MERELY MENTIONED

O. A. Mintonye and family are moving to Marshfield today where he has secured employment.

F. L. Greenough, of Bandon, was a business visitor in town this morning on his return from a few days spent on the bay.

W. W. Gage, Coos county's sheriff, went to the bay on business this morning. Of course, it had nothing to do with bootleggers.

Charlie Ross, the local stone mason, is suffering from a carbuncle on his neck which he states is for sale to the highest bidder for cash.

Mrs. Geo. Baxter and son left for their home in Creswell, Oregon, Tuesday morning, after a few weeks' visit with relatives here.

D. Haskins and family left this morning for Pendleton where he expects to work through harvest and perhaps make his permanent home.

Lanson Leneve this morning purchased a second hand Ford and we may expect some brand new fish stories from that source within a few days.

G. A. Downey left for Powers yesterday and will work that territory for a week or two in the interest of the Pacific Building and Loan Association.

See Annette Kellerman, "the perfect woman," in "Neptune's Daughter" at the Scenic next Monday evening. All lovers of water sports will be there.

His parents here have received word from San Francisco that James Thrift, who recently enlisted in the navy, is about to start for China as one of the crew of a war vessel.

A. T. Morrison, proprietor of the laundry, lost his keys while out after wild blackberries the other day and now is trying to get his money out of the safe with but little success.

Last Thursday the little son of J. N. Jacobsen was operated on at the Coquille hospital for adenoids. The operation was an entire success, and the little fellow is again at his play.

The Fourth Company of Coast Artillery in this state has been ordered to mobilize at Roseburg Wednesday. They will be sent to Fort Stevens on the Columbia for training.

The shingle mill at Prosper, which had been closed for about eight months, was started up Monday by C. McC. Johnson. The shingles will be shipped to California points by steamers.

J. R. Garten, a brother of Al Garten of this city, came in Sunday and returned to his home at Springfield accompanied by his daughter, May, who has been quite ill at the Baxter for several days.

The postponement of work on the Bandon-Coquille road because some of the rights of way have not been secured probably means that this improvement will not be undertaken until the war is over.

The little son of Cecil Elwood dislocated his left arm last Friday and was taken to the Coquille hospital where the injury received attention. The little fellow is again at his play though his arm is in a sling.

O. R. Willard, who recently started a stage line between Bandon and Roseburg was in town this morning and says business is very slack just now in that line. There seems very little travel over any of the through lines this month.

W. H. Vanever, a deputy sheriff from Woodland, Wash., was here over Sunday looking for a man named Windling, wanted for wife desertion in his county. He located his man at Powers and went up there Sunday to get him.

E. A. Brenner, the genial butcher at Miller Bros. market, was laid up most of last week as a result of contact with poison oak while on a fishing trip to the Middle Fork the previous Sunday. And still Ed is ready for another trip any day.

James Cavers has been appointed as county bridge engineer and will be engaged on work at Myrtle Point. He has been making arrangements to move his family there from the Bay. He was in the Southern Pacific service while the Coos Bay and Umpqua bridges were building.

The sheriff's office is heartily in favor of the personal notification of delinquent taxpayers now as a result of sending out 240 notices last week. Over 80 returns have already been received which they say is far better results than has ever been secured from advertising the delinquents.

Sam Ness, of Astoria, came in Sunday and proceeded down the river to look after the cannery and get ready for the season's work. Mr. Nass has had charge of the cannery on the lower river for several years and anticipates a good run this year. The cannery crew will be in a few days.

Douglas county has purchased about half a mile of the old right-of-way of the proposed extension of the Southern Pacific railroad from Drain to Coos Bay, and the same will be converted into a public highway. Evidently the S. P. never intends to build that Drain-Winchester Bay branch on which it expended about a million dollars.

With every back yard and available piece of ground in and around this city planted to potatoes and beans this year it may take a special food conservationist some little time to devise some means of conserving the surplus which will be raised in Coos county this year—and not one pound must be allowed to spoil or the results will be the opposite of the intent.

