Greatest Good Roads Meeting at Marshfield

The Good Roads meeting held at Laird. Marshfield last Friday night was by far the largest and most enthusiastic gathering of its kind yet held in this county. People came from all tance of over forty miles, there were sixty automobilee in the parade, and three bands, including the excellent Coquille organization, furnished music to stir the blood.

The streets were crowded from the Chandler hotel to the Odd Fellows hall while the parade was passing and for an hour afterwards when the meeting convened at the hall. Mayor Straw called the meeting to order and introduced Mayor Morrison of this city as prime mover in the good roads movement. The
