

"I'll Bet You a Year's Salary"

KITTY GRAY, an American newspaper reporter, finds and purchases half an old coin that she discovered in the window of an old curiosity shop. She is so impressed by the inscription which promises romance and adventure that she gives up her position on the newspaper in order to devote herself to solving the mystery. The derision of her editor moves her to bet him a year's salary that she can do it. She starts for the strange country and throughout the story she is shadowed by those who strive to thwart her at every turn.

How she triumphs over the most astounding obstacles, her hair-breadth escapes, and thrilling adventures are told in the Universal's new magnificent picture serial, THE BROKEN COIN, founded on the story by Emerson Hough, the famous author who wrote such masterpieces of fiction as "The Mississippi Bubble," "54-40 or Fight," and scores of other huge successes. He has outdone his previous efforts in this wonderful story of THE BROKEN COIN, which is played by the strongest and most brilliant combination of moving picture stars ever brought together.

See Grace Cunard and Francis Ford in this triumph of realism and sensation. Follow Kitty Gray through her devious and adventurous quest, in the finest picture serial ever shown on the screen.

See THE BROKEN COIN Every Week

The Photo Play Serial Supreme 15 Episodes—One Each Week

At the Scenic Every Saturday

From the Valley of The Missing

At the
SCENIC: Tomorrow Night!

Electric Heating Devices

ARE you searching for that something for mother, wife, sister, sweetheart or grandmother—wondering what to buy? Woman appreciates the tasty, the dainty, the ornate and the USEFUL combined. These qualities are all embodied in

Electric Heating Devices

WE HAVE THEM

OREGON POWER CO.

Announcement

HAVING bought the plant of the Coquille Mill and Mercantile Company, the undersigned is now prepared to fill all orders for any kind of

LUMBER

Especially attention will be paid to the local demand, and every effort will be made to supply anything needed at the shortest possible notice. Your orders are solicited.

E. E. JOHNSON

Notice of Sheriff's Sale

By virtue of an execution and Order of Sale duly issued by the Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County of Coos, State of Oregon, dated the 17th day of December 1915, in a certain action in the Circuit Court for said County and State, wherein John C. Kendall as plaintiff recovered judgment against F. L. Greenough, doing business under the firm name of F. L. Greenough & Co. for the sum of Four hundred eleven and 44-100 dollars on the 6th day of December 1915.

Notice is hereby given that I will on the 29th day of January 1916, at the front door of the County Court House in Coquille in said County, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the following described property, to-wit:

Southeast quarter (se $\frac{1}{4}$) southwest quarter (sw $\frac{1}{4}$) of section 27, township 27, south range 14; north half (N $\frac{1}{2}$) northeast quarter (ne $\frac{1}{4}$) section 34, township 27, south range 14; northeast quarter (ne $\frac{1}{4}$) north-west quarter (nw $\frac{1}{4}$) of section 34, township 27, south range 14, all being west of the Willamette meridian in Coos county, Oregon. Taken and levied upon as the property of the said F. L. Greenough or as much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the said judgment in favor of plaintiff against said defendant with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from the 6th day of December, 1915, together with all costs and disbursements that have or may accrue.

Alfred Johnson, Sheriff.

Dated at Coquille, Oregon, December 27th, 1915.

In the County Court of the State of Oregon in and for the County of Coos

In the matter of the Estate of

DAVID M. DREW, Deceased. CITATION

To Thomas A. Drew, Claude E. Drew, David H. Drew, Lou W. Gillespie and Roy R. Drew, and all other heirs and devisees of David M. Drew, deceased, unknown, if any such there be,

GREETING:

In the Name of the State of Oregon, You and each of you are hereby cited and required to appear in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Coos, at the Court Room thereof, at Coquille, in the County of Coos, State of Oregon, Wednesday, the 20th day of January, 1916, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to show cause, if any exist, why an order of sale should not be made of the real property of the estate of David M. Drew, deceased, to-wit: the south half of the southeast quarter and the south half of the southwest quarter of section thirty-four, in township twenty-nine south, range fourteen west of the Willamette meridian, in Coos County, Oregon.

Witness, the Hon. John S. Coke, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon in and for the County of Coos, with the seal of said County Court affixed, this 10th day of December, 1915.

Attest: ROBERT R. WATSON, Clerk.

SEAL By D. WATSON, Deputy. 12-28-15

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

The supreme defense of Holland must be the "water line" through the heart of it from the Zuyder Zee to the Scheldt, created by opening the sluices. Holland has a department of state, with a cabinet minister at the head of it, for her "waterstaat," an untranslatable word, which means practically the state of all waters from the field drain in the polders to the Rhine at winter level. They are all linked up in one scheme in an office at The Hague.—London Chronicle.

