FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Events of Interest Reported For The Herald

(By J. E. Jones.)

NAVY DESERTIONS DECREASING

Too many rules and regulations are apt to cause human beings to rebel, and since the modification in Navy regulations and the creation of better educational facilities, fewer desertions occur in the Navy. A statement by Secretary of the Navy Daniels tends to show that desertions from the service continues to diminish and that an increasing number of recruits are applying for enlistment every day. Mr. Daniels attributes this to modifications in the regulations dealing with deserters and the facilities provided for education in the Navy. The statement shows that in December only three men deserted from the Asiatic fleet, seventy-four from the Atlantic fleet, and that desertions from the Pacific coast in January numbered only thirteen. The average number of monthly desertions in the fiscal year ended June, 1913, was 210, and during the past year 104.

PREFERS THE POLITICAL MORGUE

Many active politicians have tired of the game before, so A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, is no exception to the rule since he has been appointed and accepted the position of Judge on the United States Court of Claims. In his new role he is entitled to wear a robe like that of a clergyman, eschew politics, and live a peaceful, judicial life. Palmer was one of the "original Wilson men," of the "sure enough kind." In Appreciation of his activities President Wilson offered him the post of Secretary of War, but while Palmer was eager for political honors, he could not accept, explaining that he was born a Quaker, and was therefore a man of peace. So Palmer was shoved into the Senatorial race in Pennsylvania, and buried out of sight by the famous Boies Penrose, who was "coming back" at the time. Now Palmer is extinct, or almost so, since he will hereafter be a Judge, and no one will dare talk back to him.

GOING TO HEAR HAWAIIAN LOVE SONGS

More than a hundred Congressmen, with their families, will visit Hawaii this summer, and listen to the plaintive love songs of the Hawaiian singers. While the Filipinos have been making a loud claim for independence the Hawaiian have been "sawing wood," and they are bearing the expense of taking a big part of the Congress on a free junket to Hawaii, ostensibly to "see the country." Europe is taboo, and Panama has played out, so fondly our Americans are turning to the Pacific, and the poetic land where live the peaceful Hawaiian people who look after their own affairs and gather in the sugar crops, and are happy.

A CURE FOR SPRING FEVER

Doctor Wiley is supposed to know everything about human health and whether or not the supposition is warranted or not is of little moment. He has, however, furnished a remedy for spring fever, and here it is, with comment:

"Spring fever is the result of carrying over into the spring the winter's diet," declared the pure food and hygiene expert. "Throw off the diet as you throw off the winter's clothing."

"Eat less heat producing food, such as sugars, starches and oils."

"Eat more tissue building foods, such as lean meat, whole grains, and drink milk."

"But don't eat as much as you did during the winter."

"A good spring diet for breakfast is two soft boiled, poached or fried eggs, whole-wheat mush, whole-corn cakes with sugar-cane syrup, and a glass of milk. Don't eat at noon. For dinner have soup, a roast, potatoes, a second vegetable, salad, dessert and fruit. Don't drink coffee, tea, cocoa, or chocolate."

"Sleep seven hours a day and walk two miles."

RESULTS OF "SWATTING" CAMPAIGNS
The French thought that there were so many mosquitoes at Panama that it would be impossible to build the canal. The Americans thought differently, and after killing off all the insects and skeeters they had the satisfaction of knowing that the death rate instead of being nearly two-thirds among the workmen, had been reduced until the Panama Canal Zone was more healthful than the most favored portions of the United States. And yet there are people who claim that it is useless to "swat the fly," simply from the general belief that there are so many of them that it is a waste of energy. But the proof of the benefits to a community are shown very well at the National Capital. For several years Washington has been "swatting" the fly and correcting various unsanitary conditions, during which time the general health of the city has constantly improved. Last year there were too less cases of typhoid fever than in any previous season, while other diseases were less in evidence.

"The time has just about arrived for the biggest results to be achieved from this long warfare on the fly and filth," says an authority on health matters. "We did not expect to abolish the fly in a season or make the capital a spotless city in so short a time. The 'swatting' habit and the 'clean-up' habit had to be acquired, but all Washingtonians now appear to be impressed with the importance of the work, and I look for the city to enter this summer upon the greatest era of healthfulness it has ever known."

