

THE COQUILLE HERALD

VOL. 35, NO. 45

COQUILLE, COOS COUNTY, OREGON, TUESDAY, JULY 24, 1917.

PER YEAR $1.50

HOW TO DODGE IT

Men intending to claim exemption or discharge from the draft by reason of their employment in certain necessary industries, including agriculture, must bear in mind that such claims cannot be made to the local county exemption boards.

These local boards are strictly forbidden, under the war department regulations, from considering or even receiving such claims.

Instead, claims for exemption or discharge on industrial grounds must be presented to one of the district boards in the state. In Oregon there are three district boards, one at Portland, one at Eugene and one at LaGrande.

Moreover, these claims cannot be presented to the district board until after the man drafted has been called before the local exemption board, has passed his physical examination and has been certified by the local board as one who has been called for service and not exempted or discharged.

It is very important to remember this procedure, if you plan to ask for discharge on industrial grounds. To sum up:

Remember, first, you cannot make such a claim until you have actually been called up for draft.

And second, you cannot make it then until the local board has finished with you, has certified you and posted your name as called for service, and not exempted or discharged.

Third, and very important, you must then file your claim, not with the local board, but with the district board of the district in which you are situated. You must file this claim, on a blank form you may obtain by application from the local board, within five days of the certifying and posting of your name by the local board.

File your claim with one of the following three district boards under whose jurisdiction you are registered: District Board No. 1, at Portland, comprises three counties: Multnomah (outside of Portland), City of Portland, Clatsop, Tillamook, Yamhill, Washington, Marion, Jefferson, Deschutes, Wasco, Hood River, Clackamas and Columbia.

District Board No. 2, at Eugene, comprises these counties: Benton, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine, Lincoln, Linn, Lake, Lane, Polk, and Klamath.

District Board No. 3, at LaGrande, comprises these counties: Harney, Malheur, Grant, Baker, Wallowa, Union, Umatilla, Morrow, Gilliam, Sherman, Wheeler and Crook.

Finally, remember the seven penalties provided by law for false statements made for the purpose of seeking exemption or discharge.

Every man in Oregon registered under the selective conscription act should know just what to do if his number is drawn and he is called for service on the first draft, soon to be made.

First he should learn, if he has not already done so, the new red ink serial number of his registration card. He can learn this by applying to his local county exemption board.

As soon as the names of the men to be called from Oregon on the first draft are known, the local exemption board in each county will post a list of the men drawn from that county. Only in counties that have already supplied their full quotas through volunteers in the regular army and National Guard, will this not be done.

The county exemption boards will also send notification, at the address on his registration card, to each man called. This letter will direct the man drafted to appear before the board for physical examination on a specified date.

Whether or not the man called intends to file a claim for exemption or discharge, he must appear without fail on the date named.

If he desires to file a claim for exemption or discharge, he has seven days in which to do so from the day the call to him was mailed and posted. The procedure is more simple than is generally supposed.

First, if you come under the exempted class, go to your exemption board and ask for Form 110 for exemption, or Form 121 for discharge (men having dependents apply for discharge instead of exemption). Second, fill out the proper form and file it with the board. Third, do this within seven days of the posting of the call to you to present yourself before the board.

After having filed your claim, however, you will still have ten days in which to file proof. All proofs must

FORESTRY NOTES.

What Uncle Sam's Forestry Department Is Accomplishing.

The gross receipts from the National Forests of Oregon, Washington and Alaska for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, were $644,937.57. This is $150,000 more than the receipts for the preceding year.

The members of the Forest Service in Oregon, Washington and Alaska are raising a fund to buy an ambulance for military use.

Eagle Creek Camp and picnic grounds on the Oregon National Forest attracted 2200 visitors on July 4.

Forty tourists, traveling under the auspices of the Massachusetts Forestry Association, are visiting the National Forests and Parks of the West.

For camp cooking, use a small fire. It requires less fuel, is easily approached, and can readily be put out before leaving camp.

Timber sale business on the National Forests of Oregon, Washington and Alaska amounted to $450,000 in the fiscal year 1917.

Big Cheese Shipment.

The local creamery shipped by the last Elizabeth which sailed from Bandon last week 413 cases of cheese totaling over 27,000 pounds. This is the largest individual shipment of cheese yet made from the plant and was consigned to Los Angeles, California. The shipment was made up of both cheddar and Jack cheese, there being 301 cases of the former and 112 cases of the latter.

