Back From Portland

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Machon returned yesterday from Portland where they saw the Rose Carnival and spent a week enjoying the sights. Mr. Machon reports a most enjoyable time; and, like everyone else who has seen it, he is enthusiastic in speaking of the Columbia highway. The comfort and enjoyment of the railroad trip also impressed him, in comparison with former methods of reaching the interior.

"Almost an Accident"

A pair of farm horses took a brief spin down First street this morning, but yielded to the blandishments of County Agriculturist Smith and stopped in front of his office. The two lady occupants of the light rig took the affair with perfect composure. It seems that coming down the hill by the Tuttle House, one of the tugs dropped and started the horses. By the time they stopped all the tugs were flying but the neck yoke held up the pole, and the rig was drawn by the lines.

They made their camp here last night and were planning to go to Bandon today, where they intended to spend a few days, going home by Myrtle Point and Camas valley. Scoutmaster Hamilton reports a fine trip so far, with no accidents and all in good health and spirits.

Baseball Game

The Coquille Independents defeated the Coquille High school crack baseball team by the score of 9 to 2 at Lyon's field Friday afternoon. Some of the excuses heard from members of the High school team are that whenever the High school made a bad play it was the result of the wind blowing hard. They forget that the Independents played in the same wind that they did. They also say that when the Independents made a bad play it was "rotten" work on their part. The older team players are throwing out their chests and asserting that the High school can't know the game so the High school can't be blamed for its slandering comments. The High school played out of luck like any good team will do sometimes, and they can't be blamed for being peeved at being beaten by a lot of "bushers."

NOTES ON THE PHOTOPLAYS

Of Interest to Those Who Patronize the Movies

Coquille patrons of the silent drama will be interested in knowing that the Scenic has closed a contract for the Paramount pictures to first come on Wednesday, June 21. Every good picture fan knows that the Paramount pictures have no superior. They are strictly first-class in every way and are produced by some of the very best makers in the business. They are not only superior in every other way, but they are always clean and unobjectionable morally. They show us such stars as Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clark, Dustin Farnum and others of the top-notchers whom we have never seen here. It will be remembered that Paramounts were shown and liked here for the month preceding the burning of the Grand. At the time the cost was too high to allow of their being shown at regular prices here, and two features at advanced prices for a week was a little too rich for our blood. Now the Paramount people have made some concessions that seem to place the service within the reach of the small exhibitor, providing that his patrons stay with him to a reasonable extent, and it will be tried out again. The features will be shown on Wednesday and Saturday nights and at the regular price of 5 and 15 cents, and no doubt it is felt that the Coquille public will give an adequate patronage to these splendid pictures. A schedule has not been received, but announcement will be made later of the opening bill.

Old fans will be pleased to learn that the Scenic has contracted for some of the old Biographs which we all used to enjoy. These pictures have been re-issued on new films and two will be received each week. Practically all of them were made under D. W. Griffith as director, and they show such old favorites as Florence Lawrence, Marian Leonard, Arthur Johnson, Mary Pickford, Henry Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Mae Marsh and others. They are all in single reels, but except in the matter of length they are equal to any that are made today. Many of the old fans would rather see them again than any of the new ones.

Next week will be shown "The Garden of Allah," a scenic picture that followed the course described in the noted story and play of that name. Many months were consumed in getting these views of Arab life, and the desert of Africa was penetrated by the camera man. The picture is not only educational but intensely interesting and unique. "The German Side of the War" which will be shown tomorrow night, will give the real scenes in and about the German army. Permission for the taking was granted by the German authorities and the fact that the pictures are put out by the Chicago Tribune is a guarantee of authenticity.
