Mayor Joseph Fern, of Honolulu. is quoted as follows on the order recently made by Mayor Albee, of Portland, forbidding slit skirts and other alleged indecent styles of state to notify all dealers that these women's clothing on the streets of books would be sold for 15 cents the metropolis:

"I have heard that Mayor of of the children in your vicinity Portland has officers arrest wahines have paid a higher price than this (women) with peeky clothes, but I they should take the books back don't think he is the same Mayor I they should take the books back know. (ex-Mayor Rushlight was Mayor Fern's gnest last winter) I K. Gill Company, agents for the think he is making mistake. Men say-I don't like that dress. Women say-What do you know about wahine dress. Therefore it is better to say nothing about it at all, and then there is no pilikia. That is what I believe.

"This year wahines wear few clothes; maybe next year wahine cover up from head to foot. Nobody can tell. Some look better the way they dress this year, and maybe some would look better if they were inst. Mr. Macleay states that the all covered up. I say nothing for I know better.

The island mayor evidently has a level head. He knows that it is no use to protest about women's clothes, and therefore he keeps his head shut. In this country we all know the same thing, but we have to shoot off our mouths anyway. When it comes to the matter of clothes, no man living can pretend to know why the feminine mind works as it does. It is pretty well understood that the extreme styles are introduced by the scarlet women of Paris, yet undoubtedly respectable women of this country ape the styles, no matter what it involves.
