Whether you live inside or outside the city limits will not every lady consider the Red Cross work her own personal responsibility and act accordingly? This great work for humanity is a common cause in which we must all take a vital interest.

Henry Hegdahl was over from Marshfield Saturday laying the linoleum in the clerk's and sheriff's offices in the Hall of Records—which will be the more appropriate name of the court house annex as soon as the county records are moved over there.

Dr. Low, of course, does not know when he will be called but with the need for medical officers now existing in the army, he does not anticipate a long wait.

The old ladies who were taught how to knit half a century ago are now being called into service to teach that art to the younger ones who have always depended upon the stores for their stockings. Not that they are beginning to knit their own footwear now, but that they all want to do something to make the coming winter more comfortable for our boys who are going to the front in Europe.

Passing of An Old Settler.

Last Tuesday morning at his home near Parkersburg, Thomas W. Drane, one of the oldest settlers of the lower valley passed away. The immediate cause of his death was dropsy resulting from kidney trouble.

The funeral services were held at the I. O. O. F. cemetery in this city on Wednesday following the arrival of the Telegraph with the relatives and friends from Parkersburg. The religious services were conducted by Rev. H. M. Law, and the Odd Fellows went through their ritual. The deceased had been a member of the lodge of that order here ever since its organization.

Mr. Drane was born in Harden county, Kentucky, Oct. 23, 1844, and was nearing his 73d birthday.

He went to Kansas in 1868 and was for several years a resident of Montgomery county in that state. In 1874 he came to Oregon and settled on Hall's creek in this valley. In 1885 he married Emma Hamblock at Parkersburg, which has since been his home. Of this union two children were born, a daughter who died in infancy and a son, F. E. Drane, who as well as his mother survive the husband and father. He is also survived by one brother, P. E. Drane, of this city, and a sister living in Oklahoma.

During the closing year of the Civil war Mr. Drane served for three months as a soldier in the Union army.

The groom is a member of the firm of Kay and Hunt Warehouse company of Coquille and Bandon, having recently established here with Mr. Hunt as manager. The couple will reside with the bride's father.—Bandon World.

Still After the Deer.

The fact we mentioned last week that the deer season had been closed Aug. 21 by Governor Withycombe's proclamation until Sept. 1 was so little advertised that but few of those out hunting heard anything about it. Consequently those who have been violating the law meanwhile are being treated with the greatest leniency. Whether the closed season will be continued beyond tomorrow probably depends upon weather conditions, but just now we expect the bars will stay up.

Hall Will Go to Louisville.

John F. Hall, District attorney, will leave about Sept. 10th for Louisville, Kentucky, to attend the Supreme Lodge of Odd Fellows as a representative of the Oregon Grand Lodge. Judge Hall will make the trip via St. Louis returning to the Bay in about two weeks through New Westminster, Canada, and Seattle. He was elected for two successive years and last year made a tour through New Orleans, Washington and New York City.—Coos Bay Times.

Go To Conference Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Law and children expect to leave here next Tuesday to go up to Conference at Portland. They will not return here and expect to be transferred to the San Francisco district.

Mr. Law and his estimable helpmeet have made many friends in this city and the neighboring section during their two years' residence here, and their departure will be very much regretted.

Ask Anyone Who Has Used It.

There are families who always aim to keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house for use in case it is needed, and find that it is not only a good investment but saves them no end of suffering. As to its reliability, ask anyone who has used it.

Thinks Benson Shortsighted.

Commenting on Commissioner Benson's statement that the Curry county coast road is chiefly of scenic value, elsewhere published in the issue of the Sentinel, the Port Orford Tribune says:

If Mr. Benson has made such statements it shows that he has failed woefully and absolutely to grasp the immensity of the thing he came here to see. He saw only the scenic beauty and the comparatively few people living by the wayside, and was blind to the golden stream of tourist travel that would pour into Oregon through an all-year highway from California—a highway free from the interior heat of summer and the snow and blizzards of winter, and bordered with scenic wonders that even the good commissioners saw!

Stomach and Liver Troubles.

No end of misery and actual suffering is caused by disorders of the stomach and liver, and may be avoided by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

Was No Name for a Jackass.

On a road in Belgium a German officer met a boy leading a jackass and addressed him in heavy jovial fashion as follows:

"That's a fine jackass you have, my son. What do you call it? Albert, I bet!"

"Oh, no, officer," the boy replied quickly. "I think too highly of my King."

The German scowled and returned: "I hope you don't dare to call it William."

"Oh, no, officer. I think too highly of my jackass."—Paris Liberte.

Knit! Knit!

Our soldiers need woolen socks, sweaters, mufflers, etc., to be comfortable and the ladies of the Red Cross association have been urged to knit these various articles, and to do it quickly, so everybody knit—if anyone can, you can,—show 'em! Next week every afternoon at the Laird rooms.

There is an old grove of myrtles standing on an isolated knoll in the Fat Elk section on the big company ranch owned by Coquille parties that is free from underbrush and would make an ideal picnic ground. In fact almost any grove of myrtle that has been growing long enough to discourage the underbrush would fill all the requisite for such a purpose.

Say!

If you know how to knit, meet with the ladies of Coquille and vicinity every afternoon next week at the Laird rooms. If you don't you can't begin younger, so rustle needles and yarn of any description and hike to the Red Cross quarters and get busy. There is a great deal to be done and everybody must help.

Chronic Constipation.

It is by no means an easy matter to cure this disease, but it can be done in most instances by taking Chamberlain's Tablets and complying with the plain printed directions that accompany each package.