The market for the cheddar product at this time is so much better than that for the Jack cheese that practically all the milk is now being manufactured into cheddar cheese with a production of about 19,000 pounds per day. The receipts of milk are still holding around the two-ton mark though the season is now well advanced. The individual shipments are falling off but several new patrons came to the company this month which holds the total receipts up to the high mark. The second June payment for whole milk will be made in a few days, but the bookkeeper has not yet completed the figures so cannot announce the final result. Mr. Conway is expected over from Marshfield tomorrow and the final payment for June milk will then be made.

P. D. McIntosh, of the Coos Bay Creamery, has made several trips to the local plant this month and is virtually in charge as plant manager at this time. He is a man of wide experience in cheese making, having been the pioneer in the work in Tillamook county, and he hopes to get the local plant lined up soon so he can look after both establishments.

Russ Investors Visit Property.

Messrs. Frank Williams and W. F. Kausser, of Ferndale, California, together with their families spent the past ten days in the Coquille valley looking over the Russ holdings here in which they are heavily interested. The party motored up from California and have been camped near the C. E. Schroeder ranch a few miles above this city. During the time they have spent here they have viewed nearly every acre of land owned by the Russ people and have given the property more attention than it has had from the private stockholders in many years.

Both gentlemen are prominent in business circles in their home county, Mr. Williams being the junior member of the Russ-Williams Banking Company of Ferndale, and Mr. Kausser being a prominent retail merchant of the same city. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left the latter part of last week for Marshfield where they expect to ship their car back to California and proceed by train to visit Washington points where they also have holdings. Mr. Kausser and family will leave this week by motor for their California home.

be in the form of affidavits. Upon application the board will give you the official blank forms for these affidavits. Have the affidavits properly made out and return them to the board within the 10 day time limit.

Another important fact to remember is that county exemption boards cannot consider claims for industrial exemption. Such claims must be made to one of the three district boards that sit at Portland, at LaGrande and at Eugene.

Moreover, claims for industrial exemption cannot be filed with the district boards until the county exemption board has certified and posted your name as one who has been called for service and not exempted or discharged.

THE NAMES OF COOS MEN CALLED

Names of Those Who Are Liable to Conscription From This County Are Given

The war draft was completed last week, but as yet the official results have not been received by the County Clerk Oddy. As the list of numbers drawn will be photographed and the photograph transmitted to the various units of the United States by mail it will no doubt be several days yet before the official list is received. Below is the list sent out by the Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times. In this list the numbers only were given, the names being filled in at the Times office. That errors may have been made in transmitting the numbers by telegraph is proven by the fact that there is a great discrepancy between this list and that published in the Record. Which list is correct will only be proven by comparison with the official list when received.

In case Coos county men are conscripted they will be called in the order that their names appear below:

Third Payment Due.

The third payment of the twenty percentum on Liberty Loan Bonds purchased by installments is due on July 30th. The payment must be made on or before that date according to the official statement of terms and conditions of the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds made by Secretary McAdoo at the time subscriptions were invited.

Whether the bonds were purchased from the Treasury or the Federal Reserve Banks or through other banks or agencies it is important that these and succeeding installments be paid promptly.

The action of many employers of labor in arranging to pay their employees on July 30th instead of August 1st in order to enable them to promptly make their payments on Liberty Loan Bonds is an excellent and patriotic example which no doubt will be followed by a large number of employers.

COMMISSIONER'S SON WEDS.

Bandon Young Lady Joins Him in Life's Journey.

Percy Philip, eldest son of County Commissioner and Mrs. Archie Philip, was married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in this city to Miss Grace Gibson, of Bandon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. M. Law.

The young couple left for Lakeside where they are visiting with the groom's parents until today, Mr. Philip and his family are now on an outing at the lake.

The groom is a well known young man of Marshfield. Lately he has been working for the Southern Pacific. He tried to join the engineering regiment which is to be sent to France but the government would not take him from his present post with the railroad, as it is regarded that the railroad men are important to the war in their present positions.

Mr. Philip is now stationed at Timber, Ore., and has charge of the round house there and has six locomotives to look after. He has a home ready there for his bride. The couple will leave Lakeside for Timber today.

The bride is a well known Bandon young lady and a member of a family residing in that city.

Another Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that an examination for clerks will be held in the states of Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and Wyoming on August 4, 1917, for the purpose of establishing eligible registers from which appointments may be made to the different branches of the Government service. Attention is invited to the fact that the Secretary of the Treasury has recently advised the Civil Service Commission that a thousand first-grade clerks will be needed for the Internal Revenue Service about September 1, 1917. This examination is open to men and women.

