HAWLEY AND McLAIN

Congressman Hawley and Hugh McLain have been having a short round of newspaper controversy in the Portland Journal. McLain, in a boost for Senator Chamberlain had made the statement that the rivers and harbors bill as it passed the House carried an appropriation of $40,000 for Coos Bay and that Chamberlain had increased it to $50,000 in the Senate. Hawley replies that he had an item of $50,000 in the bill as it passed the House and was reported to the Senate from the committee on commerce without any change in this item whatsoever.

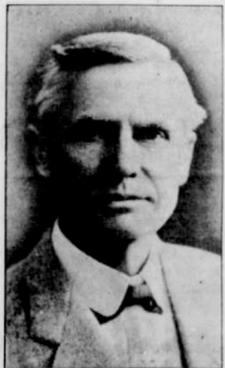

McLain had also stated that the bill for the closing of Mill slough was put through by Chamberlain without assistance from Hawley. Hawley quotes the Congressional Record to prove that he called up the bill when it was finally passed. Now McLain comes back with the statement that the figures "$40,000 and $50,000" were a misprint; that he meant $50,000 and $60,000. He calls attention to a resolution introduced by Chamberlain raising the amount from $50,000 to $60,000 showing that Hawley's statement was an evasion of the truth.

Regarding Mill slough, McLain shows that on account of Hawley's absence the bill was introduced by Lafferty, who was a member of the committee to which it was referred and that all that Hawley had to do with it was to call it from committee by unanimous consent, when it passed without opposition.

Then McLain fires a parting shot by bringing up the matter of Hawley's holding the position of banker in the W. O. W. at a salary of $1200 a year, and asking if he has followed the example of Congressman Witherspoon of Mississippi, by turning back into the treasury $20 55 a day for every day he has been absent from Washington when he was paid for being there. Considering that Hawley voted for the perpetuation of the mileage graft, which is nothing less than stealing sanctioned by custom alone, he is not likely to answer this question.

W. S. U'Ren Here

W. S. U'Ren, candidate for governor, arrived here yesterday by way of Myrtle Point and will deliver addresses in the Coos county towns. He spoke last night at the city hall, and in spite of the lack of notice had a good audience. A review of his address is impossible here, but it is a fact that he made an excellent impression, and, as one business man remarked this morning, "he made votes." To Mr. U'Ren more than any other one man

FOR CONGRESS

FRED HOLLISTER

For immediate and complete improvement of all Coast harbors, and waterways of Oregon.

For Federal appropriations to be used in building good roads, waterways and harbors. Such appropriations to be commensurate in amount and to be based upon the valuation of government properties in Oregon.

(The government now owns almost one-half of this state and we receive nothing from this property.)

For a radical change in the home-stead laws, favoring the settler and offering inducements to the prospective settler.

(Under the present law it is almost an impossibility to prove up your homestead.)

The building of a merchant marine that will be a world power in commerce.

The opening up for settlement of a large amount of the present forest reserves.

Oregon was made for Oregonians, and its reserves should be utilized for the direct benefit of its people.

It is not generally known in Oregon that the proposed prohibition amendment to the State Constitution is an issue framed by men who have no personal interest in this state.

Who the real politicians are who comprise this group of men is kept a profound secret from the people of Oregon. Their real motive is likewise kept a secret. All that is made public is that they are philanthropists,