Dr. Murray has pointed out that there were fewer flies in evidence at the close of last season than was the case in any previous year, and the citizens have already commenced to destroy the places that might serve as breeding places for the insects in order that the reduced number of winter survivors will be handicapped in bringing on this season's fly population.

DRESSES FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

For years Paris has been setting the pace in styles, but of late there has been a tendency among Americans to fix their own styles in wearing apparel of all kinds. Simpler and less expensive dressing for high school graduates has been advocated for several years, and now Washington bids fair to fix the fashion for sweet girl graduates. The movement for greater simplicity in graduation gowns has been started by Central High School, and the other four institutions here are expected to follow the example. "Simpler dressing at graduations will be accomplished only through education," said E. L. Thurston, superintendent of the public schools. "It is a thing to be desired, and more persons are constantly coming to a realization of the fact. Public sentiment is being formed in favor of greater simplicity, and I feel certain that this will result in less expensive dressing at the spring graduation exercises."

The girl graduates at McKinley Manual Training School will continue their established custom of designing and making their own commencement costumes. These gowns are not uniform, nor are they simple to an extreme, but the prevailing tendency is toward simplicity. This tendency is becoming noticeably more marked because of the influence exerted by teachers of domestic art.

"THE PRINCE OF PEACE"

Secretary Bryan observed his fifty-fifth birthday by signing one of his peace treaties, that Colonel Roosevelt speaks of as "scraps of paper." The officials of the State Department are very fond of their chief, and they gave him a little informal reception. Mrs. Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, presented a birthday cake, made by herself, on the top of which were fifty-five candles. When Bryan first became a national figure he was the handsome "boy orator of the Plate," but in these Jeffersonian days no one ever speaks of his beauty, though he is still as able as ever to qualify as an orator.

Suggestions for Clean-Up Week, May 4 to 11

1. Take all the ashes and trash from your back yard immediately. Send your rubbish to dumping ground.

2. Suggest to several men with teams that they drive through the alleys with a sign, "Clean-Up Wagon" on their wagons; also a bell calling attention. People are only too glad to pay such a man for hauling their trash away.

3. Burn all rubbish that will burn. Clean your vacant lots and alley-ways.

4. Make your street and parking lot as trim and well kept as possible.

5. Refrain from throwing old paper, banana and orange skins into the street.

6. Plant some grass and flower seeds to make your home beautiful.

7. If your store front is dingy, paint it.

8. If you have unsightly old buggies or traps in your back yard, remove them.

9. If there are unnecessary, unsightly tumbled-down sheds in your back yard, tear them down. They detract from the beauty of your home and the town. Open spaces and fresh air are better.

10. If your walk is an eyesore to those traveling over it, repair it or build a new one.

11. Clean out the alleys back of the business houses at once.

By all means, do your part to help make your town cleaner and more attractive. Signed,

Bill Board Will Help

The Billboard, of Cincinnati, Ohio, is one of the leading theatrical publications in the United States. E. H. Meade recently wrote to the publishers enclosing a circular of his new book "Doubling Back," and here is a copy of the letter he received in return. Theatrical people are awfully wicked folks—but there is a lot of good Christianity in this:

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 20, 1915.
Mr. Ed Meade, Marshfield, Ore.
Dear Mr. Meade:
We have yours of March 12th. We'll do it.

Furthermore we'll give the ball a good push—a half page with reading notice.

Never mind the money. There won't be any bill, why? Well just because you are an old actor and manager.

You may forward us a copy of the book provided you do so WITH BILL.

Here's hoping you sell a hundred thousand.
Very truly yours,
THE BILLBOARD

Speed Records Broken by S. S. Great Northern

San Francisco, Cal., March 27.—From the Columbia river to the Golden Gate in one day was realized yesterday for the first time when the steamer Great Northern made the run in 23 hours and 24 minutes, the fastest time ever recorded between the two ports. She reached her dock here at 3 p. m.

This beats the time of the old barkentine Sam Merritt in 1868, when we were out 15 days from San Francisco to Eureka.

What's in a Dream?

