THE OLD CRY OF "WOLF"
The Herald is in receipt of a communication from a so-called "tax reform" association which claims to have been formed by the farmers of southern Oregon. Its main object at present seems to be to fight the $1500 tax exemption. That poor measure seems to be getting it from all sides. It is simply wonderful what large and sympathetic hearts the large land holders and capitalists develop about election time. They are so afraid that the "poor man" and laborer is going to be sent to the poor house by some proposed law. This one is going to ruin all the farmers, wipe all the small communities off the map and break up all the small business men. The association says:

"The $1500 Exemption Bill, as you of course know, is single tax in disguise. It simply exempts personal property and puts the tax on land. That is something the farmers cannot stand. If this measure is allowed to become a law it will not only drive farmers off the land but will prostrate many of our smaller communities whose land cannot stand single tax, break many small businesses and give the state such an incipient case of U'Renitis that she will be years in recovering from it."

There you have it. It is "single tax in disguise," and that settles it. The old "socialistic" bugaboo is losing its terrors since so many new schemes that were branded as socialistic are working out well in practice. Now anything like real tax reform and simplification of the tax system is single tax in disguise. The dire prophecy of disaster given above has a sort of familiar sound, though, don't you think? A few days ago, away back in a drawer, we ran across a bunch of "copy" that had evidently been sent out "free" to the newspapers some years ago when the parcel post bill was pending in congress. It is amusing to read it now, in the light of later developments. For instance, take the following:

"If the Local Rural Parcels Post bill is passed, the small town will be eliminated and the farmer will be materially injured; the value of his property, which depends upon his proximity to a town and accessibility to the railroad, will be decreased. All the money will go to the large cities, which are not interested in the welfare of the local community, and our whole present system of development will be changed for the worse."

The people were not fooled very much by the cry of "wolf" in the case of the parcel post. Will they be fooled this time?
Some day the real wolf may appear, and then these great admonishers may wish that they had retained some shred of influence.

All local merchants will agree that it is the proper thing to "Patronize Home Industry." The man who sends his good money to Chicago for goods that he could find in the local stores is considered more or less of a traitor to the community, and we country editors are expected to devote considerable space to pointing out to him the error of his ways. But why doesn't the local merchant take larger doses of his own medicine? How many grocery stores in Coquille carry soap made in Coos county? How many sell brooms made in Coos county? How many de-lers push the product of Coos county cigar factories? In how many of the places where candy is sold do you find the product of the candy factories of Coos county? It is a poor rule that doesn't work both ways, and what is sauce for the "ultimate consumer" ought to be sauce for the dealer. What?

So far as reported, the Portland business men who recently looked over the county made no large contracts for the purchase of Coos county products.

NOTES ON THE PHOTOPLAYS

Of Interest to Those Who Patronize the Movies

Now we wish to recommend to every lover of a good picture the Vitagraph three-reel feature, "Lost in Mid Ocean," which will be shown at the Scenic next Saturday night. We do not know the story or the actors who will appear in this picture, but we do know that the Vitagraph company actually sunk a large steamer in making the film, and they would not have gone to that expense in getting out anything but a first-class production.

One of the "Dolly of the Dailies" series will be shown at the Scenic tonight, and Pauline will be here Thursday evening.

Silo Expert Coming

Prof. W. A. Barr, silo expert of the Oregon Agricultural College, will soon visit this county in connection with the extension work of the O. A. C. County Agriculturist Smith is arranging for four meetings to be held at the principal points in the county, and has arranged his dates as follows: Marshfield Sept. 18; Coquille Sept. 17; Lower Coquille Sept. 16; Myrtle Point Sept. 15. All the farmers and dairymen should make it a point to attend these meetings and get the benefit of the expert knowledge of a specialist on silos.

Return From Crater Lake

The Hartson-Lamb party returned Thursday from their auto trip to Crater Lake. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Hartson and son Avis and Mrs. Fred Sigle, the Hartson auto brought Miss Cary, who accompanied them from Medford. With Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamb were Mrs. L. A. Liljeqvist, R. A. Johnson and Irving Lamb. The E. E. Johnson party, who left here with the others, turned back from Medford and arrived some days ago.

