Found Drowned.

The body of a middle aged man was found floating in the bay near San Francisco, and conveyed to the morgue, where it awaits identification.

It had not been in the water more than a few hours, and is plainly dressed in a suit of drab color. Hair and mustache black. There was nothing in the pockets to give any clue to the identity of the deceased except cards containing the addresses of Abel Swanson, Seattle, and Mrs. Christian Olsen, Compiche, Mendocino county, Cal.

Shot Himself.

Henry Croner, 60 years of age, committed suicide at his home in San Francisco. He took a pistol, placed it in his mouth, and blew his brains out. It is the cause assigned for the act. Until a year ago he worked in the mint, but had resigned through a severe attack of asthma, which developed other diseases, and for some time past he has been unable to sleep. His wife gave him his dinner about 1 o'clock, and went out. When she returned she found the man lying dead on the floor, with a pistol in his right hand.

An Old Schooner Wrecked.

News was received at San Francisco that the schooner Scio Page went ashore on the rocks near Point Reyes, but that her crew succeeded in making their escape by going astern through the breakers. The Page was a very old vessel, and was several times condemned and refitted. At the time of her loss she was engaged in the lumber trade. Her value was probably about $3,000.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

A DANGEROUS LUNATIC.

Crime in Montana. Robbers of Indians Arrested. Arrested for Murder.

Death Beneath a Heavy Truck.

A Dangerous Lunatic.

Charles A. Center, of Olympia, W. T., was adjudged insane and sent to the hospital for the insane at Stella com. He believes that certain parties are trying to do him an injury, and that he has to defend himself even at the risk of killing them. Heretofore he has been a quiet, peaceable man.

Robbers of Indians Arrested.

J. Williams and M. Burns were arrested at Seattle, W. T., for grand larceny, and bound over to appear before the grand jury. They are charged with having stolen two trunks from a St. Paul camp on the beach, opening the same and stealing $70 therefrom. The Indians had just returned from the hop fields, where they had earned the money stolen from them.

A Horrible Tragedy.

For about a year past a middle-aged man has been living the life of a hermit in a canyon a few miles from Crescenta Canyon, Cal. Little was known of him, and he went by the name of "John." For a few days nothing had been heard from him, and a party, alarmed at his continued absence, searched through the canyon. Just as they were giving up the search came upon John's body, horribly mutilated. The head was nearly severed from the body, and the body was cut open across the abdomen and the entrails were strewn over the ground. It is not known whether it was suicide or murder.

Hanged Himself.

A marine named Fritz Oppinger, who has been confined for drunkenness at the Marine barracks, near Vallejo, Cal., hanged himself with a piece of his coat from the grating in his cell.

Crime in Montana.

A colored man named Wheeler, a member of the Twenty-fifth regiment based at Fort Missoula, Mont., was shot and killed by Charles Fisher, another colored man, who keeps a saloon. A loaded shotgun was kept in the dive, and these men, who were constantly playing practical jokes on each other, were in the habit of pointing it at each other and threatening to shoot. Wheeler went through the act in the forenoon. He was passing by the saloon in the afternoon, and Fisher called him in. As he entered the door the latter leveled the gun at him. I went off the charge of shot taking effect in Wheeler's head. He died in a few hours. Fisher claims it was accidental. He was arrested.

A Soldier's Body Recovered.

The body of James W. A. Grange, the soldier who was drowned off the Presidio, in San Francisco, on the 15th of this month, was recovered by another soldier. It had been washed ashore half a mile below where the accident occurred. Grange was enlisted as a musician in battery A, First United States Artillery. He was a native of Jamaica.

Three Murderers.

The jury in the cases of J. H. Myers, John Olson and Wm. Drager, on trial for the murder of Lowell near Sacramento, Cal., last winter, returned a verdict of finding all three guilty of murder in the first degree, and the prisoners bowed their heads. Olson for a short time was affected to tears. Drager took it the most philosophically. After their return to prison Myers' cries and sob could be heard on the street. Myers stated to the officers that he intended the crime when he left Sacramento, and he got Olson and Drager to accompany him on a hunting expedition, not letting them know his purpose, until he himself committed the crime.
