MERELY MENTIONED

Watches repaired in an up-to-date manner by W. Frank Petett. No delay.

Mrs. Peter Scott went to Marshfield Saturday to bring over their household goods.

The Hunkidori Line of Boy Scout Shoes is now on display at the Farmers' Union Store.

Mr. Graves' class of the M. E. Church South will have a party next Friday evening at the residence of R. S. Knowlton.

Folding Baby Carts—Anderson's.
The Epworth League of the M. E. Church South held a very enjoyable social last Friday evening at the home of J. S. Lawrence.

It is given out that the Coquille Valley Telephone Co. is working out of its difficulties and will soon be in excellent condition financially.

SETTINGS—from pure Bred Rhode Island Reds. $1.00 for 15, 100 per cent fertile. Leave orders at Skeels Grocery.

Rehearsals for an entertainment for the benefit for the public library commence this week under direction of Harry Ennis, who recently made a success of a similar entertainment at Bandon.

Fly Killers—Anderson's.
The Western Union is figuring on building a six-wire line from Eugene to Marshfield, following the line of the Willamette Pacific, and placing offices in all the Coos county towns.

Boilers—Anderson's.
Automobile service, any time T. A. Walker, call either phone. Stand Farmers & Merchants Bank corner.

Marshall Way, who is now employed in the railroad office at Marshfield, has been spending a day or two with his family in this city. He contemplates moving over there later.

The new Gorst & King aeroplane, which is being used for exhibition flights at Newport Beach, Cal., will soon be brought to the bay. The machine lately made a successful trip with four passengers.

There have been a number of inquiries at the Farmers' Union store for household help. Any one wishing employment by the day, week or month, please leave her name there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lamb have returned from an absence of three months in the southern part of California, having greatly enjoyed the trip. They came up on the Field and report a rough passage.

After a careful perusal of the Tribune's Curry county items republished in this issue, it would seem that there should be an unprecedented demand for next week's issue of the Tribune.

Recorded Lawrence wishes it understood that, in spite of the greatly improved accommodations supplied to the city's lodgers in the new city hall, there has been no increase in the charges. A good clean bed is furnished at a minimum expense of $5.00, payable in the morning.

Sad Irons—Anderson's.

Spring formally opened last Saturday with the advent of the barefooted boy. He was seen running down First street at 10:30 a. m.

My Optical work is giving satisfaction. Give me a trial. W. Frank Petett.

Charles Harlocker, who is a student at the North Pacific College of Pharmacy at Portland, is at home, on a vacation visit to his parents Judge and Mrs. Harlocker.

T. J. Thrift and James Watson will go to the I. O. O. F. grand lodge at Medford May 21, as representatives of Coquille Lodge No. 53.

The Gravel Ford cheese factory has commenced the season's operations.

Sunday was a fine spring day, and all who could get out of town seemed to be doing so. Many went to Bandon, and First street looked like a bamboo grove in the morning, from the number of people going fishing. So far as heard from the supply of fish in the river was not greatly depleted.

Willamette Tents—Anderson's.
Mr. Theo. Bergmann, manufacturer of the Celebrated Bergmann Shoe, will leave Portland on April 28th on a business trip through the East. May 22nd he will sail for Europe on the Str. America to visit German and French tanneries from which he buys his imported stock. Mrs. Bergmann will accompany him on his trip.

The Five Hundred Club met Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Evland, at the Tuttle House and a very jolly evening was passed, as was evidenced by the hum of lively conversation and laughter which emanated from the big dining room until a late hour. The prizes were won by Geo. Lorenz and Mrs. Kellogg, while D. D. Pierce and Mrs. Hal Pierce captured the consolations.

Sprinkling Pots—Anderson's.
J. H. Magill, of Eden Valley, was in the city last week on business. His visits to the county seat are rare, as Eden valley is some ways from the great highways of commerce. No wagon road has yet penetrated to that region and the horseback style of transportation is in vogue. Mr. Magill says, however, that the valley is well named, as you realize—after you get there. Some half dozen families are settled in the valley and are happy and prosperous. Mining is one of the principal industries, and while no one has dug out a fortune, it is found to be profitable.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L. Poole, 2217 California St., Omaha, writes: "My daughter had a very severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time." Refuse substitutes. Furhman's Pharmacy.

