The Coquille Herald
PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY
Entered as second class matter May 8, 1905, at the post office at Coquille, Oregon, under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.
P. C. LEVAR, Lessee.
Devoted to the material and social upbuilding of the Coquille Valley particularly and of Coos County generally. Subscription, $1.50 per year in advance.
Phone Main 354.

And now it is up to those citizens and taxpayers who signed the petition against the granting of the saloon licenses to make a solemn resolve not to do any more howling about taxes. To say that the city cannot pay expenses without the license money is folly, but to think that the gap will fill itself, or that the money will descend in some mysterious way like manna in the wilderness to replenish the treasury, is equally foolish. The money will have to be raised in some other way. The council has already taken the first step toward dealing with the problem. Now let the people stand behind the council and give loyal support. The council has a difficult situation upon its hands. It will do the best it can. At best it will have troubles enough of its own, without fighting half of the community or being subject to unkind criticism of people who probably could not do half so well. So let's cut out the rough stuff for awhile and "stand in."

"TAINTED NEWS"
We have not heard so much lately about "tainted news" as we did a few years ago, but the Herald is having ocular demonstration of the fact that such news is still on tap. If the gentle reader will look on the front page of last issue, he will see about a column under the head of "Weekly Industrial Review." It is sent out to the newspapers of the state by an outfit calling itself the "State Bureau of Industries and Statistics," located in Salem, which is a private institution with which the state has nothing to do. It has taken some time to get a line on this "bureau," but we think we have it sized up now. It is evident that it is a press agent deal supported by those interests which are opposed to the "Oregon System" of legislation and to all those laws, enacted or proposed, which will interfere with the honswoggling of the resources of the state by big corporations, or with the exploiting of labor by the big employers. It is a pretty smooth scheme, too. Any newspaper is glad to receive industrial items such as those, free of charge. The idea is that the editor will let it all go in just as it is written, and in that case about every fourth item is a slap at the Oregon system, the minimum wage and eight-hour law, or what is termed "freak legislation." As an illustration, here are half a dozen paragraphs that were sandwiched in with the lot printed last week. Look them over and you will see the point:

In the primary election just held every candidate for Governor who advocated laws interfering with industries and imposing new burdens on manufacturing was defeated.

Reports made at the meeting of the State grange showed that in many parts of the state young women were thrown out of employment by the operation of the minimum wage and eight hour law.

President Sproule of the S. P. Co said there must be a change in public sentiment before railroad construction will begin, and the factories and mills can operate and employ labor.

Nineteen counties in Oregon will lose $460,398 taxes this year by suits attacking the O. & C. land grant. Litigation has already cost the state nearly as much and the lands are withdrawn from settlement.

All programs of radical legislation seem to be off in Oregon, and the recent primaries served a warning to politicians to let industries and business alone in future. The defeat of all candidates with fads and fancies in the recent primaries indicates that Oregon is coming into a more sane condition.

Schoolma'ams Depart

The Misses Mabel Hansen, Pearl Guinn, Wanda Hibarger and Josie Abern, who have been teachers in the Coquille schools during the year just closed left on their vacation Friday. Miss Hansen started for Duluth, Minnesota, where she expects to visit during the summer before she returns to Coquille next fall to resume charge of her department in the high school. Miss Guinn and Miss Hibarger returned to their homes at Des Moines, Iowa and Marshfield, respectively. Miss Abern, who closed a most successful year's work in the eighth grade, went to Ellensburg Washington, where she will attend summer school at the state normal. Miss Abern declined an offer of a position as eighth grade teacher here next year.

Port Gets Money

Judge Coke issued a writ of mandamus Saturday directing the county treasurer to turn over to the Port of Bandon the money that has been raised by taxation for the Port. Treasurer Dimmick had declined to turn over this money while the status of the port was involved in a pending suit, unless directed by the court to do so; this for the protection of himself and his bondsmen. District Attorney Lijqvist made no objection to the turning over of the money, and Judge Coke took the view that, as the Port was a de facto corporation until an adverse court should be reached, there was no reason for withholding the funds.

Minegat Gets Damages

In the case of Peter Minegat against the Simpson Lumber Co., which was tried in the Circuit court last week, the jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $450 damages. The amount sued for was $5000, Minegat claiming that his farm at Tenmile had been injured to that extent by flooding caused by the operations of the Simpsons. It is said that the feeling among the Tenmile people was that, while the Simpsons might be technically liable for damages, yet they had done so much work for the benefit of the Tenmile section and had displayed so much unselfish public spirit that they should not be cinched for an unreasonable amount in this case.

