THE NEWS IN TABLOID FORM

Condensed for the Quick Assimilation of Busy Men and Women—General Round-Up of a Wide cope

The Northern Pacific has arranged to build a new depot at Hoquiam, Washington.

The American consul at Caracas reports that the Castro uprising in Venezuela is a failure.

Rev. Elmer E. Count, superintendent of Methodist missions for Bulgaria, has issued an appeal for help.

Work has been resumed on a limited scale in three of the Michigan copper mines, including the Calumet.

It is given out that General Felix Diaz, who is on his way from Mexico to Japan, will meet no official welcome there.

Chicago police women are to wear slashed skirts and patch pockets, according to a recent announcement from that city.

Reports fromeward, Alaska, say that every cannery in that section is now running at capacity and has been compelled to refuse fish.

Clarke county, Wash., voted nearly 7 to 1 in favor of the issue of $500,000 bonds for the construction of a bridge across the Columbia.

It is announced at Raymond, Wash., that work will begin this week on the Willapa harbor branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul system.

It is announced from St. Paul that the Chicago Great Western railway has put into effect the two cent passenger fare on all its lines in Minnesota.

U. S. Mail out of San Francisco for Honolulu and the Orient is now carried on a Japanese liner, they having underbid the American steamship company.

After devoting almost all his life to a study of cancer, Professor Edwin Goldman, professor of surgery at Freiburg university, is dead from cancer of the liver.

Legal trouble over the will of the late Nelson Bennett, pioneer railroad contractor, has been adjusted at Tacoma, Wash., his daughters having given up their interest to the widow.

The inquiry conducted by the coroner into the East Brookside mine explosion August 2, in Pennsylvania, which cost 20 lives, has shed no light upon the mysterious horror.

Governor Sulzer, of New York, is facing impeachment proceedings, being charged with making false returns of his election expenses and with having speculated in Wall street while governor.

The Minnesota state railroad commission at St. Paul has refused to act upon an application made by shippers for an increase in freight rates, until the Inter-state Commerce Commission has considered the request.

High court functionaries at Vienna are reported as saying that the wife of Prince Stanislaus Sulkowski, formerly Marie Freese of Los Angeles, will not be received at the Austrian court, the prince having married beneath his rank.

Leprosy is a curable malady, according to representations made to the medical congress at London by Major E. R. Rost of the Indian Medical service. Major Rost asserted that four cases positively had been cured in India by the new vaccine method, and that 30 cases, now under treatment, were progressing favorably.

N. C. Maris Talks to Boys and Girls of Coming Fair

I hope you are all having a good time during vacation, playing some, working some, and reading some; and not forgetting to prepare your exhibits for the school fairs. Had you thought about how soon they will be here? Only a few short weeks now, and the time will pass quickly. Procrastination is said to be the thief of time. Do not let it be the thief of those prizes you have no doubt had your heart set on winning. It is so easy to waste time and get slack in our habits, especially during vacation. Everyone ought really to set apart certain hours each day for play, for work, and for reading. You will be surprised how much more you will accomplish.

If you are raising garden stuff to exhibit, do not neglect it. The weeds will keep growing these hot days just the same, and if you do not keep them hoed or pulled up they will rob your pumpkins or potatoes of the moisture they need, and they will not grow to be prize winners. If you are raising poultry do not fail to feed the fowls regularly and well handle them carefully so they will be gentle and in good condition.

If you expect to exhibit sewing and win that sewing machine, gold watch, or some other attractive prize, you have no time to lose. If you would win in the bread making contest, you cannot practice too much. Do not be afraid of soiling your hands with the dough. It is no disgrace to work, and horny hands are honorable.

Do not overlook the fact that the railroads will carry your exhibits to and from the State Fair free of charge. The children of no other state are so generously treated by the railroads, so far as we know. Do not fail to read the rules and regulations in the State Fair Prize List which tells you what you have to do in order to get the free rate.

Some boy or girl who reads this may say "I have to work hard all the time and never have a vacation, and do not have time to prepare anything for the fair." I hope very few of you are entirely deprived of a vacation, but as to having to work hard, you really ought to be thankful for that. Hard work does not hurt you if you do not chafe and worry about it. Our best and greatest people have had to work hard. Surmounting difficulties brings out the best that is in you, and develops strength of character.

The best exhibits at the school fairs last year were generally made by children who had to work hard. Losers do not win prizes at fairs nor in the battles of life.