THE DUTCH WATERSTADT.

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Dump Ore Makes First Class Road.

Baker.—That a new era in road-making in Baker county is at hand seems likely as the result of experiments made in the lower Powder section. Some months ago a section of road was built of ore from the dumps of the mines in the Virtue district. This piece of road is today a fine, smooth highway, tightly bound and improving with use. It contains enough ore to make a binder and is in every way a success. There is a great quantity of this ore on the dumps at the Virtue, Flagstaff, Cyclone and other mines which are easy of access and the ore can be had for hauling away.

Non-Partisan Tariff Board Urged.

Pendleton.—Recommendation of a non-partisan tariff board, tariff regulation consistent with the attitude of sheepmen in past years; a pure fabric law for protection of the consumer, and repeal of the La Follette seaman act, were included in resolutions adopted at the close of the annual convention of the Oregon Wool Growers' association here. It was recommended also that congress appropriate $100,000 for the construction of range improvements, and increase the appropriation for the extermination of predatory animals to $300,000 biennially to check a $15,000,000 annual stock loss.

Coos Bay Hatcheries Short of Eggs.

Marshfield.—The South Coos and North Coquille river fish hatcheries, superintended by Frank W. Smith, will be a little short of their usual amount of eggs this year, although the take is not at all discouraging. On Coos river the hatchery has between 5,500,000 and 6,000,000 eggs, while the Coquille hatchery will have about 4,000,000. On South Coos, the retaining racks were washed out twice by high water and before the first damage was well repaired, the big flood came and all hope of securing more salmon was abandoned.

SCOPE OF STUDY LARGER

O. A. C. Winter Short Course to Open on January 10.

Corvallis.—The annual winter short course, which will be held at the Oregon Agricultural College, January 10 to February 4, 1916, promises to be wider in scope than in any previous year, and is characterized by three special features, which include the reorganization of the work to meet the special needs of the year, individual instruction wherever possible and round-table discussions and experience reports.

The work this year will be arranged so far as possible to prevent repetition of former short-course work. Every branch of agricultural industry from growing to manufacturing and marketing will receive special consideration at the hands of the trained specialists of the college staff, and at the same time comprehensive courses in home economics embracing every phase of household science will be offered to the women of Oregon by the college faculty in the departments of domestic science and domestic art. Marketing of dairy products, drainage of the wet lands of Oregon, rural organization and rotation of crops, all recognized as among the leading problems of the present-day agriculturist, will get special attention.

Registration to Start January 3.

Salem.—Registration of voters for the 1916 elections, under the new permanent system of registration adopted by the last legislature, will begin on January 3 in all counties in Oregon. Through the passage of the new law it will not be necessary hereafter for voters to register more than once unless he changes his residence or fails to vote at least once within the biennial period, ending November 30, after the regular biennial general election.

Work Stopped on Main Umatilla Canal

Hermiston.—With the completion of the main canal of the west extension of the Umatilla project, work has been discontinued for the winter months, owing, it is said, to climatic conditions. The canal is about 27 miles long, is concreted throughout and cost approximately $375,000. The laterals, it is understood, will also be of concrete, work to begin on these with the opening of spring weather.

Cattle Quarantine Partly Raised.

Pendleton.—The state sanitary board held its annual meeting in Pendleton and took action to amend the order for quarantine for the foot and mouth disease which lets in cattle from districts heretofore infected with the disease where the government has given certification that the district is now clean.

Write us for any Government Publications.

U. S. GOVERNMENT DOCUMENT EXCHANGE

612 F Street Northwest, Washington, D. C.

GET YOUR

Butter Wrappers

AT THE

Herald Office

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

The annual meeting of the Oregon Sportsmen's League has been called for December 19 and 20 at Portland.

Indian tuberculosis day in the United States was observed at the Umatilla Indian reservation agency Sunday.

Plans are incubating for raising funds for the reclamation of 100,000 acres of arid land in Crook and Jefferson counties.

Moving pictures are the latest entertainment feature introduced at the Old Soldiers' Home at Roseburg by Commandant Markee.

S. A. Kendall, of Pittsburg, Pa., is in Roseburg to inaugurate work on the $1,225,000 mill and logging road plant his firm will build.

November building in Eugene, although naturally at an ebb because of the winter, showed an increase of 44 per cent over November, 1914.

William C. White, who died at Hermiston, November 2, at the age of 83, had been a resident agriculturist of Umatilla county for 52 years.

