"The Western Spirit"

An appreciative audience attended the entertainment at the M. E. church last night, when Rev. W. S. Gordon, of Astoria, gave a poetical monologue, giving readings from his charming little book of verse, "The Western Spirit." Rev. Gordon has lived on the Coquille and the Umpqua, and this vicinity figures interestingly in some of his most pleasing poems. Music was furnished by an orchestra of four pieces. The Epworth League, under whose auspices the entertainment was given, were well pleased with the quality and spirit of Rev. Gordon's work, and it is safe to say that every person present thoroughly enjoyed every moment of the evening.

United States Torpedo Boat at Port Orford

The U. S. Torpedo boat destroyer Whipple, dropped into Port Orford harbor Sunday afternoon, and has been lying here since seeking shelter from the heavy Nor'wester that has been blowing.

The Whipple is a four funnel boat and was built in 1901. She has 8500 horsepower engines, and indicated speed of 28 knots and carries a complement of 75 men. She has recently been on duty along the coast of lower California and Mexico, but is now enroute from San Francisco to go on patrol duty in Alaskan waters.

The boat has been attracting much attention here, and many of her crew, taking advantage of shore leave, have given a lively and picturesque look to our town. Monday afternoon Capt. Prior and several of his officers went out by auto and visited the Radio station at Cape Blanco. The boat will proceed on her way as soon as the wind lulls.—Port Orford Tribune.

Elks Have Big Time

Three river steamers and innumerable autos conveyed the vast crowds from the Bay, Myrtle Point, Powers and Coquille to Bandon Sunday to participate in the Elks' celebration at that place. From the time the boats arrived in the middle of the forenoon until late in the evening the Elks gave the people one continual splendid time. The events followed each other in rapid succession and there were no dull moments during the entire day.

A splendid lunch was spread near the baseball grounds where weinerwursts, sandwiches, pickles and many other kinds of food were served. Besides this many parties brought basket lunches and ate on the beach or on the cliff above.

During the afternoon the crowd spent most of its time at the ball park and on the beach. The Marshfield band furnished music and all kinds of sports were indulged in from dancing on the sands to surf bathing.
