Real Cremona Violin
To Be Heard Friday

Those who attend the Gjerdrum concert at the Scenic next Friday evening will have an opportunity to hear a genuine Cremona violin. These old violins are the best that have ever been made and few violinists are fortunate enough to possess one. The one that Mr. Sevelly plays is valued at $3000. Seats for this concert are now being sold at Anderson's. A section has been reserved especially for the high school and a very large percentage of the students are planning to attend. A program such as the Gjerdrum company will give is sure to please the audience. Mr. Gjerdrum states that he is taking great pains to build a program that will suit the taste of the Coquille audience.

About the Breakwater.

The following information relative to the withdrawal of the Breakwater is furnished by Supt. W. F. Miller:
Advice received today from S. P. headquarters, Portland, state that arrangements have been made with the North Pacific Steamship Co. to handle freight between Portland, Coquille, Myrtle Point, Bandon, Powers and other local points on the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern Railroad Co. through Marshfield in place of the Breakwater.
Mr. Miller says the Breakwater will not return to the Portland-Marshfield run because she is seriously in need of repairs, the cost of which are extensive.
The arrangement with the North Pacific Steamship Co. is made through desire of the Southern Pacific Co. to continue through freight service for their patrons until such time as the Willamette Pacific line is completed and in operation, which is expected to be not later than May 1st of next year.
Under existing regulations the Southern Pacific Co. could not continue to operate the Breakwater after the rail line is completed account parallel lines, and it is hoped during the interim to give equally satisfactory service as with the Breakwater.

Married Fifty Years.

Dean William Horsfall and wife, of Bandon, celebrated their golden wedding at the home of their son, Dr. William Horsfall, in Marshfield last Tuesday evening. A family dinner was enjoyed, after which an informal reception was held, many friends of the venerable couple calling to extend congratulations and good wishes. They were married in England fifty years ago, and came to Oregon five years later. For many years they have made their home in Marshfield and Bandon and their friends are numbered by their acquaintances.

Married Fifty Years.

The explanation is made that the public may understand the causes leading up to the action taken.
It is explained that the reason for taking Breakwater out of service at this time is that the repairs required would cost in the neighborhood of $2,500, and this in view of a loss of approximately $2,100 during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, and a loss of $2,000 per month since that time with prospect for a still greater deficit continued operations of the boat is unwise.
This explanation is made that the public may understand the causes leading up to the action taken.

Coquille Boys at U. of O.

(Written for Herald by Roy Avery)
Raymond Burns, who graduated from the local high school last September, and who upon going to the University of Oregon was elected president of the freshman class, was kidnapped by the sophomores and forcibly detained from attending the Sophomore Freshmen Mix, which was held at the campus Saturday, October 2. Ray expresses the affair as "Some experience." He was taken from his bed about three o'clock in the morning and nothing more was seen of him by his class until late in the evening after the Mix was over. He says he was taken over a good portion of the country around Eugene, visiting Springfield, Junction City and various other places. Perhaps it was the lack of his generalship that caused the freshmen to lose in all of the contests of the day, with the exception of football.