A. J. Sherwood and family departed last Friday morning for the interior of Oregon for a six weeks' camping and general outing trip. They will motor to Portland, thence over the Columbia Highway to the Deschutes and will go on south through Central Oregon and return by the southern route to Crater Lake, spending their time in enjoying the ideal camping and fishing or the Deschutes and the lakes which abound throughout that favored section.

Potatoes are no longer a luxury and onions may be eaten by the meanest man—if his wife will let him. That's one result of the cultivation of the back garden and the front lawn. Of course, it works both ways—the farmer won't make a fortune on potatoes and onions this year; neither will Japan turn out a large crop of vegetable

"kings." And maybe the producer who pays for his water and charges time for his cultivation will find that the "overhead" has more than counterbalanced the underfoot. But potatoes are cheap; and onions are cheap. Let us rejoice and be glad. Selah!—Ex.

Coquille motion picture devotees will have an opportunity next Monday night of seeing the famous Annette Kellerman in motion pictures. A special play has been written which gives her ample opportunity to display her skill in aquatic sports, and patrons of the Scenic who have long admired her will be able to see her in some of her best stunts. The play is entitled "Neptune's Daughter" and is based on an ancient fable and is presented by the De Luxe Feature Service which promises to the patrons as nearly a perfect picture as is possible to produce. All lovers of the beautiful in motion pictures are looking forward to next Monday evening for a real treat.

D. D. Pierce will this week start preliminary work toward the construction of a modern shingle mill on Catching creek above Myrtle Point. He has identified himself with W. I. Clark, of the North Bend box factory, and will be in a position to handle his product both through the connections of this company as well as by his individual efforts. Mr. Pierce has made a long study of shingle conditions here and is fully qualified to handle a plant of this nature. He was formerly for many years connected with some of the largest shingle mills of Michigan and has had a life time of experience in the work of manufacturing and marketing this product. He goes to Catching creek with the best wishes of many friends here and in the county.

Will Need Special.

Some day the Southern Pacific will have to furnish a special car for taking the Coos county bootleggers to Portland where they will be arraigned before the federal court. There are now 16 special agents of the government in the county, looking for the men who import liquor and sell it to the thirsty.

Frank Miller, Federal Customs Collector, a chief deputy, said this morning that when the round-up takes place, the Pendleton round-up will only be a side issue. Mr. Miller has been in the county for a week and has gathered a great deal of evidence, it was presumed from what he said. The other men are remaining here to complete the evidence for the big drive.

The new interest of the government in liquor violations comes under the new law which became effective July first, and this makes it a crime to even bring liquor into a dry state in your pocket. The government, however, is not looking for such violations, although a test to be taken to the United States supreme court will be made of the legality of personally carrying liquor into dry territory. This was ordered a week ago by Attorney General Gregory and it is said one of the tests will be made of cases at Moorehead, Minnesota, and Fargo, North Dakota, where the people from dry North Dakota, slip over to Moorehead and return laden with beverages.

Somebody estimated there are probably 50 men in Coos county who have been engaged in selling liquor. According to Mr. Miller's reserved talk about the coming round-up, the blow will fall simultaneously on all those engaged in illicit traffic and when the arrests are made it is probable all the jails in the county will be crammed with humanity.

The investigation now being made covers the entire county, not only Coos Bay. Of late Coos Bay has been paroled but there is never any telling what suspected men have already left the county, having, it is supposed, gotten wind of the proposed general clean-up on the part of the government.—Record.

The Kinney Case.

The Kinney tax case was decided at Marshfield last Friday evening and Judge Skipworth ordered that four months' time be allowed Virgil Watters, the receiver for those properties, in which to sell them and pay the taxes and costs due the county. If he fails to do so in that time the county is to go ahead and sell them. So the county will have to keep up its watchful waiting for a time longer before that $80,000 is paid into the treasury.

We suppose that if when the four months have elapsed the receiver is making good progress in disposing of the tract and turning a good deal of money into the treasury he will be given additional time to complete the work; but if practically nothing is being done there will be no further procrastination.

H. M. Shaw M. D., Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist, will be at Baxter Hotel, Coquille, Friday, July 27th. Glasses fitted.

YSTEMATIZE your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND TODAY TO GIVE YOUR WIFE A CHECK BOOK.
