Evert Nymanover, the expert piano tuner who makes periodical visits to this section, was in town Saturday on his way to Marshfield. Since he called at the Herald office a year ago, Mr. Nymanover has traveled 10,000 miles, going as far north as Alaska and as far south as Mexico. This is going some, in one year. Nor does the U. S. treasury or any rich business concern stand back of him in paying the bill. He earns his way by work as a tuner. It is easy to travel if others pay the expenses, but Mr. Nymanover's way is a straight process, as anybody will admit. Mr. Nymanover is here in the interest of his profession, being acknowledged a skilled piano expert.

Richard Thrush, who has a farm on Seven Mile near Randolph, was in the city Saturday. He informed the Herald that he expected to sail on the Breakwater from Marshfield today, with Mrs. Thrush and their sons, Manuel R., Luther, Lawrence, Nathaniel and George, on their way to visit their daughter, Mrs. G. C. Franklin, at Pleasant valley, Oregon, expecting to make an extended stay.

This office is in receipt of a number of copies of a pamphlet containing a synopsis of "Oregon Workmen's Compensation Law," together with "Insurance for Workmen," an article by Burton J. Hendrick, reprinted from McClure's Magazine. Eastern casualty companies and others interested in exploiting the workmen in case of injury are endeavoring to invoke the referendum on this law. Any one interested in knowing just what its provisions are is welcome to a copy of the pamphlet, as long as they last.

Helming Making Record

Cavour Helming, of Marshfield who is under parole in this county for offenses committed on the Bay, got as far as Portland on his way to visit relatives. Then he fell into the hands of the police and was placed with some other minor offenders who were not confined in the jail proper. Now the papers bring news of his escape, together with a companion, by prying apart the wire netting over a window and following a ledge around to another part of the building, from whence they escaped to the street.

Not a Knocker

Tenn Robison, of Fishtrap, was a caller Saturday. Mr. Robison settled on Fishtrap with his parents and family forty years ago, and has been a resident of this valley continuously ever since. He was eighteen years old when he came here and is a young man yet, which shows that California hasn't got the only glorious climate on earth. He has watched Fishtrap come out of the wild state into a prosperous and pleasant little community, and has seen this town grow from a very small beginning. Incidentally, he does not believe that Coquille is the worst place in the world—by a long shot.

BASEBALL SEASON NOW OPEN IN COOS COUNTY

Bandon Defeats Marshfield and North Bend Cleans up Other Two Teams

The baseball season opened Sunday at Marshfield and North Bend in a way that indicated plenty of interest in the game on the part of the public. All the passenger cars belonging to the C. B. R. & E. R. R. & N. Co. were utilized to transport the crowd from this side, together with a caboose, and then there was standing room only.

At North Bend, the home team defeated Coquille by a score of 2 to 1, in a cracking good game, and cleaned up Myrtle Point 7 to 4.

At Marshfield the visitors from Bandon did things to the home team to the tune of 6 to 1.

The attendance was large in both places, and a perfect day made it very pleasant for everybody.

A new schedule had been prepared on this side and was submitted Sunday to the consideration of the Bay towns. So far as heard from it was satisfactory to those who saw it. It reduces the length of the league season, providing for eighteen games instead of twenty-four, giving time at the end of the season for playing off ties or for special games. It also seems to make a fairer distribution of the games, each team having nine Sunday games at home. If adopted, it is probable that the games scheduled for July 6th, will be postponed till the end of the season, on account of coming so soon after the Fourth. The proposed new schedule is as follows:

May 25th
At Marshfield—Bandon.
At North Bend—Coquille and Myrtle Point.

June 1st
At Bandon—North Bend.
At Coquille—Myrtle Point and Marshfield.

June 8th

At Marshfield—North Bend.

June 15th
At Bandon—Coquille and Myrtle Point.
At North Bend—Marshfield, two games.

June 22nd

June 29th

July 6th

July 13th

At Coquille—Myrtle Point.

July 20th

School Notes

A considerable number of the patrons of the school visited the main building last Friday afternoon and inspected the work of the various grades which was on exhibition at that time. Comments on the general excellence of the work shown were heard on every side. It is to be regretted that a larger number of patrons missed this opportunity to see something of what is being done in the school. Nothing so much encourages the pupils in their work as an interest in the result of their labors as shown in exhibitions and programs. The exhibition of work at the North building will begin at 1:30 next Wednesday afternoon. A progressive program will be given.

The grades in the main building assembled in the high school rooms at 1:10 last Friday afternoon and listened to an address by Mrs. Rutledge who represented the Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Rutledge told many interesting incidents of war time and also gave some of the experiences of those who stayed at home while their fathers and brothers went to the front to fight for their country. She made a strong appeal to the patriotic sentiments of the pupils.

Bridge Cannery Man Here

Peter Axe, of Bridge, was in town today on one of his rare visits. Mr. Axe is proprietor of the cannery at Bridge and handles the tomato, peach and pear crop of that vicinity. He reports that the prospects are good in those crops for this season. He expects to handle 100 boxes of tomatoes every other day, about 1000 boxes of peaches and several hundred of pears. Nosler & Norton of this city will handle his tomatoes this season, and in this crop there is never a failure in his territory, as they are raised by irrigation. Mr. Axe is anxious to see the road put in first-class shape, so that he will dare to put his output up in glass instead of tin without risk of two breakage in hauling to Myrtle Point.