A funny incident connected with the sinking of the Teddy Bear, Aasen's logging boat is related Dick Hancock. He and Jack Cary compose the crew of the Teddy Bear. He states that, on the morning of the sinking of the boat, upon arising from their beds at the Baxter, Cary informed him that he had dreamed that some one was making coffee on the Teddy Bear and the coffee pot boiled over and swamped the boat. Ten minutes afterwards it was discovered that the boat had really sunk. Cary feels something like a medium.

Discussing the Land Question

(A clipping from an old scrap book)
Of course you don't believe in the Single Tax. Crazy scheme, ain't it? Want to rob honest people of their own property, eh? As bad as anarchy, isn't it?

Who owns that land there? Moneybags. Who owns this here? Moneybags. Who owns that down there? Moneybags. Where did he get it? Inherited it from his father. Where did his father get it? From his grandfather. Did his grandfather create it? No he was an early settler and got this town site from the Indians. Did the Indians make it? No, they were here first and naturally owned in. Ah!

Do you believe in a heaven? Of course. How long has heaven been built? Thousands of years.

Do you expect to go there? Yes.
Think you'll find room? Of course.
Have a lot to yourself? Certainly.
Won't the early settlers own the whole place by this time? Of course not.

Why won't they? Because each man is only entitled to what God gives him.

Did God give Moneybags his land? Yes—indirectly.

Did he give him the whole town site? I suppose so.

Won't he give the early settlers in Heaven whole town sites too? Why should he?

Why, they were there first and had a right to all they could take.

You're foolish. God will keep a place for everyone in Heaven. But didn't he keep a place for everyone when he made the Earth? I suppose so.

Then how is it that a few like Moneybags own most of it? Oh, don't bother me. It's no use arguing with an infernal fool.

It takes a fool to pray "Thy will be done on Earth as in Heaven," doesn't it?

S. P. Uses Motion Pictures

All of the communities along the lines of the Southern Pacific will be represented on the motion picture and lecture program being given free to the public at that company's building in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Competent speakers, each day, at intervals of about an hour apart, are explaining to visitors from the East and Middle West, as well as from Coast points, what a land of wealth and opportunity is to be found west of the Rocky Mountains. The motion pictures have been taken mostly for this special purpose and from their variety are of the liveliest interest to both tourist and prospective settler.

No charge whatever is made for admission. The Southern Pacific's object has been only to render a service by exploiting the advantages of the communities it traverses, believing that by encouraging visitors to see the natural advantages of the West, it has sufficiently served its own interest.

Sunset Theater seats 350 persons. The programs start every hour beginning at 11 in the morning and ending at 6 in the evening, when all exposition buildings are closed for the night illuminations.

Besides the theater, the Southern Pacific building houses ticket and validation offices, capable of rendering any service on the exposition grounds that could be given by the largest downtown city ticket office. The visitor may safely have his mail sent to the information bureau to be there held until he calls for it. The bureau will also give him any data he may need both on the fair and on the cities near.

The Trap Vocabulary

To the green trap shooter, "pull, dead" and "pull, lost," is the limit of his vocabulary. But to the old professional it is far different. He would likely describe the result of six shots something in the following manner: I toed the firing line, put the iron to my shoulder, drew a humdinger from the box and killed it. The second saucer was a lazy boy, but I went to sleep and the pigeon nested in the grass. The next mud pie sailed to left quarter but the old pea shooter simply knocked the tuzz off. The fourth dicky bird was smothered as soon as it was hatched. Then a cripple fluttered out and died. Next came a wheeling right hand streaker and I pulverized it.—Rx.

A "Dangerous" Bridge

On a recent trip up Cherry creek a fisherman came to a foot bridge across the creek. The bridge was made out of a small log that sagged in the middle about five feet above the shallow creek. There was a sign on the end of the bridge that read something to this effect: "All persons are warned about crossing this bridge. It is dangerous and broken in the middle and any one doing so does it at their own risk. This is no longer a public road and is not used for travel."

"By Special Road Supervisor Signed—P. M. Haul Louis."

"Doubling Back"

E. H. Meade is receiving the most gratifying results in the way of advance orders for his autobiographical book, "Doubling Back."

The work is being published by Paul Elder & Co., of San Francisco, and it is expected that it will be ready for delivery in June. Several hundred copies have already been subscribed for and orders are coming in by mail almost daily.

Mr. Meade is known all over the coast, and every one who knows him wants a copy of his book.
