C. A. Jordan, mayor of Eastside, was in the city yesterday on business. He was suffering from a sore hand, the result of incurring the disapproval of his big Rhode Island Red rooster. The base ball forces have finally got together in an agreement for a five-team league, and the magnates on the bay are now wrestling with the problem of figuring out a schedule for the games, which is a complicated proposition.

Fly Killers—Anderson's.

The Herald is in receipt of the April number of the Klakahma, a monthly magazine published by the students of the Bandon high school. The literary matter is very creditable to the kids, and the advertising end seems to be in a healthy condition. The cover is artistic and the make-up of the magazine is good. A little more care in the prework would reflect more credit on the printer.

North Bend Votes Bonds

(Record)

The people of North Bend at the special election last week voted for a $35,000 bonded indebtedness. There were three propositions. One was that bonds in the sum of $35,000 be issued. Another was a proposition the city council is authorized to levy a tax to meet the bonds as they fall due. The third proposition was one which validates the warrants issued previous to the first of the year in 1910. All of the propositions carried. The vote was 124 in favor of the bond issue and only 15 against it. Eleven women voted.

City Election

The city election held yesterday resulted in the election of the Citizens' ticket by good majorities, though the Socialists' ticket made a good showing on some candidates. All the amendments to the city charter were carried.

The vote in detail was as follows:

FOR COUNCILMEN
C. T. Skeels.....	292
D. D. Pierce.....	192
O. C. Sanford.....	243
J. E. Quick.....	152
J. C. Noel.....	62
S. L. Curry.....	157
FOR RECORDER
J. S. Lawrence.....	300
J. H. James.....	55

AMENDMENTS
300 Yes.....	254
No.....	100
302 Yes.....	202
No.....	134
304 Yes.....	215
No.....	108

Voters to the number of 376 cast their ballots, and 131 of these were women. Mrs. Wm. Candlin was the first lady to deposit her ballot. So far as is apparent this morning no disastrous results to the city have ensued under the new deal of treating the women like human beings.

Council Meets Twice

Two meetings of the city council have been held since our last issue, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of last week.

At the first meeting the City Recorder was instructed to order 3000 feet of 4 inch and 1000 feet of 6 inch Mathison pipe of Crane & Co., for the water works department; also one Muller drilling machine and all necessary material for laying the pipe.

An invitation was received for the mayor and council to attend in a body the Memorial Day exercises to be conducted by the W. R. C.

Ordinance No. 93 was passed, vacating a portion of Burns avenue and the alleys in blocks 7 and 8 in Barrows and Strang's addition. This at the new school site recently purchased by the city.

At the later meeting the matter of the improvement of Second street from its west end to its intersection with the west line of Henry street, with concrete was passed to the next stage by the adoption of the city engineer's plans and specifications and the declaration of the council's intention to make such improvement.

The Barton Case

The jury in the case of J. S. Barton, charged with assault to commit rape on the person of a girl in his employ, brought in a verdict of conviction, after being out about one hour and a half. This verdict came as a surprise to most of those who heard the evidence in the case. The opinion had been freely expressed that the jury would disagree, or that a conviction of assault would be returned, as many were of the opinion that more serious criminal intent had not been fully established by the evidence brought out. Another opinion heard after the verdict was rendered was that Barton had hurt his case by denying all the allegations of the girl, tending to destroy any confidence the jury might have had in his statement. Judge Coke gave 20 days in which to file a motion for a new trial, and such motion will be filed by Mr. Barton's attorneys.

Runaway Automobile

A runaway auto was in town one day last week, having eloped from Marshfield with a young fellow named Fliesburg, who had been sent to bring the car down town but who concluded to take Ed Walrath on a joy ride instead. Having been delayed by going into the ditch at Coaledo, the car was overtaken here by Jay Tower, the owner, and taken back.

Two aviators were arrested in Los Angeles last week for violation of the neutrality laws, it being charged that they were preparing to assist the Mexican rebels with aeroplanes in an endeavor to win $55,000 offered by the rebels for three months' service.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L. Poole, 2217 California St., Omaha, writes: "My daughter had a very severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time." Refuse substitutes. Furhman's Pharmacy.

Rod and Gun Club Meets

The Coquille Rod and Gun Club held its regular annual meeting last evening and elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: A. J. Sherwood, president; M. Hartson, vice-president; Claude Moon, secretary; L. J. Cary, field captain.

A challenge was issued to the Marshfield and Bandon clubs to hold a friendly shoot here on May 29th, for a banquet.

An application has been made to the state fish warden for 20,000 Rainbow trout, to be planted in Brewster valley, in the north fork and in the middle fork of the Coquille. A like number has been asked for by the Marshfield club, and it is proposed that the two clubs join and send Deputy Warden Frank Smith, of the Coos river hatchery, to Portland to receive the fish when they are ready for delivery.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one and much good work was outlined for the club, of which lack of space prevents detailed mention here; but the organization is on the job and alive to the requirements of the game and fish situation in this section and will have an active season.

The Cleo Madison Company

All reports that have come to the Herald regarding the Cleo Madison company, which opens at the Seaside tonight for a two nights' engagement, indicate that this is an extremely good company of players. They made good in Marshfield, which is pretty critical town in theatrical matters. Over their signatures, three well-known citizens of Marshfield say in the Record that this is the "best show troupe that has been in this town for years." The class of paper put out in Coquille indicates to the initiated that the company is of the better kind, and the portraits of the leading lady and other members of the troupe show them to be of a high class. The plays they have announced are also of the better kind, and all indications point to the fact that the people now have one of their rare chances to see some really good work by a traveling company. The present intention of the company is to stay in the county indefinitely, playing the circuit and being in this city every Tuesday and Wednesday evening. The suggestion of the Herald is that if the people of Coquille care for good entertainment of this kind they turn out and give these people an encouraging reception.

Store Changes Hands

A deal which has been pending for some weeks is now released for publication, and the Herald is permitted to state that F. C. True has purchased the grocery store of P. E. Drane, to take possession about May 15. Mr. True is well known here, having had charge of F. S. Dow's warehouse in this city. Recently, he has been the storekeeper for the Prosper Mill Co. and he thoroughly understands the grocery business. Being a good business man of very pleasant address, he will undoubtedly make a good success in this store, which has enjoyed a fine trade under Mr. Drane's popular management. W. E. Cleg-horn's pleasant countenance will still be found behind the counter.

Needs Fixing

A First street business man wishes the Herald to respectfully inform the mayor and council that there is a large oblong hole through the pavement in front of the Coquille Hardware store, made by the city water department when fixing a pipe some time ago, and that this is dangerous; that passing automobiles throw the loose boards which have been placed over the hole, in all directions, that it ought to be fixed at once, before a bad accident occurs. The Herald will suggest that some of the cinders which lie several inches deep in places on First street be taken and tamped into the hole, thus killing two birds with one stone.

Good Trout Pond

James McGrath, from the vicinity of Remote, told the Record that there is a small lake in the country south of Remote which covers about three acres, in which trout are very abundant. Homesteaders in that district can catch all the fish they want every day, and the trout run in schools along the small streams entering the lake. The lake is supposed to have been caused by a slide and is very deep in places.
