Circuit Court

The case of F. B. Cameron, charged with bootlegging at South inlet was tried Monday, and the jury returned a verdict of "guilty," after deliberating about two and one-half hours.

The case of Guy Greenleaf, charged with rape on the person of Erna Knorr, was taken up this morning. At noon five jurors had been secured and it did not look as though the taking of testimony would be reached before tomorrow morning.

In the first case taken up against Wm. Edmunds, charging him with forgery, the accused pleaded guilty. He was immediately brought face to face with another indictment charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, and this will go to trial at the conclusion of the Greenleaf case.

The case against Andrew Winkler, charged with assault to commit rape, at Bapdon, is set for trial Thursday morning.

The case against J. S. Barton, indicted on a charge of attempted rape has not been set. It was reported around the court house that a continuance would be asked for.

Other indictments which were returned by the grand jury were: against Clarence Lewis, burglary; Robert Liljeqvist, pointing a gun at another; Jos. Thomas, petit larceny.

The old grand jury was discharged Saturday night, and the new grand jury is now on the job. Its membership is as follows: S. C. Johnson, O. N. Wilson, Geo. D. Mandigo, J. R. Devault, H. W. Dunham, W. C. Rose and J. L. Crosby.

The case of Edward B. Wilson, charged with rape, which was investigated by the grand last week came to an abrupt end, the grand jury finding a solution of the problem in the marriage of the accused to an older sister of the girl whom he was accused of assaulting. It is said that there was considerable doubt as to his guilt in the case, while a child some nine months old was evidence of his former relations with the older girl, and this is considered a happy ending of the affair.

It is understood that other criminal business is likely to be brought before the court and this session is expected to extend to several weeks.

Intense interest is manifested in both the Greenleaf and Barton cases.

Erna, the daughter, two months old, of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Plepp died Friday, and was buried Sunday from the undertaking parlors.

The celebration of the 94th anniversary of the I. O. O. F., held by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs last Saturday evening was a very successful and enjoyable affair.

L. L. Henderson, aged about 20 years, died yesterday at the emergency hospital in Bandon. A sister, arrived from Seattle before his death and his body will be taken there for burial.

The Cleo Madison Stock Company, which has been playing at Eureka, is expected at Marshfield on the next Alliance to open a three-weeks' engagement at the Masonic opera house, and will probably be seen in this part of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. White left here Friday to take the outgoing Breakwater, on their way to North Plains, Washington county, where they will now make their home. The change of residence is made to enable Mrs. White to be near her parents, whose health is poor.

Sewing machine for rent - Anderson's.

Through the courtesy of Manager Getty of the Farmers' Union store, the editor of the Herald has been for several mornings sampling the quality of a certain brand of ground coffee carried at that store, and can say that any one who likes his morning coffee of a delicate and pleasing aroma and flavor can learn something to his advantage by asking Mr. Getty about it.

P. D. Williamson arrived last week from Grants Pass and is looking over the country with a view to moving down here. He has three large teams suitable for railroad work which he thinks of bringing in, but says that the pay offered on the Smith-Powers extension is no inducement. He will visit Bandon and the Bay, on the lookout for any business opening that may appeal to him.

Decoret, any color - Anderson's.

F. B. Cameron, who has been in the city by request of the circuit court, returned to the Bay this morning. He reports that his chicken business at South inlet is panning out in a most satisfactory manner, and the Indian Runner ducks with which he has been experimenting are a bonanza in the matter of eggs, and when they are grain fed their eggs are fully equal to hen's eggs. He will return on May 2nd to see what the court does to him. In the mean time, his attorneys will move for a new trial in his case.

Elastic Floor Finish - Anderson's.

At a meeting of the Port of Coos Bay Commission, Secretary Sengstacken was instructed to request a number of dredge owners to come to the Bay and arrange to submit bids at the next regular meeting, May 12, on the channel dredging. It may be that the Port will be ready to award a contract by that time.

