

The Coquille Herald

PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY

Entered as second class matter May 8, 1906, at the post office at Coquille, Oregon, under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

P. C. LEVAR, Lessee.

Devoted to the material and social upbuilding of the Coquille Valley particularly and of Coos County generally. Subscription, $1.50 per year in advance.

Phone Main 354.

Isn't it about time for some one to build a house? This bungalow proposition is getting fierce.

The Second amendment to the constitution of the United States provides that: "The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." Doesn't it look as though our new revolver law rather frazzled this right?

Married men leaving the state of Washington now are liable to be looked upon with suspicion. That state has recently passed a law providing that men who fail to support their wives may be sentenced to hard labor and their wages paid to their wives.

A swell looking New York dame complains because, "When an attractively stylishly dressed woman has to walk any distance without an escort she is a target for the stares of all the men she passes," and if she were to walk down the street once and the man didn't stare at her she would probably be as mad as a wet hen.

An effort is being made to have Pathe Freres send a man to take moving pictures of the Fourth of July celebration at Coos Bay on the Fourth, to be shown in Pathe's Weekly. This would be a great advertising scheme, and if it is successful an effort should be made to have some pictures taken on the Coquille river while the operator is here.

Be careful what you say about caterpillars. Last week the Herald remarked: "It is said that caterpillars are very numerous this year." That was true and would seem void of offense. But next day, while the editor was sweating over some more copy, he looked down and found a caterpillar crawling hurriedly up his knee. Shortly afterward another one appeared in the same place, and in less than half an hour still a third made its presence known on the rough back of the editorial neck—all evidently coming to stop the paper. That would appear to be the limit.

If the Bylesby people become owners of the electric light system here the people will have reason to congratulate themselves on an improved service. As a matter of fact, the city ought to own the light and power system, as it owns the water works, but if it is to remain in the hands of a public service corporation it is to be hoped that the Bylesby people will get it. Wherever they are in business they give a good service, and they really seem to believe in treating the public right. The American people are said to be the most patient and long suffering guys on earth, and the record here would seem to bear out the assertion.

The Terminal Railway has let the contract for finishing its line to the northern limits of Marshfield, a distance of 4500 feet from the point at which work was stopped. Hugh and Fred McLain get the job at a price stated to be $26,250. Just what this means is a mystery which many people on Coos Bay would be glad to fathom. It is understood that all negotiations with the Southern Pacific for the purchase of the terminal road are off. The S. P. has no franchise in Marshfield, and the Terminal Company has no franchise in North Bend. Their franchises butt against each other at the narrow strip of country land which comes down to the water front between the corporate limits of the two towns. The terminal track will be of no particular value for a street car line if they are not allowed to enter North Bend. In fact, it is not a street car line that they are building, but a solid, substantial track, capable of sustaining the heaviest steam traffic. Why do they poke it down to a point between a high bluff on one side and the bay on the other, about half way between the centers of the two towns. Is there a secret understanding with the Southern Pacific, or does the Terminal Company figure that the S. P. will come to its milk and use the terminal tracks to get into Marshfield, anyway? Or, is there another road just below the horizon, that will use the terminal tracks for access to a long strip of fine water frontage in the northern limits of Marshfield? If J. W. will convey this information to the public exclusively through the Herald, he will confer a great favor—on the Herald.

NOTES ON THE PHOTOPLAYS

Of Interest to Those Who Patronize the Movies

The Royal has made a change in its picture service, and instead of four reels nightly is showing three reels from a different selection of independent makers, the films being also newer.

John Bunny is said to be doing a Marathon every morning before breakfast, to reduce his weight, and the Vitagraph Company are becoming alarmed.

What has "Happened to Mary?" Maurice Costello vies with President Wilson in the matter of having children named after him.

The Garfield Theater, in New York, publicly thanks Marc McDermott, Miriam Nesbitt, Yale Boss, Chas. N. Seay and Wm. Wadsworth, all of the Edison company, for taking part in a benefit for the Ohio sufferers.

Mabel Trunnelle confesses to a horror of poverty and hates "ragged" parts. Mabel is a level-headed little woman.

The Vitagraph Company is at work on animal pictures, and Nero, the lion was much peeved lately by being obliged to play in the same cast with Hughie Mack without getting a bite of him.

Yale Boss, the Vitagraph boy, has organized the boys in the vicinity of the Edison studio into a team, and he takes his ball glove to bed with him.

The "Alkali Ike" doll is on the market, and now Alkali's fame is established.

CURRY COUNTY COLLINGS

(From the Port Orford Tribune)

A miner coming in from Middle Elk last week met a bear in turning a crook in the trail, and got a fine picture of it before bruin recovered from his surprise and took to flight.

The strawberry crop in this section is very late, the main picking having just commenced to ripen. Although belated, the yield promises to be up to the standard.

Capt. Geo. Forty returned from Coos Bay Saturday with a 26 foot gasoline launch which he will use this summer in hunting sea lion on the Cape Blanco and Rogue river reefs.

Dr. Dix, of Marshfield, accompanied by two gentlemen whose names we did not learn, came down by auto Sunday and spent a few hours looking over the fine timber on Hubbard's creek.

(Gold Beach Globe)

Mrs. Moore gradually grows worse each day. Her friends entertain no hopes for her recovery.

The Randolph has been pulled up high on the beach, where it was found not to be damaged to any great extent. She will be repaired by Stafford and Bauer and hauled across the beach into the river.

The last few days have changed the appearance of things in this locality wonderfully. Three or four power fish boats from Coquille and Coos Bay have arrived, a salting plant aboard a scow with fishing gear and all necessary equipment was towed down from the Bay by Captain Swing with the Tramp Thursday. The Wedderburn Trading Co. started three drift nets the first of the season all of which made good catches the first day. The cannery started up Saturday afternoon and canned a few salmon; just enough to try out the new canning machine.