As sufficient stenographers and typewriters have not been secured from recent examinations to meet the needs of the service, the Civil Service Commission announces that an examination for stenographer and typewriter, and for typewriter only will be held August 3, 1917, at 40 or the principal cities in the Pacific Northwest. There are excellent opportunities for the appointment of women stenographers willing to accept $900 and $1000 per annum. Practically all male typewriters who pass the examination will receive appointment. Typewriters who do not have a knowledge of stenography have good chances of appointment. Apply to Herbert F. Ward, District Secretary, 303 Post Office Building, Seattle, Washington, for applications and full information.

Will Provide Ambulance.

District Forester Geo. H. Cecil, Portland, Oregon, announces that the members of the Forest Service in the North Pacific District, comprising Oregon, Washington and Alaska, will raise a fund to purchase an ambulance for military use.

"Considering the great need for ambulances," says Mr. Cecil, "the fact that many Forest officers are enlisting for military service and that sacrifices of life, time and money are necessary until the war is over, it is believed that the call for contributions will meet a quick and generous response from the men and women employed in the Portland office and on the twenty-seven National Forests in the District."

A dial bearing a red cross and the Forest Service shield and two movable hands, has been installed on the bulletin board at the district headquarters to show graphically the progress of the fund. One hand indicates the amount pledged, the other the sum actually paid in. All contributions are voluntary, and it is expected the necessary amount will be raised by September 1.

Marriage Licenses.

During the past seven days the following marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Oddy:

- July 20—Gustave S. Bruer and Lyla Tomlinson, of Myrtle Point.
- July 20—Marcus W. Sloum, of North Bend, and Helen M. Scott, of Marshfield.
- July 21—Percy Fielding Philip, of North Bend, and Grace Lightner Gibson, of Bandon.
- July 23—Oliver Owen Taylor and Emma Brack, of Myrtle Point.
- July 23—Fred Parry and Mina Allen, of Myrtle Point.

If in need of a baby buggy see those nice second hand ones at Quick's.

THE ROAD CENSUS

The final census of the road workers has not yet been completed but the roadmaster's office is now busy on this work and promise a complete census of all the workmen now engaged on road work in the county within a few days. As a result of the census already made it is estimated that less than five per cent of the workmen have ever been engaged in logging or mill work and this fact belittles the efforts on the part of the logging and mill men to have the road work stopped. When the census is completed it will be known whether or not every man on the road work in the county has ever been engaged in timber work, just what his regular avocation is, what his previous work has been and his reason, if any exist, why he does not wish to work in the woods or the mills.

This census will cover 15 or 16 road crews now working, whether for the county direct or for contractors, and will take in all the work in the entire county. Each crew will be gone over and a detailed report on each man employed will be prepared.

It is known that three or four men are now employed on the Coos City-Summer project who were formerly employed in the mills on the bay but these men quit their mill jobs at the time of the strike and found other employment on the road work. On the north of the bay work practically all the men employed are farmers who would not engage in logging or mill work if the county work was suspended and it is the consensus of opinion among the people interested that very few loggers and but a small percentage of mill men would engage in road work if the mills were shut down and that, vice versa, very few men now engaged on road work would go to the mills or camps for work if the county should suspend all operations on the roads.

It is reported that the Davis slough camp now has several men on the extra list and that practically all the men employed in the camps can make more money at that work than on the roads. It is also stated by those who know, that there are other reasons than road work for the shortage of men at the Powers camps, reasons that have nothing whatever to do with labor conditions.

Another serious point which confronts the county in this crisis is the labor feature. It the county now suspends the work as requested by the mill and logging men serious difficulties may follow with the laborers when it is desired to resume the road work. To suspend the work now will throw hundreds of men out of employment who have no other means of making extra money. Many men with teams have come into the county from outside points to secure work. These men have barely made the expense of coming in now and to let them out without warning would be a serious injustice and will give to this county a black eye on road work that it will take years to eliminate.

Taken by and large, it is the judgment of many men talked with here that to suspend the road work now will not only work a serious hardship on many individual workmen but will do untold injury to the county as a whole when future operations are taken into consideration. It is not the wish of any to handicap the mill and logging men but it is not thought that the road work has much to do with the shortage of men in the camps.

Pole Delivery Slow.

The Oregon Power Company's high power line from Henryville has been held up the past week because of failure on the part of the contractors to get the necessary poles delivered. The poles will come up from Rocky Point on the lower river tomorrow or next day and the work of setting them will immediately proceed. The first three miles of holes are now ready for the poles and the right of way has all been cleared and burned and with the poles on the ground it will take but a short time to complete the line. The right of way follows the county road from Henryville to the summit and then follows on the west side of the railroad to Cedar Point where it again comes on the county road to this city. The poles will be delivered by the railroad for the greater part of the line.

Ex-Attorney General Crawford is in this city shaking hands with old friends and playmates. This was his home before his election to that office and it is hoped that he may return here permanently in the near future.