Perhaps you are not yet acquainted with Mr. Churchill, our new State Superintendent, but you will have an opportunity to meet him some day, I hope. I am sure you will like him; he says he is very much interested in the boys and girls of Oregon, and especially in seeing them learn the practical things of life. He is anxious to see definite results from the Industrial Department. It is up to you to show such results, boys and girls, and I am sure you will do your part.

Very truly yours,
N. C. Maris,
Field Worker Industrial Fairs.

Smith Must Pay for Land

Twenty thousand acres of land in Coos county has been ordered forfeited to the United States from the C. A. Smith company in a decree signed by Federal Judge Robert S. Bean. The forfeiture was made as a settlement under the "innocent purchaser" statute, passed by Congress to protect the corporations and individuals who had purchased large tracts of timbered lands from the Oregon and California railroad company of the government grant.

Hearing in this case was held in May. Like all the other innocent purchaser cases that have been settled, the defendant timber company had purchased the land in one large block from the railroad company and more was paid for it than $2.50 an acre. Under the terms of the

FOR PORT OF BANDON

Some Reasons Why Citizens of Coquille Should Vote for River Improvement, Contributed to the Herald

There are some in Coquille who would vote against the Port because they think Bandon would get the most benefit, and there are some in Bandon who would vote against the Port because they think it would open the river to Coquille, thus placing Coquille at the head of navigation, and thereby giving Coquille the most benefit.

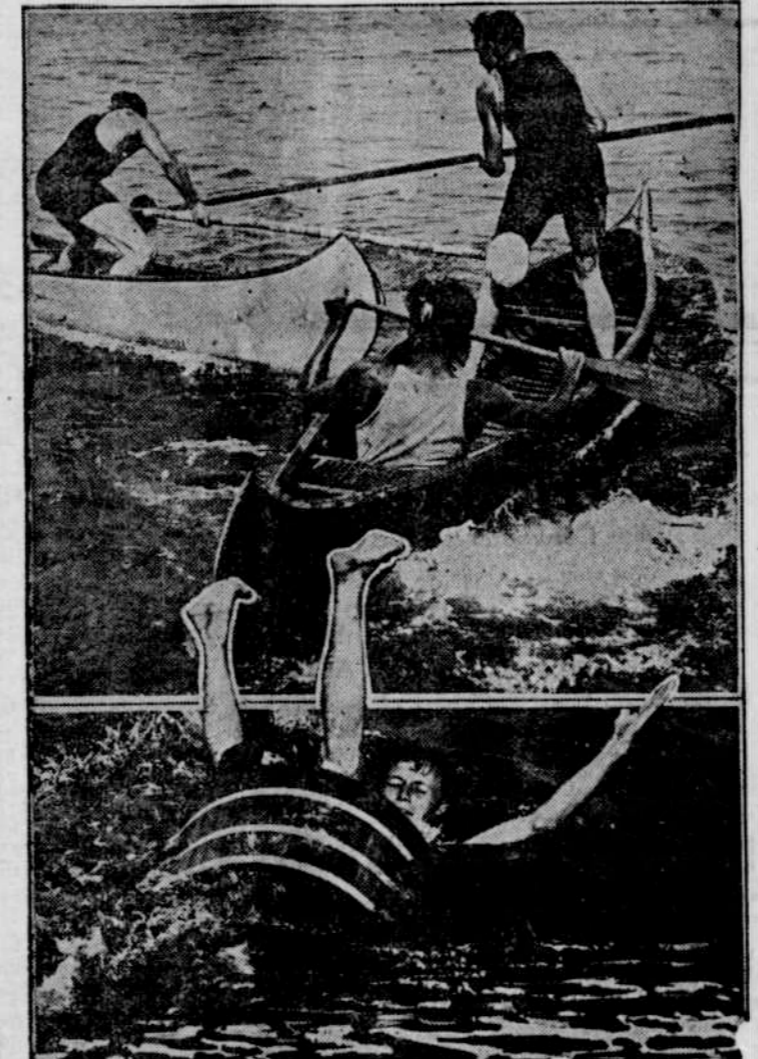

There are those who would vote against the local roads projects, because of some local fear that some one community may reap a greater benefit than some other, but as between Bandon and Coquille there should be no sectional jealousy. The interests of the two towns and of the whole Valley are identical. What makes for the prosperity of the one means the prosperity of the other.

A deep river to Coquille means commercial prosperity for Coquille and it also means big shipments through Bandon; it means that Coquille can save $1.00 a ton freight on merchandise coming by ocean on goods shipped through direct to our wharves and $1.00 a thousand less on lumber for shipment means the difference between success for our mills or failure. The difference in freight rate alone would have saved our saw-mill from going bankrupt. Geographically, socially and politically Bandon and Coquille are bound together and we should work together. When the big fight to transfer the County Seat from Coquille to Coos Bay occurs, we must depend upon the solid Bandon vote to carry the election and keep the Court House in Coquille, and anything that we can do to up-build Bandon and the Port and to make many votes on the Coquille River should be done.

