PETITION WAS WITHDRAWN

Will Come up in April and Election Called in May

The consideration of the Good Roads bonding petition by the county court yesterday, and the discussion in which the Good Roads advocates participated, resulted in the withdrawal of the petition with the understanding that it is to be filed again early in April and that the court will call the election for May 15 the date of the regular primary election. This agreement was arrived at after a full discussion. It seems now to be accepted by both parties as the best solution, and the friction which had arisen between the court and the Good Roads association seems to be happily a thing of the past. The county court made it clear that nothing would be done in the way of incurring expense in the construction of roads, even though the bonds carry, until the money has actually been received. In that case, no work could be done this year even though the election were held in March. Under the circumstances nothing is to be gained by calling a special election at once and the Good Roads advocates have no desire to saddle a useless expense of a couple of thousand dollars on the taxpayers.

A new point brought by Judge Hall was the statement that the route proposed for the Tenmile road was far from being the best and the court was strongly opposed to spending money on that route. Judge Hall asked that this phase of the matter be thoroughly looked into by the Good Roads people themselves and that a better route be selected for submission to the voters. This suggestion was taken kindly by the Good Roads people, and it was agreed that another meeting be set for April 2nd for further consideration of the route. Bandon was represented by Z. B. Zeek, Bridge by A. L. Nosler, Myrtle Point by J. E. Schilling, Claud Giles and J. O. Stemmler; Coquille by A. T. Morrison and G. W. Starr. Marshfield and North Bend were not represented.

The petitions for the calling of an election to vote on the issue of $440,000 of good roads bonds came up before the county court last Wednesday but the final decision of the matter was postponed until yesterday.

The session was a warm one, Mayor A. T. Morrison, president of the Good Roads Association, J. O. Stemmler, of Myrtle Point, and others being present to urge immediate action. The point at issue was whether the election should be called at the earliest lawful date, or whether it should be called for the date of the primaries, May 15th. Messrs. Morrison and Stemmler fought for the earlier date, but the court hung back. Besides the objection of the expense of a special election, the legality of the signatures on the petition was brought up for discussion, and Judge Hall suggested this might be called in question in the case of those who signed the petitions which were circulated in the county away from the county seat. These voters were registered on blanks by the registration officers and signed the petition at once, the blanks afterward being forwarded to the county clerk. It was argued that it might be held that the voters were not registered until their registration was on file in the court house, and that therefore they signed the petition before they were registered. This astounding proposition was given as another reason for delay.

According to figures obtained at the county court room on Wednesday, there were 1169 names on the petition. These have been segregated as follows: registered, 293; not registered when sworn to, 833; not registered, 18; registered under different name, 4; wrong precinct, 12, signed petition twice, 6; no precinct given, 3. The 833 names mentioned seem to have been of those who signed the petition without waiting for their registration blanks to be sent to the county clerk's office. They evidently took the view that when they had been registered by the duly authorized officers of the county they were registered voters; and if this hocus pocus of "when you are registered you ain't registered yet" is to be injected into the good roads game it would seem difficult to tell where we will get off at.

There seems to be some confusion as to the number of names that were required on the petition, and it may be well to straighten this matter out here. The basis is the vote cast for supreme judge at the election next preceding. If the petition contain 25 per cent of this number, then it is mandatory on the court to call the election. But if the petition contain one-twentieth of this number, then the court is authorized to call the election, but doesn't have to. In this case, the vote for supreme judge was 1215. To be mandatory, the petition must contain 304 names. By scaling them down, as indicated above, to 293, the court took the view that it was not mandatory on them to call the election. At the same time, one-twentieth of 1215 is only about 61, and if the petition contained that number of legal names the court was legally authorized to call the election. They found 293, so it is evident that there were more than four times the number necessary. The remaining 870 who signed the petition in good faith certainly represented a good big chunk of public sentiment, if nothing else.

A Gravel Supply

A. Sneed, of Parkersburg, was a business visitor here a short time ago. He reports that the roads in his vicinity are in their usual winter condition and hub-deep with mud in places. Mr. Sneed is a supporter of the Good Roads movement, and he has a suggestion for a source of gravel supply. He says that there is a fine bed of gravel in an old river channel on the McNorton place near Norway which would be available by the construction of a short piece of road on a level grade. As the soil overlying the gravel is only pasture land, he thinks that it could be bought at a low price by the county, and says that in the bottom of the channel is a pay streak of gold that would be well worth saving and would very likely yield enough to pay for the land.

Ninety Thousand for River

W. C. Chase last Friday received from Congressman Hawley a telegram saying that he had been officially informed by the committee on Rivers and Harbors that the bill to be reported this week would carry an appropriation of $90,000 for improvement of Coquille waterway.

The press dispatches of the same date gave the following list of the Oregon items in the bill: Falls of the Willamette River, Oregon City, $80,000; Coos Bay and harbor, $50,000; Nehalem Bay, $116,175; Coquille River, $90,000; Coos River, $3000; Siuslaw River, $5000; Snake River, Oregon, Washington and Idaho, $10,000; Columbia River and tributaries above Celilo Falls to the mouth of the Snake River, $10,000; Columbia River between the foot of the Dalles rapids and the head of Celilo Falls, Oregon and Washington, $425,000; canal at the cascades, Columbia River, $10,000; Willamette, above Portland and Yamhill River, $30,000; Columbia and Lower Willamette Rivers, below Portland, $300,000; mouth of the Columbia River, Oregon and Washington, $1,000,000; Clatskanie River, $1,000; Columbia River bridge, Port and Kettle Falls, $25,000.
