L. A. Liljeqvist had a case to argue in the supreme court at Salem last week, but he made arrangements with Attorney General George M. Brown to plead his case for him, and so got out of making the trip. Lil was glad of this, as he had court business to attend to here.

Take the Cadillac auto line when you go to the Bay, and get through in comfort and on time.

Dave Perkins, former Captain of the Coquille, returned Friday from San Francisco, where he went to appeal the verdict of the inspectors, who revoked his license for four months. A decision hadn't been reached when he left for home, but he says things look rather promising for him.

Save money by buying your Garden Seeds in bulk, instead of small packets, at Knowlton's Drug Store.

The last of Tupper Rock at Bandon is being blown out to build the jetty with. The sound of blasts reached this place yesterday morning, on the west wind. Evidently the sounds did not reach the offices of the Marshfield dailies, as there was no news in them of a battle being fought off the coast, yesterday morning.

Dick Lahey and Freudy Medlock arrived last night from Roseburg. They walked in over the Myrtle Point route, and report the road to be "all mud." Dick is a former Coquille boy having lived here several years ago. Freudy's parents reside at this place. He has been working the last eight months at Roseburg.

Reidar Bugge, cashier of the Scandinavian American Bank of Marshfield was in town yesterday, accompanied by his wife.

Large flocks of pigeons are reported to be feeding on the grain fields in the Fish Trap country. There is a law against shooting these pests, when these pests should be an open season on them and a bounty given for each pigeon killed, because there is nothing so destructive to the farmers' grain as these birds are.

Some of the old hunters at this place regret seeing the land across from town cleared of willows as it means the exit of many mallard ducks. When all the land is cleared up and put under cultivation it will mean the passing away of some good hunting grounds. As time and civilization advance soon nothing will be left of the game birds save a memory which will always linger with the old hunters.

Teachers' Examination

The approaching teachers' examination to be held June 30, and July 2 and 3, will be the last under present conditions. The 1913 legislature amended the school laws so as to require that all applicants for teachers certificates must be either graduates of high schools with the full four-year course, and with teachers' training course, or else must have attended a high school at least two years and have supplemented this with not less than six weeks' training at a "standard normal school," or other accredited institution. As this new law takes effect in September, 1915, it does not affect applicants at the coming examinations, but will apply to the next December examinations.

Under the laws adopted by the last legislature the date of the examinations is also changed. In order that teachers who have taught during the year may have a chance for a brief rest and review the date has been changed from the third Wednesday in June to the last Wednesday. The fees for the higher grades of certificates have also been reduced, a change that will not be unwelcome to the teachers. Still another change is to be found in the fact that the examinations hereafter will extend through but three days instead of four as has been the case heretofore.

RAYMOND E. BAKER,
Co. School Supt.

Want Ad Did It

Again we are able to copper the "want ad" stories of the Marshfield dailies. The Herald man's better half recently lost a silver pin. She advertised it in the Herald want ads, and before the week was out a man came walking into the office with it. We can prove this by the editor of our hated rival up the street, who was the man who walked in with the pin, it having been also advertised in his alleged newspaper.

A Log Bungalow

F. B. Campbell has bought of the Coquille Land Co. a five acre tract of land and has commenced the work of clearing it up. He proposes to build a modern bungalow out of the logs on the land, fitting them together nicely and plastering the inside. Mr. Campbell is a carpenter and mechanic, and he will have one of the most unique and artistic residences in this vicinity.

The Silver Lining

From old items of May 21, 1882, republished in the Coos Bay News, the following is clipped:
Mrs. Duniway, finding fault with the Democratic platform, says: "The women of Oregon, who are looking for a plank to stand upon, are not able to find a single spinter." Better that way than to be looking for a plank to sit upon and then find a spinter. No cloud without a silver lining.

Off on Long Tour

Sunday Dr. Frank Pettett, Morris and Otis Wisler, left here in Pettett's Ford car for an extensive tour through Oregon, Washington, Idaho, South and North Dakota and Montana. They expect to be gone at least a year, and intend to winter in California. Dr. Pettett is driving the same car he used in touring California last year. It is one of the first Fords that was in the county and has run many thousand miles. The Herald will keep in touch with the party during their journey.

Mr. Wheeler Returns

Geo. Gillman returned from San Diego, California Saturday with Wm. Wheeler. Mr. Wheeler is quite ill, having lost his speech, and is unable to take care of himself. Mr. Gillman will care for him at his home. Mr. Wheeler recently sold his farm across from this place to J. W. Ofield.

DIED

HUGHES—At Randolph, Oregon, May 28, 1915, Georgiana, wife of Carl Hughes, aged 31 years and 15 days.

The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leneve. She was born in Myrtle Point May 13, 1884 and had lived all her life in this valley, much of the time at Coquille. Besides the bereaved husband, she leaves two children, a boy of ten and a baby girl 14 months old. Her health had never been robust, a fever in her childhood having left her heart in bad condition. The cause of her death was heart failure brought on by some excitement caused by the hunt for a wild animal that had attacked the chicken house late in the evening. Mrs. Hughes became much excited and died in a short time. The funeral took place here Sunday from the undertaking parlors and was very largely attended by friends and relatives of the deceased lady. Rev. C. H. Bryan delivered the funeral sermon and the burial was in charge of the Order of Rebekahs, of which the deceased was a member.
