

The Coquille Herald

PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY

Entered as second class matter May 8, 1905, at the post office at Coquille, Oregon, under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

P. C. LEVAR, Lessee.

Devoted to the material and social upbuilding of the Coquille Valley particularly and of Coos County generally. Subscription, $1.50 per year in advance.

Phone Main 354.

Tomorrow is the day set by the County Court for action on the Good Roads petitions. The number of names on the petitions—over four times the required percentage—leaves no doubt that the election will be called. The only question seems to be whether a special election will be called at the earliest possible date, or whether the question will be submitted at the regular primary election. It is stated that to hold a special election will cost about $2000 and some take the view that this money can be saved by submitting the question at the primaries. This is an argument that appeals strongly to every opponent of the bond issue, but it is a safe bet that nearly every friend of getting action at the earliest possible moment. If anything is to be accomplished this year, there is not a week to spare. A delay of two months would inevitably put off all practical work until next season, and in this matter, wherein the expenditure of nearly half a million dollars is involved, the saving of a year's delay would seem to be poor policy.

Governor West announces that he will support George Brown for attorney general. Even with this handicap it is probable that Mr. Brown will make a good showing.

Herald Force Grows

Miss Ada C. Hanson arrived last Thursday from Corvallis, to accept a position on the Herald. Miss Hanson has had a number of years' experience in the newspaper business and is familiar with all departments. She will devote part of her time to the news-gathering end of the game, and will not refuse to accept an ad for the paper, or a job for that department. To her efforts during the past few days is due the unusual amount of local reading matter and advertising in this issue.

Woolen Mill to Move—Maybe

Like thunder (or is it lightning?) out of a clear sky, comes the announcement that the woolen mills will be moved from Bandon to Cooson, the new industrial center which it is proposed to establish on the east side of Coos Bay. The information has the appearance of authenticity, but it might be well to take it with some slight mental reservation, until some definite move is made toward moving the mill. It will be remembered that the mill was once moved to North Bend, but it is still at the city by the sea. The whole Cooson proposition has an exceedingly fishy smell in the nostrils of many of our citizens who are inclined toward the Missouri principle of being shewn.

Presentation of Class Memorial

The members of the class of 1913 seem to have the right spirit. They have received from the school influences which they will carry through life, and are unwilling to go out from the school without leaving some mark of their appreciation.

On Monday the class presented to the High School library a ten volume set of the works of Henry George, including a biography of George.

Such a class custom adds to the helpful traditions of a school. It passes down the influence of one class to its successors and supplies an aid to education that the school itself cannot supply.

School Notes

The high school received yesterday a set of Henry George's works in ten handsome volumes. The books were the gift of the class of 1913. Mr. H. O. Anderson made the presentation speech.

Professor Pittman of the Oregon State Normal visited a number of the grades and addressed the high school last Wednesday morning. In the afternoon he addressed the teachers' meeting to which the patrons of the school had also been invited. Both addresses were excellent and were heartily appreciated by the audience.

A number of the sophomore girls were entertained by Verna Phillips last Saturday evening.

Mr. McEwen addressed the eighth grade last Friday afternoon. Mr. McEwen was a member of board of education in Coquille when the present school building was erected. He has always taken a deep interest in educational affairs and is always a welcome visitor at the school.

The basket ball team goes to North Bend for a game next Friday evening. North Bend has defeated both Myrtle Point and Marshfield and a hard game is expected. The next game on the home floor will be played February 20. The opposing team will be North Bend.

Great Picture Coming

Manager Wilson has closed arrangements for the production of the scenic in the near future of George Kleine's great seven-reel photo-drama, "The Last Days of Pompeii." This is a worthy successor to "Quo Vadis," by the same producer, and is really one of the greatest of great pictures. It is nearly a hundred years ago that Lord Bulwer Lytton wrote "The Last Days of Pompeii" and during all that time it has survived as one of the greatest romantic novels in the world of literature, and still holds marvelous fascination for hosts of readers. Mr. George Kleine has just produced a photo drama of the novel which will doubtless live for many hundred years to come and be shown upon the screen ages hence as evidence of the wonderful development of the art of photography in these times. Mr. Kleine's production was made in Italy and visualizes all the most important incidents of the story with vivid realism. The heartrending tale of the great love of the blind flower girl, Nydia, for her handsome master Glaucus, and her terrible suffering when she learns Ione has won his heart are all brought out with telling truth. The tragic results of her efforts to win his love with the use of the love philtre the wicked Arbaces gave, and which destroys Glaucus' reason, is dramatically illustrated. And the final episode showing the awful catastrophe of the eruption of the mighty volcano of Vesuvius with its clouds of ashes, flame and smoke, completely destroying Pompeii, is reproduced with spectacular grandeur that is awe-inspiring and impressive. Taken as a whole it is one of the most remarkable photo dramas that has ever been produced.

Coquille Creamery Company

The annual meeting of the Coquille Creamery Company was held Feb. 5th. The election of a board of directors resulted in the continuation in office of the old board, viz.: W. H. Hull, president; J. P. Clausen, C. E. McCurdy, C. C. Williams and D. K. Perkins. C. T. Skeels was selected as Field Manager and Secretary, to attend to the outside rustling for the company. Reports of the business covering the period from Feb. 1, 1913 to Jan. 1, 1914, showed that the amount received for butter was $81,271.59. Of this amount, $74,549.06 was paid to patrons, and the balance went into operating expense account. The amount of butter manufactured was 268,901 pounds, and the average price paid for butter fat was 35 2-11 cents.