Socialist Ticket
The Socialists got together last Friday night and nominated the following ticket for city offices: For councilmen, J. E. Quick, S. L. Cary and J. C. Noel; for recorder, J. H. James. It is understood that they will not make a very strenuous campaign, but wanted to see two tickets in the field to make it interesting.

Land-Clearing Machine
W. T. Hendryx and Leslie Irwin were on the river last week, from North Bend. Mr. Irwin had his eye out for a good location for a machine shop, while Mr. Hendryx wanted to see if there were any stumps over here that stood in need of destruction. He is the inventor and principal owner of a machine for clearing land, which he claims, with apparent good reason, is the best thing yet. The photographs he shows represent a donkey engine, a blowing machine like a fan-mill and a system of galvanized iron pipes, given flexibility by sections of rubber hose, the whole thing looking something like the last word in devil-fishes. By setting fire to a stump and directing a strong draught of air upon the fire an intense heat is generated and the most hardened old sinner of a stump is reduced to ashes in a few hours—not only above ground but as far into the ground as it is desired to follow the roots. It looks as though this machine would furnish a cheap and effective way of clearing logged-off lands, of which there are thousands of acres in Coos county capable of bearing agricultural products.

Yellow Mixing Bowls—Anderson's.
The Bandon creamery is selling two pounds of its product for 60 cents.

The class of 1913 of the Bandon high school consists of nine pupils, six boys and three girls.—Western World.

The Western World says: Dr. W. A. Greek, of the Umbrella Hospital, has sold his property in Woodland addition to P. J. McGinty and taken the trail for Shoshone, Idaho, where he intends to drive his stakes.

The Marshfield officials are making persistent efforts to stop the excessive speeding of autos in that town. This is a complaint with which our Coquille chaffeurs do not seem to be afflicted, as yet, and the Herald will suggest that they are entitled credit for keeping within bounds without being forced to do so.

Judge Wolverton, in the federal court, decided in favor of the government in the famous suit by which it was sought to recover some 2,300,000 acres of land from the Southern Pacific. This is encouraging to Coos county, where much of this land lies. The case will be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court, and the final decision will be awaited with the greatest interest.

Justin O'Brien, who was hurt at the Randolph mill last Saturday by a falling timber, is reported as recovering at the Bandon hospital.

Recorder—H. F. Morrison returned Wednesday evening from Nevada where he had been for a couple of months looking into mining conditions but says he does not think the prospects very good for any great find in that particular section.

Circuit Court
The jury in the case of Guy Greenleaf, after being out all night, brought in a verdict of attempt to commit rape. It is understood that this was a compromise. The jury was nearly unanimous for the more serious charge of rape, but found that the only alternative to a hung jury was to agree on the lesser verdict. Judge Coke imposed the sentence fixed by statute, of one to ten years in the penitentiary, whereas the penalty for the crime charged is three to twenty years. In sentencing the prisoner, Judge Coke gave him a severe scolding and also gave the jury a strong rebuke.

When Greenleaf walked out of the court room after getting his sentence he had lost all his jaunty air, and the look in his eyes showed that his punishment had at last begun.

It is reported that there is much indignation in Marshfield over the failure of the jury to find the prisoners guilty as charged.

In the Bandon case against Winkler, the half-breed charged with attempted rape of a nine year old girl, the jury returned a verdict of guilty and the same sentence was imposed as in the Greenleaf case.

The case against J. S. Barton, on a similar charge, was set for trial today.

Myrtle Point Pointers
A Dodge, who spent the winter in Montana, visiting a married daughter, returned last week, glad to get back to Oregon.

Dr. J. L. Masson was called to Bandon on business the first of the week.

T. Guerin is having three houses erected on Sixth and Harris streets. His brother-in-law, Warren Deyoe, is up from Oakland, Cal., building them.

A card from F. B. Tiehenor, of Seattle, announces the arrival at their home on April 17th, of another daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Tiehenor are well known in this community having lived here for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Demert spent part of last week at their ranch near Indian Prairie.

Wm. Neal, the man who was accidentally shot while out hunting last week, is doing well. His wife, who

"Jim" Ferry Passes Away

James L. Ferry, of Marshfield, died last Friday morning in that city at the age of 72. Mr. Ferry was one of the early settlers of Marshfield, and for many years was the landlord of the Blanco hotel, which he established in company with Steve Bailey in the early seventies.

