some ten months here, he believes that this is a pretty decent little place. It is to be regretted that some of our good people, in their zeal for better things, should think it necessary to represent present conditions as ten times worse than they are. Vice can not be stamped out any too soon or too effectually, but even when working in the cause of morality one is still under some obligations to respect the truth.

Further, it is, to say the least, an exhibition of obtuseness, poor taste and lack of consideration to drag the name of a young lady into this petition, especially as the "case" referred to is one in which no official action has been taken, and perhaps none will be taken. The mention of the girl's name is entirely uncalled for and it is done in such a way that one not acquainted with the rumor to which reference is made would suppose that the young lady herself, instead of being an alleged near-victim, had herself been guilty of some heinous offense. If the parties who drew up the petition lacked the nerve to use the name of the man in the case, they might at least have had the grace to leave out the name of the girl, even though they could use it with apparent safety to themselves.

A BAD HABIT

(Portland Telegram)
W. R. Grace & Co announce that they plan to extend their New York steamship line to the North Pacific the coming summer, and improve the service when the Panama Canal is open. Their announced ports of call do not include Portland or the Columbia River. Other lines have done likewise. Too many fail in recognition of the commercial significance of this port. This community in sheer self-protection must change the order. It is not opportune to criticize those who have been responsible for conditions of the past. Portland must face the hard, cold fact that the existing order of things is not bringing to this city nearly her share of the new shipping business. Personal, peculiar or clique interests must give way to the overwhelming need of the whole community, until Portland is animated with the proper commercial life, reaps a fair percentage of new business, and cannot be passed unheeded when a new steamship line seeks tonnage in the Pacific Northwest. All this is possible. Broad-gauged community effort will bring the results.

The above, from the Portland Telegram, is significant and in line with a hundred other things that ought to set Portland as well as some other communities to thinking. The Telegram's naive admission that "too many fail in recognition of the commercial significance of this port" is almost pathetic. It is hard for Portland to realize the fact that she is not a seaport at all; that it has only been the absence of any other port from which distribution to the Oregon territory could be made that has enabled her to pose so long as a place where sail and rail meet. With a bad bar at the entrance and a hundred miles of tortuous and shifting river channel to navigate, it is a wonder that deep sea vessels have reached Portland at all. All of Portland's wealth and prestige can not hold her trade when a real seaport with rail connection with the interior is opened to de-sea commerce. The real seaport of Oregon is and will be down in this neck of the woods, and the next few years will see that fact more widely recognized than it is now.

THE OLD WARNING

(Port Orford Tribune)
The sad and tragic death of 14-year old Erna Knorr at Marshfield should sound a warning note to over-indulgent parents of boys as well as girls. Children of tender years should be under the surveillance of their parents at all times, and especially so at night. When a young girl is allowed to run the streets after dark in all kinds of company, it is not surprising to hear that she has gone wrong. And the same may be said of boys. Indulgent and thoughtless parents will let their boys frequent pool rooms and other lounging places, and then stand appalled with horror when they find that their boy has acquired bad habits or committed some crime. More companionship between parent and child, and more interest on the part of the former in selecting good companions and clean associations for their children would do wonders for the morals of the youth of the land. The death of Miss Knorr is shocking in the extreme, but let it be as a beacon light to warn other parents of the pitfalls which lie in the paths of their children which it is their duty to guide the youthful steps around.

MUCH TRUTH IN THIS

(Medford Mail Tribune)
Every time you send away for a mail order department store bargain, you are encouraging white slavery and helping send some soul to hell.

The economies you reap the benefit of, the few cents you may save by your thrift, come out the wages of some fragile girl trying to earn a living, and help send her downwards.

One of the millionaire mail order chiefs asserted at the Illinois investigation now under way that $7.25 a week was sufficient to keep any woman. He divided the expenditures as follows:

Clothes $1, laundry 25 cents, car fare 60 cents, lunches 70 cents, church 10 cents, sickness 60 cents, board and room $4, total $7.25.

This schedule is for bare necessities of life—pretty bare at that. A girl would have to have the thrift of a Russell Sage to exist on this wage. She cannot afford even the luxury of a nickledeon, a sack of peanuts or a package of chewing gum. What happens to her if she is sick for a week or two? That millionaire female slave driver ought to be made to live on $7.25 a week himself—there would be danger to his belly but not his soul—he hasn't any.

Evidence gathered by Lieutenant Governor O'Hara shows that there are 50,000 women and girls working in Chicago for less than $5 a week—and yet these mail order department store Jews say there is no connection between poverty and immorality! They would maintain conditions that make them millions.

The same conditions exist in a less degree, in Portland—in every city where bargain counter economies are secured through mulcting employees. Thousands upon thousands of women underpaid, underfed, surrounded by temptation—is it any wonder immorality, with its tinsel splendor, prospers?

Why spend millions trying to remedy the result when the cause is left severely alone? Why all the efforts to redeem the fallen and at the same time keep factors of immorality in operation? Why persecute the scarlet woman and honor with riches and position the overlord creating her?

The white slave law should be extended to include the slave creator as well as the slave dealer—for the wholesale soul destroyer, even though working indirectly, is as responsible and profits as much from the traffic as the retailer who handles his finished product. Your local merchant perhaps cannot give you as many bargains as the mail order slave-driver and soul smasher, for he has to pay living wages to his employees. He has moreover, to pay taxes and improvements, to help build up the town and indirectly add to your own prosperity—which must rest on the prosperity of the community.

Remember, next time you send away to a mail order house for something you can buy at home, you are not only sending out of the country money that will never come back but contributing your mite to the prosperity of the white slave traffic and the misery of humanity.

One of those moving pictures which tend to give a black eye to the whole moving picture business is advertised to be shown at the Royal. It is a great special feature recording the exploits of the Dalton gang of desperadoes and cutthroats, or as they are affectionately dubbed in the title, "The Dalton Boys." The licensed manufacturer seems to have cut out all such pictures, but the independents still put it over, without regard to the moral effect on the rising generation.

Some one tried to shoot the king of Spain last week. Judging from that monarch's appearance in the Pathe Weekly, the fellow was hunting pretty small game.

The scenic is advertising pictures of the Ohio floods for this week. That shows enterprise. In the ordinary course it would take several months to get them here.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease terms in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. The true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a wash.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.
A simple wash. A compound of Oil of Watermelon, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done. A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief. We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean, soft.