Got $650

Juratsch & Dooley were given a verdict for $650 in their suit against Tower Brothers. It seems that they recently bought the Orpheum theater at Bandon, paying $1000 on the purchase price of $1700. After having the house a couple of months, they were dispossessed by Tower Brothers, who are now again running the theater.

Lecture Thursday Night

Indications point to a very interesting and well attended meeting at the first of a series of lectures prepared by the local promotion committee of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society, which takes place at the W. O. W. hall Thursday night. The dinner is to be served by the ladies of the M. E. Church South at 7 o'clock p. m., and the lecture will be delivered by Dr. Shaw immediately after the dinner, commencing approximately at 7:45, his subject being "The Quick and Bum vs. The Parent, or Who shall instruct our girls and boys in matters of sex?"

The committee has made a canvass of as many as they could see personally, but this does not bar any man, as all who are interested in this subject are urged to come. The dinner is only 35 cents per plate and we understand the ladies are preparing a feast such as only the ladies of Coquille know how to prepare. So if the committee has not been able to see you, just phone to J. J. Stanley, at his office or residence as soon as possible so you may get your name in the pot and come right along.

That Motor Service

The Marshfield city council has passed a resolution freeing the Southern Pacific from the necessity of its franchise which calls for an hourly street car service. This is done at the request of W. F. Miller, who wishes to try out the motor car on the run to Myrtle Point. The company is given a respite of six months, and it is now expected that the long-talked-of service to this valley will be inaugurated within a short time. So note it be.

Pressy Sold Out

A deal was consummated this week whereby M. B. Pressey, a member of the World Publishing Co., has sold out his interests to L. D. Felsheim and Jas. H. Howe, the remaining members. Mr. Felsheim has been editor of the Western World since last December and Mr.

Howe entered the firm a month later. Mr. Pressey will remain in Bandon and intends to again enter into the real estate and insurance business. —Western World.

Cheerful Kicker

Editor Herald:
In the Weekly Oregonian report of the State Grange work, E. E. Blanchard of Josephine county was given a chance to defend the new tax law. I could not see where he put any good look on it. His statement that the main complaint is because the rebate is killed, I do not believe, for everybody knows that the rebate was simply a money graft for the benefit of the man who could pay his taxes on time. Mr. Blanchard says "The new law is fair to everybody." Sure it is "fair" to everybody with money, if you have money don't pay any penalty—just pay your taxes. If you can not squirm enough to pay all your taxes at once just come up to the bull ring penalty of "and then some." If Mr. Blanchard's new law was not in the interest of men with money, why did he not make the penalty the same interest that the banks pay the county for deposits? I do not know the rate the banks pay the county, but I am not simpleton enough to believe that they pay one per cent a month; his explanation is too thin that the law was made to treat everybody alike.
Semi-annual or quarterly payment of taxes, no rebate, no penalty until payments are delinquent, no more tax title grafts, the state to be come owner of all property sued for taxes, the owner to be given a reasonable time to redeem and when the property is sold, to be sold for its full value by the State Land Board; then we would not hear so much about the "court house ring" and the tax title graft would be a thing of the past.
I have never heard a man say that the knocking out of the rebate is not a good thing. I have not read that that was cause for complaint by any one until I read that the State Grange declared for the rebate. Very few people will take the intelligence of the State Grange as a thing to be considered seriously when it comes out and advocates the rebate graft. About two years ago a grange in Washington passed "resolutions" advocating that if a man did not pay taxes he should not vote. That Washington grange and the Oregon State Grange seems to have caught the Rockefeller and Carnegie and Triangle Shirtwaist factory bug that a $ is greater than a man.

small amount of mail going to that place.

Caterpillars have been unusually bad in this section for the past couple of months. It has been a constant fight in some orchards to keep them off the fruit trees, and in some instances young orchards have been nearly ruined by this pest. Worms have also been bothering vegetables to an unusual extent.

D. H. Mullen, a timber cruiser from Portland who has been engaged many years in doing government work, and G. C. Daggs of San Francisco, are spending several days in town looking over the homestead possibilities of this section. Should they succeed in finding locations they will bring several families here to settle.
