E. E. Johnson was compelled to resign as a member of the Red Cross corps last week and made a flying business trip to Portland. He returned Friday evening.

In another column will be seen the ad. of the K. F. Clark bankruptcy stock which is being sold out at less than present wholesale cost. It will pay our readers to look it over for special prices.

W. C. Schuppel, supervisor of agents for western Oregon for the Oregon Life Insurance Company, is here this week training and aiding our genial ex-assessor in the way he should go—to get life insurance.

Mrs. Ben Lawrence, of Indianapolis, Indiana, arrived Saturday evening for an extended visit with Mr. Lawrence's parents, our genial recorder and his estimable wife. She expects to be joined by her husband some time next month.

J. C. Slagle, Sr., returned yesterday from a winter spent at Butte, Montana. Mr. Slagle says he has suffered practically none from asthma since going to Montana and that he will remain here so long as he can be free from the trouble.

E. D. Graham, at present engaged in the harbor survey work along the coast, visited his family over Sunday. The crew is now at work at the entrance of Coos Bay but will no doubt finish there and go to the Umpqua some time this week.

Ware Brothers, of Roseburg, started a stage line between this city and Roseburg last Friday and will maintain a regular schedule through the summer, connecting with the trains and boats at this city. They will use Overland cars exclusively and promise speedy, careful service.

F. V. Catterlin, one of the well known commercial men who have made this section for many years, will resign his present position with Lang & Company and take up his new duties as proprietor of the Gold Beach store the first of the month. His successor has not yet been named.

J. F. Rose, of Roseburg, brother of W. C. Rose, of this city, accompanied by his own family and his father, are here on a visit and are enjoying the beauties and pleasures of this county in the way of scenery and fishing. They went to Brewster today and will visit other fishing resorts before returning home.

C. A. Howard, in his capacity of worthy grand patron of the Order of Eastern Star, last week proceeded to Portland where he instituted a new chapter of the order. The new lodge has its home in the Laurelhurst district of Portland. On the same trip he visited the Roseburg chapter which he found in a flourishing condition.

Grant W. Harry, an old time Coquille resident, was in town last week after an absence of several years. Grant is now located near Eugene and says he is doing his bit to decrease the high cost of living in his section. He came in to attend the funeral of his nephew, Clifford Laird, who met an accidental death in Brewster last week.

John L. Gary, who has been at Salem for several weeks returned last week as the agent of the Willamette University and will spend a part of the summer here in the interests of that institution. L. A. Liljeqvist came over yesterday morning on matters pertaining to our delinquent tax cases and while here received the county's copy of the decision handed down by Judge Skipworth in the Kinney case. Of course he feels highly jubilant over the results of this suit as it proves his summons and other papers in the tax matters to have been correctly drawn and that his legal points were well taken in all particulars.

Last week the boys towed the float house from the upper end of the mill boom to the sand bar across the river from this city and will soon have it in shape as a dressing room for the bathers who are taking advantage of the balmy summer atmosphere for a daily swim. This is an innovation which has long been wanted and all lovers of the sport are grateful to Mayor Johnson for his generosity in giving them this "house of refuge."

On Saturday Charles Pendleton became the sole owner of the Scenic theatre in this city, buying the place outright from P. C. Levar. Old patrons of this popular show house will regret the departure of Mr. Levar as he has given of his very best during the period of time in which he had conducted the house. At the same time they have great hopes from the incoming management and are looking forward to his announcements of coming features with great eagerness.

F. B. Anderson returned Sunday by auto stage from a trip to Marysville, California, and reports that the weather in that section has passed into the summer stage, the mercury registering 118 degrees the day before he left. He expected to bring Mrs. Anderson and little son back with him, but the little fellow is just recovering from a severe attack of measles and was too weak to negotiate the stage trip Sunday so he and his mother will remain in Roseburg until his strength will permit of the trip over the mountains.

Dr. Hamilton received a message Saturday to the effect that the equipment for the new hospital has been shipped and will arrive here this week. The first floor of the establishment will be finished today and the workmen will immediately give their undivided attention to the second floor, which it is hoped will be ready for occupancy some time next week. Considerable delay has been occasioned by the fact that it is hard to find competent carpenters, but Dr. Hamilton thinks he has solved this problem and that work will now be continuous until the alterations are completed.