We should not hesitate, but knowing that the welfare of Bandon means strength to our own right hand, let us put our own shoulders to the wheel, and work for the Port, good roads and bigger, more closely united cities on the Lower Coquille River.

New and the Old in Aquatic Sports During Summer Term

Photos by American Press Association.

HERE you see illustrated the new and the old in aquatic sports. Canoe tilting is one of the recent games which has gained favor as a summer pastime. It's full of excitement for those who participate and for those who watch. There's a thrill in almost every move. The canoe is the easiest thing in the world to tip over, but in this game a noticeable feature is the fact that it's hard to overturn the canoe unless the tilting is done in the right way. The contestants wear bathing suits, and so a ducking does them no harm. If they are overturned they scramble back, and the contest is on again. Tub racing is one of the oldest but funnest of water games. One of the side splitting spills is here illustrated.

Single Tax Again

Alfred D. Cridge writes as follows to the San Francisco Star: Some of the Single Taxers are talking of submitting a straight single tax measure for 1914 and putting it on the ballot early this fall. Meanwhile an exemption measure is being circulated for signatures and donations being solicited for its support. The measure simply exempts $1500 of personal property and improvements to each person. One lady doing volunteer work asked 108 to sign the petition and all but eight did so. Two refused on the ground that it was too small an amount, and two because it was too large an amount, two because it was "single tax" and two because it was not!

In a few days a League to push its submission will be formally set up and things will begin to hum a little louder in old Oregon. Al-

State Board Issues Hunters' Suggestions

The State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners have recommended the following suggestions to be used by sportsmen in the field in order to prevent accidental shooting and relieve persons who are injured or lost in the forests and mountains:

To prevent accidental shooting, every hunter should wear a red cap, shirt or sweater, or some other article of clothing that can easily be identified from game birds and animals, especially when hunting deer in the forests. Since there is a contrast between red and the color of any bird or animal that is being hunted, this color will serve the best purpose.

Hunters should never shoot at moving brush, leaves or grass with the expectation of killing game. It is dangerous, for the moving object is likely to be a man. Never shoot at any object until you are absolutely positive of identification.

To prepare for an emergency, every hunter and angler should carry in his pocket a piece of candle and matches in a water-tight match safe. In case of becoming lost or injured, one can readily start a camp fire.

Lost or distress signal: When a man is lost or injured and needs help, a signal by shooting should be given. This signal will be the firing of a gun once, with an intermission of ten seconds before the second shot, then an intermission of sixty seconds, then a third shot. If no answer is received, this signal should be repeated after an intermission of five minutes. The answer to this signal would be a single shot from the rescuing party followed by one recognition shot from the lost man.

Care should be taken to get the time between shots as accurately as possible. Hunters should keep in mind this signal and avoid, if possible, giving it when shooting at game. In the absence of a watch, the time can be judged with sufficient accuracy by counting ten between the first and second shots and sixty between the second and third shots. Whenever a shot is heard in the mountains, a hunter should count ten to determine whether it is a signal of distress or not.

The person who is lost should, after hearing an answer to his signal, remain at the place where he gave the signal until the rescuing party arrives, otherwise he may take the opposite direction and not be found at all.

William L. Finley,
State Game Warden.

The following is a condensed table of signals to be used by all sportsmen:

Begin with 1 shot.
Wait 10 seconds—Repeat 1 shot.
Wait 60 seconds—Repeat 1 shot.
Answer to signal by rescuing party, 1 shot.

Recognition of answer by lost man, 1 shot.
Wait five minutes before giving the second signal.

More people for Oregon—is the slogan of the Commercial Clubs and progressive citizens of our great state. Long before this modern war cry was raised The Mt. Angel Magazine, published by the Benedictine Fathers of Mt. Angel, Oregon, has worked for the development of Oregon. By its Special Editions and being circulated all over the Union and Europe it was instrumental of bringing to the state thousands of enterprising citizens. Another Special Edition is now in preparation. The courtesy of free publicity is extended to Coquille: Mr. Robinson or Mr. Stansell, field editors will call and make all arrangements.

ready the "chief organ of plunder and plutocracy" has unlimbered its guns upon it, and there is some fear expressed that perhaps it will get votes enough to carry. If the measure is placed on the ballot it will be by the efforts of Oregon citizens and very few of them at that.