Of late years he has taken life easy, being the owner of much valuable income-producing property, as well as farming and timber lands. He was a Civil war veteran. Mr. Ferry had a very wide circle of acquaintances and a numberless host of friends, especially among the old timers. He was buried Sunday and a number of his old friends went over from the River to attend the funeral.

Proposed Charter Changes
A meeting will be held next Friday evening for the purpose of talking over the proposed changes in the city charter and having them explained to the voters by those who are familiar with the matters.

There are three measures to be voted on. No. 300-301 fixes the limit of indebtedness at five per cent of the assessed valuation of the property within the corporate limits of the city. The limit fixed by the present charter is $15,000 flat. It is argued that the change is made necessary and proper by the growth of the town; that a five per cent limit now is really lower than was the $15,000 limit when that was adopted, for the reason that the valuation has more than doubled. The assessment at this time is $560,294. As the town grows and the assessed valuation increases, the limit is automatically raised but will bear the same relation to the city's ability to pay.

No. 302-3 has relation to the powers of the council in the matter of streets and sewers. In the pamphlet published 35 pages are occupied by the provisions of this measure, and to give a review of all this would require more space than is at the disposal of the Herald. In the old charter, as published, seven pages are devoted to this subject. This has been amended twice, to the extent of about 16 pages more. Measuring by this rule of thumb, it would appear that the power of the council had been greatly increased, but it is understood that the new proposed enactment is mainly in the way of formulation and clarifying the charter on these points, making it clearer and more specific as to the powers of the council and the methods to be pursued in using those powers.

The third proposal, No. 304-5 simply provides the method for making nominations for city offices, providing for a caucus such as was held recently, to nominate candidates whose names shall be printed on the official ballot, and also providing that any organized body of 25 legal voters may make nominations and these names shall also be printed on the official ballot. This method is to prevail only until the population of the city shall be sufficient to permit of nomination under the direct primary law of the state.

Fishtrap and Vicinity
The farmers are very busy, plowing and seeding and otherwise taking advantage of the beautiful sunny weather.

The Misses Maud and Addie Newton of near Johnson's mill, visited at the home of W. Albee, and other friends of upper Fishtrap several days last week.

Geo. Henninger came very near losing a valuable young work horse a few days ago. The animal got into the creek during the night, and was not discovered until the following morning, when Mr. Henninger, with the assistance of a number of the neighbors, rescued the animal in time to save its life.

Quite a number of the people of Fishtrap were Coquille visitors Saturday. Among whom we may mention: "Uncle" Frank Miller and wife and daughter, Grace, Mr. Fennel, Frank Robison, Mrs. Tenn Robison and little son, Wendel, Mrs. Edna Robison, Belva Pinkston and Lula Matthews.

Miss Hazel Radabaugh, who is attending school at Coquille, visited her home over Sunday.

Rev. W. B. Smith preached at the M. E. Church South, at this place, both morning and evening of last Sunday.

The little friends of Flossie Radabaugh planned a very pleasant surprise on the latter last Thursday, May 1, that being her 10th birthday anniversary. Games were indulged in, followed by a nice lunch, consisting of salad, pie, cake and lemonade, also taffy. As the afternoon began to draw to a close, the tired little people bid each other farewell, and returned to their homes, feeling that their surprise had been a decided success, and greatly enjoyed by all. Those present were: Misses Delia Robison, Mary, Pearl and Lucile Taylor, Fernie and Velma Williams, Lena Pinkston, Tressa Clinton, Flossie Radabaugh, Ruby Meadows; Wallace Miller, Wallace, Milton and Chester Henninger, Adrain and Norman Halter, Lester Clinton, Gordon Nichols, Orris Miller, Herman and Rueben Radabaugh; also Mrs. Geo. Henninger, Mrs. Nile Miller, Miss Belva Pinkston and Mr. and Mrs. Radabaugh.

Miss Ivy Williams has been engaged to teach a six months' term of school in the lower Fishtrap school district, beginning May 5. She comes highly recommended as a teacher, and we bespeak a good school.

A taffy pulling and play party was held at the home of Mr. Taylor Saturday night, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Now, Bancroft, don't get vain, and think you are the only place that can boast of "Garden Saws."