The party went out by the Middle fork route, visited Roseburg, thence to Medford and out to Crater lake, 86 miles east. On the return they went to Grants Pass, then to Crescent City and up the coast. They were gone from home eight days and covered about 1000 miles. Both had Studebaker cars and Mr. Hartson is enthusiastic over their performance. He says: "If you want to make a long trip with certainty and without trouble take a Studebaker." He says that his only trouble was the giving out of two tires which he had from last year, while Lamb never had occasion to open his tool box.

He says that the road from Medford to the lake is good, but the dust was actually over the running board of the auto, the travel having been immense. Over 10,000 people have registered at Crater Lake this season. That little operation costs 75 cents, meals are one dollar and other things in proportion. But the place is well worth visiting. As for roads the Middle fork road is a boulevard compared with some they passed over, especially between Grants Pass and Crescent City. One hill on this route rises 5500 feet in six miles.

Some Corn Exhibited Other Products Wanted

County Agriculturalist J. L. Smith has on display in the window of his office here five stalks of corn from one hill which looks as though corn could be raised in Coos county. The tallest stalk is eleven feet in height and the five average ten feet. Each stalk but one bears an ear of corn, and one stalk has two. They come from the farm of C. M. and O. H. Aasen near Arago. The variety is the Yellow Dent, Minnesota No. 13, and Mr. Smith says this is proving the best variety for ensilage in this part of the county. Minnesota No. 23 and Minnesota No. 13 are being given a thorough try-out this season. No 23 is early in maturing but is smaller. It is better adapted to a short season and also gives better results near the coast where the ocean breeze is strong. But in the vicinity of Coquille or farther inland the No. 13 is considerably the better.

This has been a poor season for corn and some very poor crops are seen. This is due in many cases, however, to poor seed. Mr. Smith urges the farmers to pay more attention to their seed and to test it in all cases.

Mr. Smith is anxious to have the farmers bring in exhibits to his office here, so that they may be placed on display where they will be seen by others and especially by visitors who are interested in the agricultural possibilities of the Coquille valley.

As an inducement, he offers to the farmer who will bring in the best five stalks of corn a year's subscription to Hoard's Dairyman. He also wants a showing in the line of dairy stock, and for the photograph of the best calf raised this season on skim milk he will give one year's subscription to Hoard's Dairyman.

As Mr. Smith's office is not open at all times, the Herald will volunteer to take care of any products brought in during his absence and turn them over to him upon his return. He especially invites the farmers to make use of a number of the best standard books on agriculture, which are kept in his office for their benefit.

Orville Dodge Passes

Orville Dodge, a pioneer, and one of the best known residents of the Coquille valley, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Carter, at Myrtle Point Sunday morning of last week, at the age of 74. Mr. Dodge had been a resident of this section since the early days and for many years was one of the leading citizens. He had practiced law and dipped into journalism, having been at one time owner of the Bulletin, now the Sentinel. He had some literary ability and at one time published a "Pioneer History of Coos and Curry Counties," which contains much valuable matter touching the early settlement of this section of the state. Of late years he had been interested in the Salmon mountain mines and did much to call attention to the mineral resources of the vicinity. The funeral was held at Myrtle Point Sunday afternoon.

East Fork Items

A family from Ashland, who have been enjoying a trip from home by the way of California, Curry and Coos counties, went out over the Coos Bay wagon road Saturday. The team is one of the best spans of mares that I ever saw, he refused $750 for them three years ago and could get $600 for them now.

John Clinton and others went out last week with a bunch of sheep for Taylor Dement. The week before several head of pure blood Holstein and Durham bulls were brought in for Mr. Dement.

Mr. Thomas bossed a job of plank laying which is probably one of the best pieces of work that was ever done in road dist No. 12.

Miss Margaret Nicolai of Portland is the teacher in Dist. No. 32. Term of six months commenced Sept. 7.

Mr. Crowley, of Curry county, father of Pearly and David, has been visiting his sons.

Frank Snow and family of McKinley have returned from California.

The rain Sunday gave a refreshing dampness to the air.

Coll Harry got the contracts for hauling the road lumber from Ed Abernethy's mill.

Take time to read this. It is a good thing to know. $100 Reward, $100
