Cunnie Johnson was up from the lower river Wednesday and stated that the shingle mill began its steady run that morning. The market is good and a steady run is expected.

W. A. Geisy, of Aurora, is now the third helper in the local depot for a time. Mr. Geisy came over from Marshfield yesterday and will remain here until a permanent man for the place is available.

The work of painting the local depot was completed last week and the building now presents quite a pleasing appearance with its bright yellow dress with darker yellow trimmings.

Rev. H. M. Law and family left yesterday for a few days on the lower river. Mr. Law will call on parishioners on the river and they expect to spend a day or two on the beach enjoying the surf and rock fishing and the sea breezes, returning Friday evening.

L. E. Mieth, manager of the Portland Bridge Company, and L. S. Duff, his foreman, arrived here yesterday to begin work on the county bridge at Myrtle Point. They need a large number of men and say this is a good opportunity for anyone who wants to get work.

Mrs. J. A. Collier and daughter, Alice, and Mrs. T. B. Currie returned last evening from Moscow, Idaho, where they spent a month visiting relatives and friends. T. B. remained in Tekoa, Washington, where he has identified himself with a local lumber and coal yard.

The agreements pertaining to the overhead crossings to be built at Overland and Myrtle Point were received from the S. P. offices at Portland yesterday and will be approved and signed by the county court after which they will be returned to the company for its signature.

The street construction equipment of Moon & Gidley which has decorated the vacant parts of the block northeast of the court house for many months was moved yesterday to the mill yard and loaded on flat cars for shipment to the bay where that company has a large street contract.

Miss Laura Wilkins, who recently was forced by illness to resign as teacher in the Roy district, was succeeded last week by Miss Ella Hamlin who will finish the school. The exact length of the term will depend on the fall weather and the spring term will begin as soon as permissible in the spring.

Either the writer had his wires crossed or Mr. Sherwood changed his plans regarding his tour of the state as he went south from here by the coast route instead of north by the Columbia highway. They will pass through Crescent City and thence around to Crater Lake and then back to the Klamath country before returning home.

Four more gravel wagons were received this morning by Charley Strang for use on the Cunningham haul to take the place of the farm wagons now in use. This increases the regular gravel wagons on this unit to seven and will allow for the handling of a considerable increased yardage on this work. The wagons were shipped over from Marshfield.

"Neptune's Daughter" at the Scenic last night was well attended and was as fine a picture as has been shown at the local movie house in many months. The management deserves great credit for bringing good films like this and the attendance last night proved their justification at the hands of the Coquille people. Next Tuesday night will give us "Birth of a Nation."

Mrs. E. A. Brenner and daughter, Faye, returned last evening from a visit with her people at Hutchinson, Kansas, where she was called by the serious illness of her father. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Jetta Little, who will remain here for the summer. Mrs. Brenner's father is much improved in health and they hope to have him here for a visit this fall.

Word was received here Sunday telling of the injury in an airplane accident at New Orleans of Homer Leep, formerly of this city. The first message stated that Homer was killed but a later dispatch said it was his partner who was killed and he was perhaps fatally injured. His mother left from Myrtle Point Monday morning on her way to his bedside.

A fire at the old railway at the Cedar Point log loading plant last week caused the local fire fighters considerable trouble and has not yet been entirely extinguished. Several autos were called into service two days last week and yesterday morning a phone call stated that the fire had again broken out. The railway is the property of the Smith-Powers Logging Company and they sent an engine down one day last week after the local boys had put out the fire twice.

The county board of education met last Saturday and elected C. E. Mulkey rural school supervisor for the ensuing year which begins August 1 and continues for ten months. Several applications for the position were before the board but the qualifications of Mr. Mulkey were considered the best so he was given the appointment. He is a young man who has met with uniform success with his teaching in various parts of the county and will no doubt justify the confidence of the board.

This week workmen will dismantle the old shed roof at the south side of the local mill and will immediately begin the construction of new decking and a new roof. This will mark the end of the old mill as it stood at the time E. E. Johnson purchased the property. The new structure will be set on new piling so far as it necessary to insure stability and will cover practically the same ground as the old shed. Two hundred feet of new fire hose arrived this week for the mill and Mr. Johnson assures us it will be always ready for service until the rain puts an end to the present danger of fire.

Bill Billings, his wife and son, and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Howe passed through town last week enroute for a week's trip down the coast. They expect to go as far as Gold Beach where they will do some salmon fishing and will also do some trout fishing in the intervening streams. The former members of the party live at Eugene while Mr. and Mrs. Howe now have their home a few miles from Roseburg on a fruit ranch recently purchased by them. They just finished the harvest of 8,000 pounds of Bing cherries some of which found their way to the editor's table. This trip is a relaxation between the cherry and the prunes of which he has several acres, and which will produce a heavy crop this year.

July 30—Louis Arnold Reeves, of Marshfield, and Nita Ethel Tucker, of Bandon.

Court House Notes.

Juvenile matters were up before the county judge Monday and the case against James Emery and Hal Tyrrel on a charge of stealing a motorcycle from Edwin Campbell was heard and decided in favor of the defendants. It seems that Campbell owes both of the boys for work they have performed and that they felt they had an interest in the motorcycle until the bill was paid. The judge assessed a slight damage to the machine against them and turned them loose.

Testimony was taken in the J. W. Coach estate matter Monday to reach a definite conclusion as to the amount of property left by Mr. Coach. Several witnesses were examined as to the valuations and the case was continued.

County Clerk Oddy expects to keep his entire office force busy next week drawing up warrants to pay off the men now working on the county roads. The number of warrants will probably exceed those drawn for the recent election expenses, although the amount will be far greater.

"Pats" Collier, the genial deputy county clerk, expects to spend his vacation in the hills in the neighborhood of the Sixes river. He will go out in two weeks and attend to the assessment work on some mining claims and kill his allotment of bucks before he returns to his court house duties.

County Clerk Oddy returned Friday from a two weeks' vacation spent in Willamette valley points in their car. While away they visited Portland and traveled over a part of the famous Columbia highway which Lloyd says is the finest driveway in the world.

Furniture and Hardware

SYSTEMATIZE your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND TODAY TO GIVE YOUR WIFE A CHECK BOOK.