O. E. Hill, who conducts the store at Bridge, was in Marshfield yesterday on business. He reports that they are expecting a good season in that vicinity, many new homesteaders having entered on tracts in that vicinity. His partner, C. S. Murphy, who has been operating a linotype for The Times returned to Bridge with him.—Coos Bay Times.

Bancroft Briefs

The recent fine weather has made the orchards in this vicinity look quite promising.

H. L. Shaner, of Rock Creek, has moved his family into camp on the road and is ready to begin work.

We had our usual Sunday rain on the 27th, but it was the type of April showers which bring May flowers.

H. B. Price, of Montague, Cal., was visiting his cousin, C. D. Price, and family at Bancroft a few days last week, going out by way of West Fork.

Little Miss Mahalah Kurtz entertained several of her friends at her birthday party Saturday.

The farmers are hustling to get their crops planted, and their wives are planting garden seeds, setting out plants and searching for succulent greens.

When garden sass is in its prime
Our thoughts turn lightly into rhyme.

Sing a song of Rhubarb fourteen inches high,
Half a dozen stalks of it baked in a pie.
When the pie was eaten we all pronounced it good;
Very dainty, appetizing, wholesome kind of food.

Our first we had last Sunday for company, you know,
Today we had another one because we like it so.
Oregon holds the Palm, they say, for Prunes and Spuds and Rye;
Why not a reputation for good old Rhubarb Pie?

Whatever be our fortune, wherever we may roam,
The thoughts of Mother's cooking make us remember home.
The Pumpkin at Thanksgiving or Mince at Christmas time
Cannot compare in my mind with Rhubarb in its prime.

Considerable road work has been done, but the late rains have made the roads very wet and muddy.

Misses Ethel and Stella Taylor and little sister, Lucile, were visiting at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Phibbs of Johnson's mill, Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Finley and children, of Rink creek, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hammock, of upper Fishtrap.

Rev. W. Owens, of the U. B. Church, held services at the Willowdale church in the morning, and at the Excelsior school house in the evening of Sunday, April 27.

"Uncle" Frank Miller and daughter, Grace, were shopping in Coquille last Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Robison was a Coquille shopper Saturday.

Miss Belva Pinkston, of the Fishtrap school, was the winner of the 3rd prize in the late "Yellowstone Park" contest, given by R. S. Knowlton. The prize was a very beautiful box of stationery. Accept our congratulations, Miss Belva.

Mrs. Geo. Hemminger and children visited Coquille Friday.

Miss Belva Pinkston and Ethel Taylor were in Coquille Saturday.

"Aunt" Priscilla Robison visited friends of upper Fishtrap a few days last week.

Mr. Hammock and Ernest are busy hauling shingles, the shingle mill being kept busy filling the orders which continue to pour in.

Some of the ladies met at the home of Mrs. Inez Pinkston last Wednesday and completed a nice worsted quilt for a surprise gift for the pastor of the U. B. Church, and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Owens. The quilt was presented to them the following day, when the Ladies' Aid of Johnson's mill met at their house for the business and devotional meeting. Cakes and sandwiches, also salad, were served.

Little George Robison has invented himself an auto for the purpose of conveying his one can of cream to the river semi-weekly. The invention is a sort of one-horse, two by four, contrivance in the form of a sled. On a whole, the vehicle is too small to accommodate both man and can, so "little" George, in order to avoid being in danger of getting forever lost in a mudhole, is compelled to take refuge on the animal's back.

NUFF SAID.

Coquille's Youngest Business Men

Dot Medlock and Wade Garten, two youthful business men of the town, have gone into the strenuous life on their own hook. Under the names of "Dot and Shrimp," they have opened the "Coney Island Cafe" in one of John Golden's buildings on First street, exploiting the quick lunch field as a specialty. They opened up last Friday and reported yesterday that a good start had been made on the road to Rockefeller town. They had paid back the capital they borrowed of their dads for the initial investment and had money in the bank. Good boys.