The Tillamook Pamphlet

The Herald has received from the Southern Pacific a copy of the pamphlet advertising Tillamook county. It is issued under the cooperative publicity plan of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon and is a handsome piece of work, giving a full description of the county and its varied resources of timber, dairying, fishing, etc., amply illustrated with good half tone views and an accurate map of Tillamook county. With railroad connection, Tillamook is now in a position to get her share of the immigration from the East and will undoubtedly have a very rapid growth from now on.

Myrtle Point Pointers

Milton Reese started for Arcata, Humboldt county, California, on Thursday last, to see his mother, who is not expected to live.

Garland Dungan, one of Marshfield's prominent business men, was transacting business here between trains on Wednesday last.

Ed Carter took Max Dement and family to Marshfield on Monday in his fine new auto. They returned as far as Coquille Tuesday, where they visited with Mrs. Dement's sister, Mrs. Strang, going through to their ranch on Wednesday.

B. Perry died of typhoid fever on Tuesday and was buried at Norway Wednesday. His mother of Gardner, came up, and a large delegation of his fellow workmen from Aasen's camp, were in attendance at the funeral. He leaves a wife and three little children.

Mrs. Ida Baker, who has been for the past two months at Mrs. Chas. Adams, left Tuesday for California. Mrs. Daisy Hart and daughter, Annie, went to Portersville, Cal., to stay with her sister, Mrs. Dickey, an indefinite time.

Miss Hazel Lee went to Bandon on Saturday for a visit of a week or two, going down with her father, M. Lee, who has been upon business.

Wm. Barden and L. Travers, of Marshfield, were visitors here the last of the week. OBSERVER.

Leave your call with Big Ben, he'll call you on the dot at any time you say.

And if you roll over and try "just-one-more-nap," he'll repeat his call 30 seconds later and keep on calling until you're wide awake.

Big Ben stands 7 inches tall—He's heavy, massive, handsome. He's got a great, big dial you can easily read in the dim morning light, a sunny deep toned voice you'll hear distinctly on your sleepiest mornings.

Fishtrap and Vicinity

Mrs. J. H. Lamb, of this place, was taken suddenly ill Saturday night. The doctor was called to attend her, and at last reports she was improving.

Rev. W. B. Smith held services at the Methodist church both morning and evening of last Sabbath.

Quite a number of young people took dinner with the young folks of the Taylor home of this place last Sunday. Among the number being Miss Grace Miller, Merle and Hazel Radabaugh, Myrtle Northrup, "Corbett" Robison, Lloyd Irving, Walter Krantz, Roy Taylor, Bob Miller, Chester, Lloyd and Floyd Krantz. Mr. Krantz also took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Nile Miller visited at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Finley, of Rink creek, a couple of days last returning home Saturday.

Mr. Brewer, the late Arago merchant and postmaster, is contemplating a trip to California soon. He recently sold his store at Arago. We are very sorry to lose Mr. Brewer and family from our community, as they have resided at Arago for the past two or three years, and have gained many warm friends.

Rev. W. Owens, of the U. B. church, is expected home in a day or two from attendance at the annual conference, of which we made mention in a recent issue. He has been returned to this and the Johnson mill charge as pastor for another year.

Several of the people of Fishtrap, were in Coquille Saturday. Among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hammack and son, Emmett, John Stone and James Hammack, also Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Radabaugh. All having driven to town; the latter having gone down to consult the doctor concerning the injuries received in the accident which befell her in attempting to board the steamer Myrtle, of which we made mention last week. She is still suffering a great deal from the injuries sustained.

The roads are now in fine condition, which is greatly appreciated, and a great many autos are now seen on our highways.

East Fork Items

Mr. and Mrs. Leatherman have gone to Brownsville to visit relatives, and may buy a place there and not return to Coos. Their neighbors and friends hope that they will conclude to make the East Fork their home.

Roy Leatherman and Selata Howa, who were recently married, have returned from their Portland wedding trip and have made their home on the Leatherman place.

Inez T. Easton, one of the Bandon teachers, is at home for vacation days.

E. N. Harry is rushing the road work on the old Coos Bay wagon road. This road is the short and scenic route to Roseburg.

Heller's sawmill on Cherry creek burned Thursday night. The lumber in the yard was saved.

Mrs. Easton, who is teaching at Parkersburg, made a home visit.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, in and for the County of Coos Gesina Massip, Plaintiff, vs. Ernest Massip, Defendant.

SUIT IN EQUITY FOR DIVORCE

To Ernest Massip, the above named defendant. In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby notified that you are required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, in which Gesina Massip is plaintiff and you are defendant, within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, within six weeks from the 17th day of June, 1913, the same being the date of the first publication of this summons, and if you fail to appear and answer on or before the 29th day of July, 1913, the same being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, judgment for want thereof will be taken against you and plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in her complaint, a succinct statement of which is as follows:

1. That the marriage contract now and heretofore existing between plaintiff and defendant be dissolved and held for naught.

2. That the plaintiff be allowed to resume her maiden name, Gesina Hansen.

3. That plaintiff have judgment against the defendant for her costs and disbursements herein.

Service of this summons is made by publication in pursuance of an order by the Honorable L. G. Harris, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Second Judicial District, Coos County, dated the 10th day of June, 1913, directing the publication thereof in The Coquille Herald, a newspaper printed and published at Coquille, Coos County, Oregon, once a week for a period of six consecutive weeks, commencing on the 17th day of June, 1913.