Authority was given by the Oregon public service commission to the Western Telephone company, of Woodburn, to increase its rates for service.

With a total of 200 exhibitors and something like 1200 to 1500 individual birds entered, the seventh annual Poultry and Pet Stock show is being held in Portland.

Practically every town in Clackamas county held its annual election Monday and chose mayors, councilmen, treasurers and other officials for the coming year.

In fixing the annual state levy last week, the Portland school board authorized the expenditure of $346,000 on new school buildings to be erected during the coming year.

Walter Rees, of Cove, has purchased 1600 acres on Crooked Creek, in Lake county, through the Mutual Realty company, of Lakeview. The consideration is reported as $40,000.

One hundred county judges and county commissioners, representing every county in Oregon, are in Portland this week to attend the annual convention of their association.

The proposed factory near Grants Pass of the Oregon-Utah Sugar company, will be built next spring, arrangements having been made for planting 5000 acres of sugar beets in southern Oregon.

The supervising architect of the treasury was advised by Architect Hobbart, of San Francisco, that he had just forwarded to Washington the completed plans of the new Portland postoffice building.

Additional awards granted by the horticultural jury at the Panama-Pacific exposition give Jackson county two more gold medals and one silver medal, which gives Jackson a total of 45 out of 119 awards given Oregon.

C. P. Henkel, superintendent of the Clackamas station of the United States bureau of fisheries, has presented his resignation, to take effect December 15, and is going to Alaska to look after mining interests there.

The supreme court will hear the case of Peterson & Johnson against State Engineer Lewis, involving the question of whether Lewis or Cantine is head of the highway department, on its merits, next Saturday afternoon.

The body of the youth killed by a Southern Pacific passenger train at Salem, while walking on the main line, was identified by Walter Ross and wife, residing three miles south of Salem, as that of their son, Ellis, aged 18 years.

The state fish and game commission has posted notices in Silverton and vicinity that the fishing season in Butte creek, the Abiqua river and Silver creek and their tributaries will be closed from December 10, 1915, to March 31, 1916.

Receipts of the state industrial accident insurance commission for November were $88,009.98, while the disbursements totaled $35,781.87. Administrative expenses for the month were $4782.25. The segregated accident fund shows a balance of $266,192.52.

Five Linn county cities held municipal elections Monday. Albany elected a full complement of new officers except three councilmen, who hold over. Lebanon chose a mayor and three councilmen. Scio, Sweet Home and So-daville elected full sets of new officers and in addition Scio voted upon a new city charter.

Of the 172 accidents reported to the state industrial accident insurance commission for the week ended December 2 three were fatal. Those killed were James Pettigrew, of Pendleton, teamster; Leslie McCourt, of Albany, and B. F. Opal, of Price, Utah. The two latter were killed while trespassing on railroad property.

Because he is going blind and in the hope that treatment by expert eye specialists will preserve his sight for a time, the state parole board has recommended to Governor Withycombe that he grant a conditional pardon to A. E. Dodson, serving a life sentence in the Oregon penitentiary for murder. Dodson committed the crime in Jefferson county. He has been imprisoned for 10 years.

POLK'S

OREGON AND WASHINGTON

Business Directory

A Directory of each City, Town and Village, giving descriptive sketch of each place, location, population, telegraph, shipping and banking points; also Classified Directory, compiled by business and profession.

R. L. POLK & CO., SEATTLE

The Giant Bible. There is in the Royal Library at Stockholm among other curiosities a manuscript work known as the giant Bible on account of its extraordinary dimensions. It measures 90 centimeters in length and is 30 centimeters in breadth—that is, about 35 by 19 inches. It requires three men to lift it. There are 300 pages, but seven have been lost. The parchment of which the book is composed required the skins of 160 asses. There are two columns on each page, and the book contains the Old and New Testaments, with extracts from Josephus. The initial letters are illuminated. The binding is of oak, four and one-half centimeters in thickness.

An Optimistic Time.

Our memory goes back to the time, about a month or so before we were married, when we were in a frame of mind where, if anybody had come around and asked us for a million dollars for national defense or anything else, for that matter, we'd have gone out and tried to get it for him.—Ohio State Journal.

A Desk Phone Is Cheaper

Because it takes less of your time and energy to answer.

Because the convenience will cause you to use it more and receive the Dividends of Service.

Because it costs you less in dollars and cents than in the past.

The cost of a desk telephone is 25 cents per month—less than one cent a day.

Coos and Curry Telephone Co.

A. J. SHERWOOD, PRES.

L. H. HAZARD, Cashier.

O. C. SANFORD, Asst. Cashier

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF COQUILLE, OREGON.