Harry Nicholai, J. S. O'Gorman and Robert K. Booth, stockholders in the Sitka Spruce company, are here this week looking over the mill and logging camps operated by their company. While not an official stockholders meeting the entire stock of the company is represented here this week and many matters of interest to the company and the community will come up for discussion and adjustment. Mr. Nicholai is head of the Nicholai Door Manufacturing company, of Portland. Mr. O'Gorman is manager of the Wisconsin Logging Company of the same city and Mr. Booth is connected with the Retail Lumber Company, of Astoria.

J. M. Sanford, of this city, is seeking to rival Burbank in propagating new varieties of fruit. His latest effort is in the form of cultivated wild strawberries and the results are more than pleasing. He displayed several berries from the new plants yesterday that were certainly beauties and of the most luscious flavor ever tasted outside of the genuine wild berries.

They are the result of two years of cultivation of wild plants which he gathered near his place here. In size they are about three-fourths of an inch in diameter this year, but Mr. Sanford states that he believes they will be double that size in another year. If he can increase their size and still retain their wild flavor he will have one of the finest berries in the world.

Wayne Goodman, an employee on the Perham road contract, met with a serious accident on the Marshfield last Wednesday which, while it will lay him up for a time, did him no lasting injury. He was riding on the running gear of a wagon leading his team when they met an auto which pulled to the side of the road to allow him to pass. After the wagon had passed the auto the led team reared up and rushed on the wagon, throwing Goodman to the ground and seriously trampling him. Walter Crook, who was driving the car, immediately turned about and brought the injured man to this city where he received medical attention. An examination showed no broken bones, but a badly bruised condition from which he has recovered sufficiently to be on the street.

A sample of Simon pure cussedness hangs on the wall of our office in the form of a stick with four sharp horse-shoe nails driven through it at various angles. This stick was picked up in the road at or near the Ray place a mile and a half this side of Myrtle Point Sunday by a local auto driver. It was so placed in a rut in the road that a tire must come into contact with one or more of the nail points if driven in the beaten path. It is thought to have been the work of a bunch of small boys who were near the place at the time and merits the investigation of the authorities. There is a state law against such acts and this law should be rigidly enforced a few times in this county. Automobile owners have a right to the protection of the law and such acts of vandalism should not go unpunished.

Trout For Local Streams

J. S. Barton this morning received a letter from Master Fish Warden Clanton to the effect that there will be a carload of trout fry on Train No. 1 Friday night and that measures for their distribution should be arranged before that date. Mr. Barton immediately got busy and is now rounding up the local sportsmen with autos to take care of the matter. It is estimated that there will be at least forty cans of fry for Coquille and this will take a considerable number of cars. For this reason all lovers of the sport should step to the front and volunteer the use of their cars for the distribution of the fry. It will also be necessary for the local sportsmen to get in touch with Myrtle Point and arrange territory as that city gets an equal amount from the carload and by making arrangements in advance no stream will be double stocked, and all can be served.

Warden Clanton also stated in his letter that it was his intention to send us a half car of cat fish later and that at the same time he will send an additional half car of trout fry, which should stock practically all the streams reached from this city in a day's drive. Mr. Clanton did not state in his communication the variety of trout which are included in the coming shipment but it is supposed that a large portion of them will be rainbow as this is the main part of the planting over the state at this time. It is to be hoped that there will be no hitch in the proceedings and that every one of the small fish will be placed in a stream within a few hours of their arrival here.

McNary on Good Committees.

Washington dispatches say United States Senator McNary, of Oregon, has been appointed to senate committees on public lands, Indian affairs, irrigation, public health, Philippines, manufactures and Pacific railroads and commerce. The first three named committees have to do with Oregon interests.

TAXES PROMISED SOON.

A press dispatch from Washington under date of Tuesday of this week has the following in relation to the taxes due on O. & C. grant lands in the western Oregon counties:

"Senator Chamberlain, who is trying to expedite the payment of accrued taxes to the land-grant counties in Oregon, under the Oregon & California act, today was advised by the Land Commissioner that his office and the Department of Justice are jointly making computation of the amounts due. Payments will be made promptly when the amounts have been finally and officially determined, he was advised."

May Lose Water Right

Salem, Or., June 20.—Permits issued to Klamath Falls, Bandon, Newberg, and Prineville to appropriate water for the municipalities will be cancelled if the four cities do not show to the state water board that improvements have been made upon their respective watersheds, according to State Engineer Lewis.

"Repeated requests for information relative to construction work and use of water have been ignored by the municipalities and unless some evidence of activity in connection with these appropriations is submitted before the next meeting, the water board will proceed to cancel their permits," Lewis said.
