AN EARLY ROAD BOOSTER. When Caesar took a westward ride and grabbed the Gauls for Rome, What was the first thing that he did? To make them feel at home? Did he increase the people's loads And liberty forbid? No; he dug in and built good roads— That's what old Caesar did. Did Caesar put the iron heel Upon the foemen's breast, Or did he try to make them feel That Rome rule was the best? What did he do to make them glad He came their lands amid? He built good roads in place of bad— That's what old Caesar did. He built good roads from hill to hill. Good roads from vale to vale; He ran a good roads movement Till Rome ruled all the globe. He told the folks to buy at home, Build roads their ruts to rid, Until all roads led up to Rome— That's what old Caesar did. If any town would make itself The center of the map, Where folks will come and settle down And live in plenty's lap; If any town its own shodes Of poverty would rid, Let it go out and build good roads— Just as old Caesar did. —Ohio Motorist.

ROADS INCREASE VALUES.

One County in Michigan Sees Worth of Land Boosted 52 Per Cent. Money spent in road improvement of the right kind is making a profit of 125 per cent a year in Wayne county, Mich. The county spent $2,000,000 on construction and maintenance during the eight years from 1906 to 1914, inclusive, and in this period the assessed valuation of property in the county, outside of the city of Detroit, increased from $82,707,000 to $114,548,120, or 32.6 per cent. Of this increase 35 per cent, or $22,000,000, is credited to road improvement because the assessed valuation of Detroit increased only 47.7 per cent. The increase in county valuation above the rate of increase in the city was eleven times the cost of road work, or 1,000 per cent profit in eight years on the total investment in improved roads. More than 125 miles of concrete road have been put down by the Wayne county commissioners since the county system was adopted in 1906, and the roads built with the $2,000,000 bond issue are still in good condition and give every promise of more than outliving the bonds. The commissioners state in their ninth annual report for last year that they never had to take up and replace a single twenty-five foot section since they have been developing this type of road, although some of the roads have been down more than seven years. Every mile of durable roads laid is cutting down the cost of upkeep. Last year the commissioners had forty-six miles more roadway to care for than the year before, yet they spent $5,178 less for maintenance, notwithstanding they have supervision over 1,245 miles of other types of road, such as macadam and gravel, outside of incorporated cities and villages. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the traffic in the county is carried on 20 per cent of the road mileage and that concrete construction should be continued until there are about 350 miles of such roads.

The commissioners hope to see this road system carried to a point where no citizen in the county will live more than three miles from a good road. Brick Roads. The experience of the last few years, in which the character of traffic on the public highways has changed so remarkably and so rapidly, proves that brick is the best paving material now known for country roads, says the Columbus (O.) Journal. Brick roads cost more to build than macadam or concrete, but they last so much longer that they must be cheaper in a term of years. A brick road surface properly laid at the right season of the year requires almost no attention and is practically indestructible. Macadam, on the other hand, has proved its unsuitability for present day traffic. Some of the fine macadam roads in this county built only two or three years ago are worn out already. They must be worked on almost all the time to keep them free from holes and ruts. They simply cannot stand up under the strain put upon them by automobiles. Concrete as a country road pavement is still more or less in the experimental stage. It is cheaper than brick, but it does not seem able to withstand the freezing and thawing of spring and fall, and a cracked and seamed concrete road is a miserable thing and dangerous. In the light of present knowledge brick is by all odds the most satisfactory paving material for country roads.

SOON OVER HIS COLD
Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield, N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."