Successful Meetings

This is the second week of the Taylor Lane union revival meetings. The first week saw a growing interest from night to night and when Sunday night was reached, the skating rink, in which the meetings are being held, was completely filled, some having to stand. At the close of this service and at the end of a great sermon on "The People's Savior," the first invitation was given to which 44 persons responded. The message last night on "The Price of a Soul" resulted in nine more deciding for Christ and the church.

Evangelist Taylor's sermons are attracting the attention and interest of all classes, and are regarded by many as being the strongest ever heard here.

The music, under the direction of Clarence Lane is a drawing power, and the services of song beginning each evening at 7:30 are full of inspiration and enthusiasm. The work of the big chorus is growing and a Junior Chorus is a special feature several evenings each week. Mrs. Taylor assists greatly with her cornet, which, with the piano, presided over by Mrs. Hawkins, and four other instruments in the hands of local musicians constitute a very good orchestra. Some of Mrs. Taylor's solos are worthy of special mention, "Face to Face," "Shubert's Serenade," "The May Morning," etc. Paul Taylor's vocal solos, two of which are usually sung at each service are pleasing features. His rendition of Rodney's "Calvary" and "Flee as a Bird" is very effective.

The cottage prayer meetings, four in number, being held daily in the homes of the town are growing in attendance, interest and power. These are held for thirty minutes, beginning at 10 o'clock each day from Tuesday to Friday inclusive. Rev. Taylor's sermon this evening will be on "An Arching Question" Tomorrow evening he will speak on "What Must I do to Be Saved?" The sermon subjects for the remainder of the week are as follows: Thursday, "Ten Reasons Why I Am a Christian;" Friday, "The Sannyasie and the Suicide of Life;" Saturday, "The Backslider's Return."

Port Strikes Uncle Sam

The commissioners of the Port of Bandon will ask the government to make an appropriation of $250,000 for the improvement of this port, that being an amount equal to the bond issue to be put out by the local body. Lengthy resolutions to this effect have been passed and sent to the Oregon delegation in Congress, urging immediate action. It is universally understood that Congress is inclined to look favorably on a request for aid where the local people have shown their faith and their ambition to help themselves by putting up their own money, and it would seem that this port is in a position to present a strong plea for government aid.

East Fork Items

F. W. Courtright cut his foot badly last week while slashing and will be laid up for a few weeks.

M. J. Krantz, who was on the sick list, is able to do light work.

J. A. Mayse is taking subscriptions for a fund with which to buy a stone to mark the grave of Morgan Shook who lost his life when trying to save the Robinson and Baumbaugh boys when the three were drowned in the East fork a short distance above Gravel Ford a week ago last Sunday. Mr. Mayse said there were life preservers and lines on the boat and furniture on the bank which had just been unloaded from the boat, and yet not a single thing was thrown out for those boys, to help them to keep afloat. We never know whether our heads are good for anything until they are tested.

Mr. Mayse said the Robinson boy

Skin Sufferers—Read!

We want all skin sufferers who have suffered for many years the tortures of disease and who have sought medical aid in vain, to read this.

We, as old established druggists of this community, wish to recommend to you a product that has given many relief and may mean the end of your agony. The product is a mild, simple wash, not a patent medicine concocted of various worthless drugs, but a scientific compound made of well known antiseptic ingredients. It is made in the D.D.D. Laboratories of Chicago and is called the D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

This is a doctor's special prescription—one that has effected many wonderful cures.

C. J. FUHRMAN, Druggist

fell overboard when trying to push the boat from the bank, (his father owns the boat) Baumbaugh, who worked on the boat and was a good swimmer, jumped in after him and it is thought that he struck a snag and disabled himself, for he could use only one arm. Morgan Shook, who was also a good swimmer, went in for the two and got a hold of Baumbaugh, but was pulled under by Baumbaugh grabbing him around the neck. Mr. Mayse was not there, but says he was told the last boy to sink the last time was the Robinson boy. The families have the sympathy of the entire community.

A person does not need to have a large amount of brain to know that it is good sense for the county court to submit the bond issue to the voters on the primary election day, instead of making the expense of an extra election day.

CURRY COUNTY CULLINGS

(From the Port Orford Tribune)
After a brief illness, covering the past two weeks, Eugene L. White died last Wednesday night at the home of his brother, Willis T. White, in Port Orford.

Teams are busy hauling the matchwood that was on the wharf, when it went down, to the shingle mill. The salt water has spoiled the wood for match purposes, and it will be cut into shingles.

Contractor C. H. Pearce left Port Orford last Friday enroute to Chetco to examine the site and conditions relative to the building of the $35,000 concrete bridge across that stream authorized by the vote of the people of the county at an election last fall. Mr. Pearce will report to San Francisco contractors who will submit a bid for the erection of the bridge.

Clarence Wright who has been carrying the mail between Port Orford and Langlois for some time, past, has resigned his position, which has been accepted by Bernal Fort. Lorin Fort is the carrier from Port Orford to Cobin, and thus Fort goes north with the mail in the morning and Fort goes south with it. Quite an imposing number to be driving out of a small berg like this.

The many young friends of Marion Zamwalt are pleased to learn that he will be tried out with the San Francisco Seals this spring for a berth as pitcher. Marion earned the first rudiments of the National game in his home town of Port Orford, where he twirled for the local nine, a few years ago. The California papers are giving him a good send off, and here's hoping that he lands a place in the Coast League.
