THAT ATTEMPTED ABSOLUTION

That was an excellent special plea the Herald put up this week in mitigation of the charges of discrimination against Coquille and the valley towns on the part of the managers of the Coos Bay Jubilee. But the blanket absolution it gave was not quite wide enough to cover When the Marshfield committee learned that the influx of visitors was bound to be much smaller than was expected, C R Peck wanted the committee to notify us over here of the fact and inform us in advance that we could expect very few visitors. That would have been the straight and fair thing to do and had that course been taken we at least would have had no kick to make. But the motion was voted down, the great majority appearing to think it just the thing to leave us to prepare to entertain 400 people when they were only going to send us a dozen. And this is by no means the first or only time the valley towns have been shabbily treated by Coos Bay's organizations

We will surprise our esteemed contemporary up the street by quoting the above with approval. It embodies the only kick we have coming, as far as the Herald man's brother, Everett Howe.

C. A. Schroeder Jersey 4.6 unbiased judgment is able to discern. The Marshfield committee should have notified us officially that the estimate officially given some time before, of the number of people that Coquille might expect, had been reduced. While the Coos Bay bunch did not absolutely know just how many visitors would come to the county, they knew to their own satisfaction that the Southern Pacific's assurance of 6000 from the outside was far too high; that not Ford remained in C quile for a half so many people would be brought into the county. They should have notified us of the revision of the figures. That would have been the only right thing to do; the fair and square thing to do. That our people knew, unofficially, the facts as well as the Bay people did does not excuse the Bay committee. Our committee chose to rest easy on the assurance they had from the Bay, and let our eration over two weeks ago. ladies go ahead and prepare for 400 people or so. That Mrs. R. C Endicott and children was, perhaps the proper thing to do. At any rate, it leaves the Bay committee no hole to crawl into to escape the charge of unfairly treating our people. It was very the charge of unfairly treating our people. It was very shabby treat ment, and the Herald had no word of excuse to make for it, 10r, as the Sentinel says, our "blanket on their way to Powers, where they are going to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Lett, of Norwsy. absolution" did not cover that point.

Having conceded so much, not only cheerfully but tamily Tuesday. They were ac with emphasis, the Herald will go on to remark that the effort being made by some of our esteemed contemporaries to work on the local jealousy already existing on this side of the divide and thus keep the county torn by small days. and senseless geographical bitterness is a thundering poor way to work to the good of the Coos Bay Country. The Coos Bay Country includes the watershed of the Coquille river as well as that of Coos Bay and its tributaries. We are all citizens of the Coos Bay Country, and our fortunes are bound up with its destiny. The sooner we quit trying to make local capital out of each others real and imagined failings the sooner we will be entitled to take our place. failings the sooner we will be entitled to take our place among live and up-to-date and progressive WESTERN communities.

Some of the heavy weights among the Republican was a splendid advertisement for the politicians are charging President Wilson with rushing Coquille valley. It was well gotten up through the legislation to prevent the railroad strike, typographically and contained interestwithout giving congress time to properly "consider" it. ing advertisements and write-ups of If there is a member of congress who is not familiar with every phase of the eight-hour controversy; who has not given "consideration" to the opposing contentions of the given "consideration" to the opposing contentions of the field Record also came out in holiday railroads and their employes; who does not realize what a fashion during the Jubilee, devoting crushing calamity the proposed strike would be for the country; or who has not made up his mind what congress and the proposed strike would be for the typing energy or who has not made up his mind what congress and the proposed strike would be for the typing energy. They featured Coos Bay and the country; or who has not made up his mind what congress and the proposed strike would be for the typing energy. and the president ought to do about it; then that member itors. Both papers are entitled to much of congress is entirely useless, and it is no use to waste credit. - Western World. any time waiting for him to make up a mind with which he is not endowed. Let him take his orders from headquarters, a la Hawley, and not delay the game at this

Be a good sport, even though you have "always been a Republican," and give President Wilson credit for his action in settling the railroad strike. To withhold credit when it is plainly due only detracts from the effect of your abuse when it can be made to appear that he deserves it. To settle the strike before it started has saved this country from an overwhelming calamity. Either that, or it has saved us from an object lesson in government operation of railroads which would have led in a direction that "the interests" least desire to take.
