U. of O. Glee Club Dec. 28

Active preparations are being made for the University of Oregon Glee Club which will be here Dec. 28. This promises to be an excellent entertainment, which no one should miss. All accounts received from places where the Glee Club has appeared say that they are giving a splendid entertainment, which the following extracts indicate:

The Men's Glee Club, which the State University will send on a tour of the Coos Bay country, December 26-30, is pronounced by the local authorities on musical matters to be the best that the University has ever turned out. It is not composed of veterans; on the other hand it includes many new men, but the height of its requirements is indicated by the fact that there are several former members in Eugene who were unable to make their old positions in this year's club because of the excellence of the new material.

John Black, a senior from Gardiner, is bass soloist and president of the club this year. One local man is represented, Raymond Burns of Coquille, serving his second year as pianist and bass. Among the men whom the club features as its headliners are William Vawter, of Medford, special soloist and member of the quartet and Harry Mills, piano soloist, tenor and stunt man. These men are the pride of Dean R. H. Lyman, director of the club.

This is the first year that the troubadours have ever toured the Coos Bay country and the first time in a long period that they have not penetrated Eastern Oregon. The change has been made largely because the authorities of the University have recognized the increasing interest and support of the Coos Bay cities and are sending the club into this section because they wish to increase the friendship between the institution and this section of the state. Five concerts will be given, one each at Marshfield, Coquille, Bandon, Powers and North Bend. Twenty-two men compose the traveling strength of the club. They have been practicing and training their voices since the opening of the school year in the middle of September.

Give First Lecture

(Herald's Special C. C. News Service) Monday morning Mr. Howard gave the first of the ten minute lectures, on "Some of the Requirements of the Business World." Mr. Howard says this subject was suggested to him from the fact that reference blanks are oftentimes him concerning the record of people who have been students of the school. These blanks ask many questions about the person. They are usually sent out by bonding companies or companies to whom the person has applied for a position. In his talk Mr. Howard gave an idea of the great effect one's school life may have upon his prospects after he is out of school.

German Club Meets

Zelma Strang and Edna Robinson entertained the German club at the home of Miss Strang last Thursday evening. The guests were met at the door by a charming little German maid impersonated by Miss Marvel Skeels. When all had arrived the spelling match was begun. Miss Vera Kelley won the prize, a Japanese god, incense burner. Miss Newell brought a book containing German wild flowers. This book belongs to Mrs. Morris who gathered and pressed the flowers herself while she was in Germany. There were also some old German newspapers and reproductions of art works. These added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

After this refreshments consisting of German toast, olives, German prune whip, fruit cookies and coffee were served. The rest of the time until 12 o'clock was spent with music. Among the German songs which were sung was "Oda frohliche" and "Die heilige nacht."

As the fifteenth was Zelma's birthday the Germans gave her a "schlagen" (beating.)

Junior Party

(Herald's Special C. C. News Service) The first Junior party of the year was held Friday, Dec. 15, at the W. O. W. hall. The evening was enjoyably spent in playing games and story telling. About midnight refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, cake and chocolate were served. At the conclusion of the evening's fun, Dan, as having shown the greatest appreciation of the lunch, was presented with a long, slim box containing the remains. The members of the faculty present were, Miss Bay, Miss Newell, Mr. Howard and Mr. Noblet.

Vacation for the Teachers

(Herald's Special C. C. News Service) The Teachers' Association opens Dec. 27 at Portland. C. A. Howard and J. W. Noblet will leave Coquille the 26th to attend. Mr. Turnbull, of the Bandon High school, will go with them. Miss Ada Newell will go to her home in Mellette, S. D., for the holidays. Miss Fawcett may go to the Association. Miss Kennedy will spend a day or two of her vacation in Marshfield.
